INDEX FOLLOWS, Thanks to Rose Wilson

Dear Subscribers, most cherished!

A little less than half of you have renewed but I am going to consider and plan that you all will because I haven't renewed all mine, wanting to wait to put in a query; I don't seem to get it done any other time of the year!

Rose knew that I wasn't going to get the income tax together in time to mail this out on the 15th ao the Index arrived on the 17th - we do thank and appreciate that so much. Talk about others using it, I even use it if I am not sure whether I have published something or not!

Thanks to all of you for your nice comments and the materials that you send. I am so glad that some of you see others who are researching the same lines and share; it would be nice if I had the time to do this for you, but there is no way that I could and do anything else. That was the idea when Linda started this - to put you in touch with others of the same family.

From these that go into libraries and other societies, we are getting inquiries and requests for complimentary copies.

Chuck Locke, Dallas, OR. called the other night and is planning a trip over here weekend after next. He did get more information on the Lockes and Hiatts of VA. and is bringing some to share. I may have to do a "Biggie" in May to use up a lot of what has accumulated. It surely takes time sorting it and getting it together in acceptable form. Chuck is the one that called the first time and I would have sworn it was one of two of my uncles, if they hadn't been dead - his voice was so familiar. In his travels and search he thinks he may have found the John "Burns" connection in our line. These elderly relatives seemed to remember it, but not the "how". My Great-Grandf. was John Burns Locke and I had an Uncle Burton "Burns". We never knew from where my Grandmother got the Burton either.

I hope 1989 is bringing you lots of good health and a wealth of information in your research. Keep in touch and if you do not hav '89 on your address label, your dues aren't paid, by my records. If I have made a mistake, please let me know.

Regards & Best Wishes,

Orella

This concludes the information of Betty Broyles Meigs and Rhea Co., TN., starting with the 1850 Census and going through variations of name LOCK. It also includes the information that your editor received from Salt Lake City LEGS - the CONCLUSION of that too. Some of the information that you send gets buried under more recent information until there is no catching up it seems.

The information that you share with us is most appreciated; otherwise it would take a lot of research to come up with such a variety and from such a wide range of locations. Keep it coming and we will share it as fast as possible.

HISTORY OF THE MASON-DIXON LINE

In 1632, King Charles I of England gave the territory of Maryland to Sir George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore, and specified the northern boundary as the 40th parallel. In 1681, King Charles II gave the territory of Pennsylvania to William Penn in payment of a debt, and set the southern boundary as the 40th parallel until it intersected a circle 12 miles distant from the center of New Castle. However, it was soon discovered that a 12-mile circle from New Castle was still 13 miles south of the 40th parallel, so the line did not close. Eventually, the two sides agreed to run a line 15 miles south of the southernmost edge of Philadelphia, but other conflicts remained unsolved for 82 years. Some argued for measuring up hills and down valleys rather than horizontal; others claimed the circle from New Castle should be 12 miles in circumference rather than 12 miles radius. In 1763, Proprietors of both colonies agreed to petition the Royal Astronomer of England to recommend impartial scientific astronomers who could solve these problems and mark an accurate survey line.

On August 4, 1763, a contract was signed with Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon of England. Mason had a long record of distinguished service at the Royal Observatory at Greenwich. Both he and Dixon had been on two expeditions to Africa and India to observe eclipses. They arrived in Philadelphia on November 15, 1763, and kept a daily journal for 58 months until their work was completed in 1768. The survey cost $75,000 for labor and other expenses and was shared equally by Maryland and Pennsylvania. Dixon died in England in 1777, but Mason later brought his wife and 8 children to America where he died in 1787 at Philadelphia. A few selected entries from their journal:

June	23	Engaged ax men, etc. The whole company including Steward, Tent keepers, Cooks, Chain carriers, etc. amounting to 39. Two waggons, eight horses, etc.
[By the end of 1765, they had surveyed as far as North Mountain, the border between Franklin County and Fulton County today.]
1766
March	15	Left Annapolis and proceeded for the North Mountain to continue the Line.
	21	Received our instructions to proceed with the Line to the Allegany Mountain.
April	4	At 118 miles 63 chains crossed the Head of little Licking Creek running into Conecocheage.
	7-10	Rain [daily]. Waiting for the Waggons and Tents which were prevented arriving by Weather.
	14	Mr. McLane came with the Waggons, Tents, etc.
	15	Snow and rain.
	16	Continued the Line.
	17	At 121 miles 61 chains crossed a Road leading from Fort Frederick to the little cove.
	18	At 122 miles 67 chains crossed Great Licking-creek. At 123 miles 6 chains Mr. Brown's House 6 chains North.
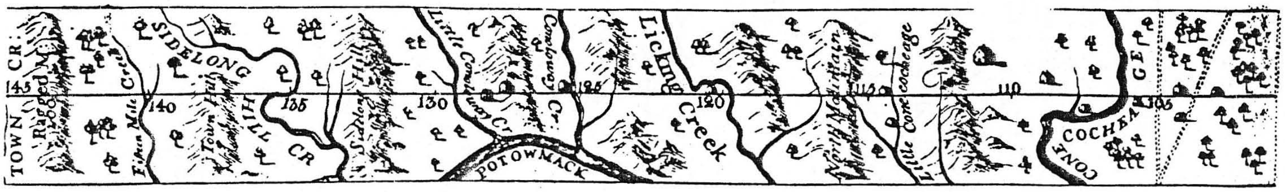
	20	Sunday. [It appears Sunday was always kept as a day of rest from work.]
	21	At 126 miles 71 chains crossed the 1st branch of the Conoloways. Snow fell all afternoon.
	22	Continued the Line. In the morning, the Snow 4 inches deep in General.
	26	At 134 miles 54 chains the foot of Sidelong Hill. Here we could proceed no further with the waggons.



By 1767, Mason and Dixon were entering territory where Virginia (now West Virginia) met the Pennsylvania line, and permission was needed from the Six Indian Nations to continue. The surveyors requested 5 or 6 Indian representatives to accompany them, but between 100 and 150 showed up at first. The survey line was finally stopped at mile 230 by the Indians in order not to cross a major warpath.

The stones used by Mason and Dixon as permanent markers were cut of white linestone and brought from England. They were about one foot square and five feet long, with two feet set in the ground. A stone was placed every mile until Mason and Dixon reached mile 132 in Fulton County where they decided the terrain was too mountainous to continue taking the wagons loaded with stones. Westward from mile 132, they piled mounds of earth and rocks to mark each mile; the original unused markers were abandoned. Many were discovered in the Clearspring, Maryland, area when the line was resurveyed early in the 20th century, and used to replace missing or broken markers.

Most mile markers have only the letters M or P on opposite sides, but every fifth marker shows the coat of arms of the Proprietors and are called crown stones. The crown stone at mile 125 is the original one placed by Mason and Dixon in 1766; it has never been reset, but has sunken into the ground until the "crowns" are now at ground level. The marker is along a fencerow at the top of a very steep hill west of Timber Ridge Road.

Five hundred prints have been made of this scene, numbered and signed by the artist, Brian Tucker. In full color on 16" x 20" paper with an image area of 12" x 18", prints are available for $10 each until sold out. (If mailed, add $3 for a mailer and postage for any number of prints sent to one address.) Proceeds will benefit the non-profit Fulton County Historical Society. This is the third in a series of four early scenes which the Society has commissioned Brian Tucker to research and paint for its museum collection.

RUNNING THE LINE — 1766

by Brian Tucker

April 19, 1766 — Mess'rs Mason and Dixon set the Crownstone for mile marker 125 to mark the boundary between Pennsylvania and Maryland. If this was not the first major boundary line run using celestial navigation, it was certainly one of the most controversial and hotly contested, at least on this continent.

Dear Cuzzes,

Hallelujah! We sold the farm! But, we just got paid for cows and equipment, which is fine as long as they never default on the contract for the real property! It has made for weeks of going over records - 32 years of them on this place - to establish a base price for everything so they could put it on their depreciation schedule. That has meant that I haven't been able to do any genealogy and my flower beds aren't all cleaned/weeded.

I thank all of you for your letters and kinds words and sharing of information. That is what makes this work and worthwhile. I doubled up on the number of pages to try to catch up on some of the information that has piled up. I liked VAnita Hicks' summary of what I have printed on Dr. Wm. LOCH of MD. so I printed it in case there is someone else interested in the same "guy" and it would pin-point for them where to find much about him in these quarterlies.

Before I put things away last time, I prepared quite a little bit for this time. Imagine my frustration this morning when I came in to finish the job! In fact it was a frantic frenzy by the time I found it because it wasn't where I usually keep such, but it was in a place where I had looked about three times without recognizing it! Woe, is me! If I had done it by my self-imposed deadline of the 15, there would have probably been no problem, but already being late made me frantic and frenzied.

So, here it is - enjoy it and I sincerely hope that there is something in here for every single subscriber.

As ever, Orella

CONCLUSION OF "MASON-DIXON LINE" ARTICLE IN FEBRUARY:

It is the evening of Saturday, April 19, 1766. Mason and Dixon and their workers have just finished setting the crownstone for mile marker 125 located just east of Big Tonoloway Creek. In the right foreground, Jeremiah Dixon enters the day's events in a journal while getting advice on the terrain ahead from Captain Shelby, the ex-trapper and frontiersman in the candy stripe capote. (Capotes were coats made from Hudson Bay point blankets that were used primarily for trading with the Indians. The number of points determined the blanket's quality and its value in hides. They came in a variety of colors including candy stripe as depicted — red, yellow, blue and grey. Also, patterns varied greatly as each was usually homemade according to the owner's tastes and resources.) Charles Mason is holding the telescope. He is checking the progress of the axemen who are just returning to camp at the far right. They were employed to cut a vista through wooded areas. The vista was from 20 to 25 feet wide and must have resembled closely the fire breaks and power line trails we see today in most mountainous areas.

The men all wear coats and jackets because even though it is late April the weather has been cold and damp. Just prior to this they were beset with a week of rain, and in just two days from now they will have 4 inches of snow on the ground. J. Dixon has his sextant case open and ready on the trunk beside him, even though there is scant chance for a star sighting. Most of the men are armed even while working because the lands they are rapidly approaching are still in dispute with the Indians, and they are waiting for *Sir William Johnston to conclude negotiations for permission to continue the line. Also, there is constant harassment from landowners as timber is cut and livestock disturbed. Very few people are happy about the survey; settlers fear loss of property as it is bisected by the line. Only seven more of the stones that are in the wagon will be used because "Sidelong Hill" in the background will prevent further travel by wagon, and they are too heavy to carry. Some of those left over will later be found as door steps, lintels and foundation stones in barns and houses.

Some artistic license has been taken, but we feel we have captured the essence of the event and the painting is as historically accurate as the information available would permit. The original marker still exists in a fencerow, overgrown with briars and undergrowth. The large trees of the virgin forest are no longer there. We assume they were oak, but they might have been chestnut, beech, white pine or any combination thereof. In the interest of art, many things have been left to the viewer's imagination. Fallen and cut trees, wagon loads of supplies, equipment used in the survey, etc. are not shown because there wasn't room on the painting to show these and still have the marker appear prominently. We hope you will enjoy this pictorial rendition of what it was like to be in southern Fulton County (then Cumberland County) in 1766, and will be inspired to delve more deeply into the history that surrounds us every day. The Mason and Dixon Line is an especially fascinating story.

If you would like to read/know more about this Sir William Johnson, who was a most interesting Indian Trader, etc. read Allan W. Eckert's The Conquers.

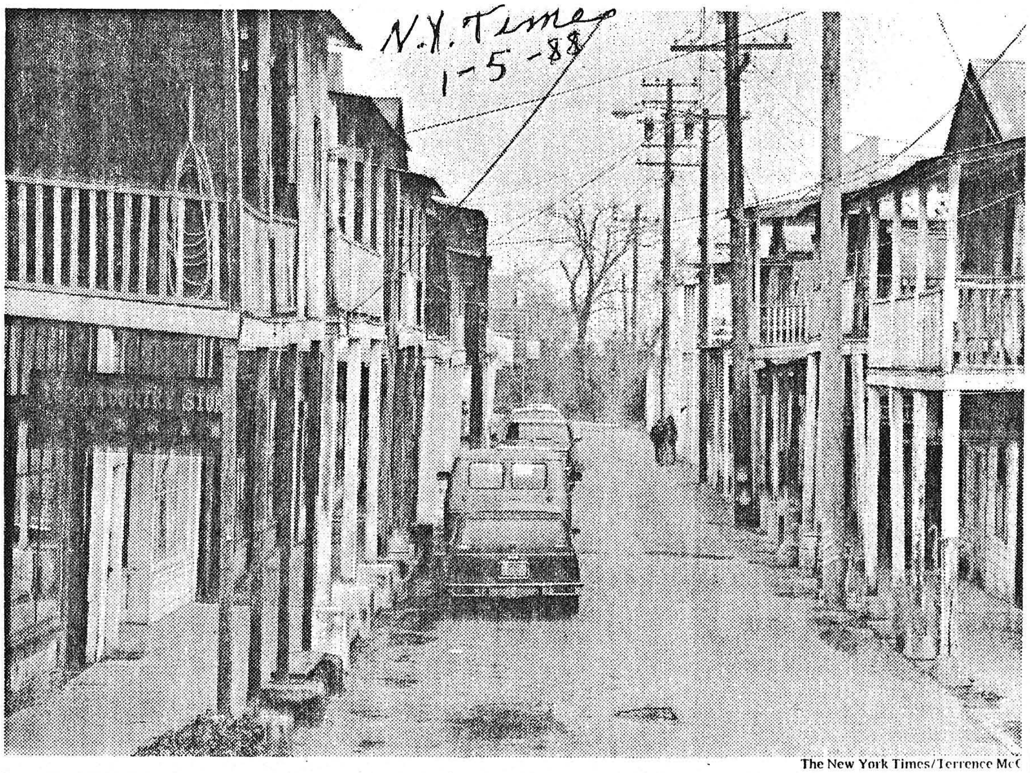
Chinatown Considers A New Era

N.Y. Times
1-5-88



The New York Times/Terrence McC

The aged, tumbledown buildings of Locke Road in Locke, Calif.

By JUDITH CUMMINGS

Special to The New York Times

LOCKE, Calif., Dec. 30 — When California was known to people in southern China as "the Golden Mountain" a century and more ago, Chinese immigrant settlements dotted the rural regions of the state. Chinese communities, born in the Gold Rush of 1849, thrived in the countryside until job opportunities began swelling the Chinatowns of big cities like San Francisco.

Hardly a trace can be found of most of the back-country Chinatowns except for Locke, a collection of aged ramshackle buildings on a levee in the Sacramento Delta, about 25 miles south of the state's capital. The town looks like a cowboy movie set, complete with a few elderly Chinese who have spoken their own language and followed their own customs for decades.

But many in the delta say this town of fewer than 100 people is at a crossroads: Will it survive with its historic charms intact or will it become another bedroom community?

uses in $100,000 Price Range

The conflict involves some classic ingredients in California, which has grown by four million people since 1980. They include a plan for a new residential development, the people who are for it, which is most of the town's residents, and the people who are against it, including county planners and residents who are fearful the town will lose its easy-going ways.

A twist to the story is that the proposed developer of the housing is a Hong Kong company, Asian City Development, which purchased a 500-acre parcel in 1977. Asian City wants to build 72 houses in the $100,000 price range, far out of the reach of most of the town's current residents.

The Sacramento County Planning and Community Development Department says the development would damage the character of Locke, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and encourage an influx of people from cities.

"This would set a precedent for people who want to get out of Sacramento to a small town with obviously a more charming environment, but it wouldn't stay that way if we allowed that," said Tom Hutchings, the principal planner for the department, which conducted hearings on the proposal in December.

An Untold Story of the Chinese in Francisco writer, Jeff Gillenkirk, collaborated with James Motlow, a photographer who lived in Locke in the 1970's, to produce an illustrated oral history celebrating the town's residents. The book, "Bitter Melon — Stories from the Last Rural Chinese Town in America," which was published in 1987, chronicles Locke from its founding by a group of Chinese immigrants in 1915, through its roisterous years in the 1920's, 30's and 40's when gambling, speakeasies, and prostitution drew customers from the ranks of Chinese farmworkers and white residents from nearby towns. The book conveys a sense of Chinese family life among the tenant farmers who worked the asparagus and fruit crops, the merchants and the restaurateurs.

Developer's proposal splits a rural enclave.

"The untold story of Locke is the untold story of the Chinese in the West," Mr. Gillenkirk said. "They didn't just build its railroads — they mined its gold, set up farms, built vineyards. Most attention has focused on the bawdy aspects of the town, but these people were quiet workers sending money back to China to sustain families back there."

The town's Chinese population has dwindled to 25 to 30 elderly people as most of the younger Chinese-Americans have moved to the cities for work. They have been replaced by young whites from San Francisco and Sacramento who have dropped out of the competitive business world, or who never joined it.

California officials who keep track of such trends have noted a new wave of these people moving out of Los Angeles and San Francisco into the rustic towns of the High Sierras and, now, the Sacramento Delta. In Locke, many of them eke out a low-stress living by selling arts and crafts and curios to tourists.

"It's easier to be unemployed here," said Holly Parks, a 32-year-old unemployed nurse, as she shopped in the Yuen Chong General Store. "The population has increased here in the last year or so, and it's mostly people who are out of work."

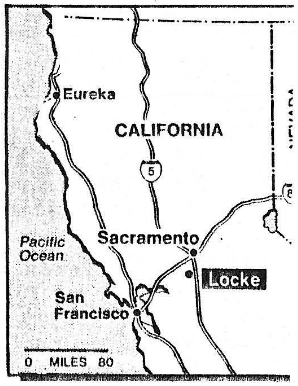
"They come here because of the low rent," said Ms. Parks, a former Oakland resident. "A couple of guys get a house, they start a little shop selling used things — you can't do that in Sacramento."

Housing Could Bring Chinese

Most of Locke's residents, Chinese and white, have signed a petition urging the county to approve the housing proposal as one that could breathe new life into the town.

"All my children have grown up and left," said Connie King, a 64-year-old Chinese-American who manages the River Road Art Gallery. "There's no business here for the young people to use their education. The old people, we're just waiting to die, waiting for our time."

The supporters of the new housing include Ping Lee, a 70-year-old shop owner who is known as the honorary mayor of Locke. His father, Lee Bing, is credited with helping the found Locke after the Chinatown in nearby Walnut Grove burned down.



The New York Times/Jan.

Locke is listed on the Nati

"As far as Locke is concerned, it's only the physical appearance of i

"Now, let us go to Abraham #2: In the Preble Co. marriages (Lookin' for Lockes, p. 65) we find the marriage of Abraham LOCK to Rebecca OTT, 16 May 1816. In the 1850 Cen. I found the family of Abraham and Rebecca LOCK, both aged 56, so both b. 1794. Their child. living at home:

1. Jacob b. 1828 Ohio
2. Sarah R. b. 1851 Ohio
3. Rebecca Ann b. 1833 Ohio
4. Nathaniel b. 1835 Ohio
5. Mary b. 1837 Ohio

There were no doubt older children between m. year of 1816 and Jacobs birth 1828

"Is this Abraham the father of Abrham #1? It is strange that both m. OTT women; I thought at one point that it might just be one Abraham who had married Rebecca after Margaret had d. but there are just too many chil. for that. But then I find out that Rebecca is actually Margaret Rebecca. The problems then posed as to who one of the Abrahams was married to because there are two Abraham's graves in Roselawn Cem. or did the cemetery recorders label one incorrectly?" See Following page.

Your editor has printed considerable information on these Preble Co. Locks, but there are still many questions. Audrey Gilbert sent what is on pages 15, 16 and Madeleine Holt's chart is on p. 163. War and Pension Records for Abraham, his marriage record and bounty land records; she also has his father's, Capt. John Lock's muster and payroll from the Rev. War (proof that he was at Valley Forge , the land records of his land purchase in Preble Co., his will and his inventory, a total of 51 pages. If you can add any information to any of these families, please get in touch with Helen, who is trying to find a "link" and Madeleine who is there!

Dear Orella, Received all my 1988 copies of "Lookin' for Lockes". I am glad you "slipped a cog" and did not publish my info. in Nov. because my 2nd cousin Delores Walker and I made a trip to Jackson Co., AK. and Barry Co., MO. during the last week of 1988. We came up with a lot of good stuff and had so much fun trodding through cow pastures in the snow, finding a n old family cemetery. We found the will of Richard Lock and confirmed him as Samuel's father, also probate records of Samuel and Nancy. (See Feb. Quarterly for those two family group sheets).

Lillie sent bits from History of Barry Co., MO.; "Details of Barry Co. History up to the 1880's are recorded in Goodspeed History published in 1888; includes original land entries, marriage records thru 1954, a roll of soldiers, taxpayers, court transactions. On p. 222 it says that Sam'l M. Phariss was clerk of Barry Co. in 1854, was living in Marionville, Lawerence Co. when the county seat was at the old town of McDonald on the south bank of Little Flat Creek at the old John Lock place.

"McDonald Tsp. was established Sep. 1, 1840...John Lock's house was designated meeting place and Jonas Lock, Daniel Blythe and Richard Lock were appointed judges. Samuel P. Lock purchased on Sec. 6 in 1848; John Stubblefield on Sec. 10 in 1850; Robert Stubblefield on Sec. 15, same year. Tsp. 24, RAnge 27 was opened for entry Sep. 20, 1847. James G. Lock led in the purchase, buying on Nov. 1847 on Sec. 12.

"The McGlothlins, McMurtrys, Georges, Locks, Howertons, Burtons, Masons, Harbins, Peoys and Johnsons were all in Barry Co. about the time of its organization in 1835."

Diane D. Lock, 7117 Serrano, Ft. Worth TX. 76126 sent the following for our information:

LOCKE INSULATOR COMPANY/GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, Victor, NY and Baltimore, MD. Fred M. LOCKE, while working as a telegraph operator in the 1880's, started selling electrical supplies and insulators. In 1894 he established a small plant in Fishers, NY, a town near Victor......If any of you are insulator collectors see Jack H. Tod's book, Porcelain Insulators for the detailed information to help you understand and identify the various technical aspects of insulators, etc.

In 1902 the Locke Insulator Co. was incorporated in Victor and in 1903 Fred Locke left the company and John S. Lapp became the manager......The company underwent a number of changes and even became a part of General Electric, when G.E. became a minority owner. In 1921 the name was changed to Locke Insulator Corporation; when a new plant was started in Baltimore in 1922 the trade name was changed from "Vicotr" to "Locke" because Victor was not the only place insulators were being made. In 1948 the name became Locke, Inc. and in 1951 it became the Locke Dept. of General Electric Co.

The article goes ahead and tells of the markings, from Tod's book but no further mention of Fred M. LOCKE.

Because of Vanita's summation and for someone who may see a hint here as to their line, I decided to just print it.
HOPE IT HELPS SOMEONE & thanks, Vanita.

March 1, 1989

Dear Orilla----

Here is my check for 1989, sorry it's so late. I research the name Loch and there have been several items in Lookin' For Lockes that tie together and I thought you might like to see a summary. Unfortunately, after all my work, I don't think it's my line!

In May, 1984, page 108 there was a paragraph about the will of a Dr. William Loch of Maryland. This is the same William Loch quoted by Mary Jane Steinhagen from a letter of Mrs. James Knox Trigg in November 1987, page 261/2. Dr. Loch was born 1669 and died 9 May 1732 in Anne Arundel County, Maryland. He is buried at the St. James Parish Church (Episcopal) Old Hering Creek, see attached.

According to Maryland Calendar of Wills (and reported by you in May 1984, page 108) his will was made out 29 August 1729 and probated 8 June 1732. He married, (1) Mary Biggs on 18 September 1710 in Anne Arundel County (listed under Maryland Marriages, 1634-1777, page 148, May 1985). Apparently she died without issue. Secondly he married Sarah Harrison Lane, b. ca 1676, daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Harrison and widow of Samuel Lane. The wills of her husband and father are also in Maryland Calendar of Wills.

Children: Sarah, b. 1721, m. (1) Samuel Chew, (2) Richard Chew
Note: An item about Sarah was in the August 1986 issue, page 215. Her father's (William) birth and death dates are given as 1679-1732, as reported in Maryland Genealogies. According to his tombstone (mentioned above) his birth date should be 1669.
William, b. 3 Dec. 1727, Anne Arundel County, see attached

I can find nothing further on William, Jr. For your info, I'm also enclosing some pages from the pamphlet referred to by Mrs. Trigg. It was actually a history of the Weams family, so only a small part referred to Dr. Loch and his family.

In checking Maryland Wills, Dr. Loch is mentioned as witness to several wills, and I'm enclosing a listing of these references.

Finally, page 108, May 1984, includes a paragraph of a reference in Early Settlers of Maryland by Skinner to a William Lock being "transported." I wrote for this, and have enclosed a copy for you. Interesting, but doesn't help much, does it?

Unrelated to Dr. Loch, I've included a few things that I've collected, thinking they might be my husband's family but they are not. You might as well have them.

I hope you can use some of this. Lookin' for Lockes' gave me my breakthrough on the family, so I feel very grateful to you.

Sincerely, Vanita

Thanks to Vanita Hicks (see her Query on the Query Page) we have a few more tidbits of Information on Dr. William Loch of Anne Arundel Co., MD. Dr. Loch was b. 1669 in Scotland; d. 9 May 1732 in above co/st.

LOCH

Dr. Wm. Loch, born in Scotland about 1660, was in Maryland in the latter part of the 16th century—witnessed, 6 Aug. 1707, the Will of John Weaver of Charles County (Md. Wills, p's. 96, 108 & 183, Vol. 5—and p. 108, Vol. 7). He owned the following plantations: Loch Eden, Dianah's Beaverdams (7680 acres), Halloway's Increase, bought 8 May 1710 Padget, 13th Oct. 1722 Brewley Hall, and later one in Virginia.

He married, 16 Sept. 1710, at St. James Church, of which he was Vestryman, Miss. Mary Biggs, who died without heirs. When about 60 years of age, he went to Scotland and brought to America, his sister, Widow Wemyss and her family—"the Immigrants". Later in life he married a lady 50 years of age, who became the mother of Wm. Loch, Jr., and the grand-mother of Wm. Chew of the noted law suit of Chew vs. Weems.

Dear Subscribers,

Where are all the Queries and Ancestor Charts? Publication of them is FREE and according to my mail brings good results, to everyone but those of us researching my particular line anyhow!

I find it somewhat consoling though that there are those out there that are having as puzzling and difficult time as I am though and a break-through seems to always ultimately come. The thing is to never give up and docusment all your research.

Summer has been great, but seemingly so fleeting.....grandkids have visited and are getting ready to go back to school and college. It hardly seems possible that soon we will see the leaves changing color and the winds will switch and be cooler, and football games will be the order of the weekend - the which of can no longer be interrupted by husband Virgil having to go milk cows! It has been a strange adjustment and the best I can describe it is to say that it feels like we have lost something and we don't even care! It is strange to see the cows grazing in the pasture and realize that they are no longer a concern of ours!

Until November, when there are a number of items to finish, may your days and research be blessed and productive. A sad note was injected into our circle of Locke researchers when Edith (Mrs. Lloyd) Smith had her grandson write a note to say that she would have to give up on the quarterly and her research because of failing eyesight. She is 80 years young and it was sad to bid her farewell. God bless you, Edith.

Sincerely best wishes to all of you,

Orella

Bible Record

351 IN MEMORY

Mrs. Annie Welch LOCKE, wife of John LOCKE of South Canon City, CO., departed this life on Wednesday the 31st (Jan. 1894). She had her first warning that her departure was near at about ten o'clock in the morning. Bidding the members of her family and friends, then present, a very affectionate adieu and calmly telling her weeping family not to mourn for her, she sank back apparently beyond recovery, but rallying and sinking several times in a succession, she said, "Why do you bring me back so often," and again, "I did not want to come back."

Recovering somewhat she lingered until a few minutes before eleven o'clock at night when she passed away as calmly and serenly as daylight succeeds the dawn.

She had repeatedly said during her thirteen long months of almost constant suffering, that she had no desire to live beyond helping care for her family and being useful in the world. If she could not get well so as to be able to do this, she did not want to live to suffer. She was in full possession of all her mental faculties to the close and retaining a perfect equilibrium of mind she died as she lived. Her peaceful departure was a compliment and final attestation of what she had said often and again that she had no fears whatever of death.

Mrs, Locke was a native of Nelson Co., KY. The family finally settled in McDonough Co. IL., where in 1861 she was united in marriage to her husband who survives her. They settled in Fremont Co., CO. in 1861. She was the mother of eight children, six of whom survive her.

She was a devoted mother, an estimable companion, an obliging neighbor, very conscientious and always ready to lend a helping hand to the sick and destitute. She was well known in this sommunity and had a large circle of friends, was universally esteemed.

OSSIAN LOCKE DIES

In South Canon, on Thursday, December 29, 1881, after a SHORT ILLNESS, at 8 o'clock PM in his seventh year, Ossian, son of John and Annie (see above) Welch Locke passed away. Ossian was a bright, manly and kind-hearted fellow as ever lived. If there is an inheritance in the future for frail humanity, he will reap a goodly portion. He was uniformly cheerful and lively and an esteemed playmate. His little toys he prized so highly, we so little, have now become treasured momentoes. His favorite picture hangs over the grate, his little vase stands on the mantle, his little hat on the rack......

William LOCK was imported into Maryland 1679 obligated to Charles Lord Baltimore for one hundred and fifty pounds sterling to be paid to him, his attorney, assignees or heirs. He was brought on the Globe of London, Master Samuel Groome, the Younger. They are called servants. (The document is so difficult to read, but generally their passage was paid by someone who required a certain amount of service and many times the purchaser could also require more land.

Betty Williams is a new subscriber; she has submitted information that adds to that of Patti Hickman p. 189. Hers is in blue ink or I would publish it as it has more of the blanks filled, thus may be later info. If you think this is your same line, get in touch with Betty, address to left.

LOCKES OF VA., EARLY 1700's.

A subscription and letter from Betty WILLIAMS contained much information on William BROOKS and wife Nancy Ann LOCKE. On the opposite page is a chart she sent showing her line of descent. Interestingly, she and her husbands ancesoral lines intertwine more than once. (Another aside, someone she has correspondended with thought their line was that of John LOCKE, the philosopher and educator - WHO HAD NO OFFSPRINGS, as has been already determined.) Betty thinks that by Wm's & Nancy first son being John LOCKE that that was probably Nancy's father's name.

Betty sent a clipping from the Bluefield, W. VA. Daily Telegraph, Feb. 11, 1989 telling of unearthing of 34 bodies believed to date from the mid-1700's accidentally last Oct. while constructing a bypass. It has learned that these were the members of a LOCKE family and they can not rebury them until the Smithsonian Institute has studied them. Present descendants of the LOCKES would be happy to just have a plague placed at the site of the cemetery. Wouldn't it also be nice if they named the descendants with dates??? Surely there is a record there in the County that tells who donated the land and at least some of those 34 members. Have any of you researched these Lockes; if so please share and correspond with Betty and your editor would be most happy to have any pertinent information for printing. Thanks Betty.

Two other notes: Kegler's Early Adventures on the Western Waters, Vol. 2, p. 91, 15 Feb (prob. 1783, next page names that year) Abraham LOCK, heir-at-law of Saml. LOCKE, Commissioner's Cert., 150-A on Clinch River.

Johnston's New River Settlements, Matthew FRENCH was a bro. of Esther FRENCH, mother of Nancy Anne LOCKE who married William BROOKS. On chart Betty has Martha FRENCH, perhaps from other info. in her possession.

Letter from J.R. Peacock, DVM, 1330 Eleventh St., Clermont, FL. 34711 has an interesting offer for anyone researching LOCKES of Halifax Co., N.C. It is available to anyone who would send $12.00, pp. There are 14 pages of well-documented pages dating back to 1767. Jim has now plunged into Lock records in Bladen Co., N.C. and hopes to have that ready for printing soon. If any of you have ever done something like this, you know what a job it is. Jim and wife have made several trip to N. and S. Carolina and there are even records here from KY. He has named sources so that if you wanted an original record you could order it directly from the courthouse. What about an index, JIm?

Madeleine Holt, 8842 W. 500 S, Russiaville, IN. 46979 has done much research in PA. and OH. and especially in German Records. The importance of documenting your information cannot be stressed enough, but one would hope that a county history would be accurate, but not necessarily so. Madelaine's comment on "LACK" "LOCK" bears printing:

> "There is no pain in translating LACK to LOCK. The German "a" is pronounced "ah" or "aw". STÜMMEL is STIMMEL, but I'm not very good at pronouncing the umlauts. Rev. Paul Miller Ruff has translated and published The German Church Records of Westmoreland County, PA. He has worked with me personally on my Zehner line and I have learned a lot through him. His records are so valuable because so many families from the east had to travel the Great Road through southwestern Penn. as they migrated west. Some stopped only long enough to have a baby baptized while others stayed a year, or a generation, before moving on.
> Going down the list of St. Peter's births, some surnames changed: Schmidt to Smith - possibly Eppelle to Apple (le means little) - Fuchs to Fox - Fögel to Fogle or Vogle - Fölger and Völger to Felger and Felker - Haack to Hawk - Hauck to Hogue. Translations of some names to English were: Bender to Painter - Guth to Good - Jung to Young - Jäger - split into Yeager and Hunter - Ackermann to Farmer - Bahm to Tree - Bach to Brook - Bleistein to Blystone (a plumb bob) - Stein to Stone, etc."

Thanks to Helen Mencher for sorting these out.

Dear Cuzzes, (no matter how distant)

There is nothing like a Vacation in the offing to get me on the ball to get this out on time! We leave Nov. 17 for the Poconos (PA), New York and North Carolina Coast and KY (to visit son and family). I even plan to do some research for Virgil in Northeastern NC and maybe Raleigh - that we are playing by ear.

I really appreciate hearing from all of you and the materials that you send. I wish that I had time to do the research that someone invariably asks for, but it is impossible to do that, collect more materials for editting for this Quarterly. Hopefully with your Queries and family or ancestor charts that I publish, someone will see a relationship and get in touch with you. I do sometimes see relationships and people who are doing the same lines and try to comment on it for them. For instance, Lula Belle Thomas has been a subscriber from the beginning; I am sure that the family chart of Mary Joyce Capps is the same family as hers. Have you two gotten in touch with each other, Lula Belle? There are so many of you researching the NC Lockes and am fairly certain that most of those southerns Lockes came out of NC; does anyone thing otherwise? Mary Jane Steinhagen, are you any nearer to publishing those Lockes?

With the threat of a postage increase and already having an increase in printing costs, I am forced to raise the subscription $2.00. Please don't let that stop you from renewing.

I wish all of you a blessed, happy and healthy Holiday Season and New Year as we go into the 1990's. It is an exiting time to be living and sharing - let's never stop!

Sincerely,
Orella

SUBSCRIPTION: $12.00 a year, starting with 1990....Quarterly (Feb, May, Aug., Nov.)

This was taken from The Alabama Genealogical Registry:

"Fortunate Drawers" in the 1827 Land Lottery of Georgia included: William Lock, Ann Locke (widow), and John Locke's orphans.[13] Joseph Lock left a will in Dooly County, Georgia, between 1843-1863. Harriet Lock was the wife of William H. Taylor of 3rd Ga. Infantry, C.S.A.[14]

At least three Lockes left wills in Alabama: Eliza A. (Morgan County, between 1859-1860); Joseph (Monroe County, between 1850-1856);[15] and Richard. Richard Locke's will in Pike County (p. 44 of Wills B, covering the period 1862-1879) lists the following heirs: wife--Manoh A. Locke; sons--Eliar Locke, Richard Dansby Locke, William H. Locke, Andrew I. Locke, Jep (?) Locke; daughter--Laura Hill.[16]

Miss Addie Locke of Columbus, Mississippi did much research in the Southern States and much of that research was printed in The Alabama Genealogical Register. Her research pertained to LOCK, LOCKES and related lines. Here is her research in Louisiana:

In the references examined, I found only these Lockes in Louisiana:

On 1 July 1856, "Col. Breaux married Miss Emilie Locke, the daughter of Samuel Locke, a former prominent merchant of New Orleans. Mrs. Breaux died May, 1872." (Biographical and Historical Memoirs of Louisiana, The Goodspeed Publishing Co., 1892.)

John O. Locke, Samuel Locke, and William J. Locke are in Andrew B. Booth's Records of Louisiana Confederate Soldiers and Louisiana Confederate Commands, Vol. III, Book 1, p. 776.

Albert C. Locke (1894-1948) is buried in Natchitoches Parish. (The Louisiana Society, D.A.R., Louisiana Tombstone Inscriptions, Vol. II, p. 75.)

Some notes from Alabama research:

Frances E., Dau. of John LOCKE (1801-1877) and Drucilla SAMPEY, is bur. in Methodist Church Cem., Belleville, Conecuh Co., AL.

A Land Grant to Jesse LOCKE was entered in 1842, Barbour Co., AL. (Sometimes counties have further records or they will tell you the Dept. of State and address to write.)

I found one reference to a Charles Locke of Memphis, Tenn., who lost an arm in the Civil War.[18] Since Memphis (and, incidentally, a little town named Locke) is in Shelby County,[19] this Charles and the following may be members of the same family:

[18] Col. Jms. Edmonds Saunders, Early Settlers of Alabama (New Orleans, LA. 1899)
[19] Wm. LUCK and John LOCK are in 1830 Cen., Jefferson Co., TN.

Dear Subscribers,

This is a pretty kettle of fish I find myself in! I wanted to get this published before I took off with the snowbirds and whales for the south for the month of February - but the blooming-blasted income tax took too long. I didn't even do any genealogy, just relaxed and played tourist.

Thanks to all of you who have renewed and those will be noted with a '90 on their label; the rest are still owing. Thanks to Rose Wilson for the indexing - she joined the computer-word-processing age - I decided if she could, maybe I could too. So I have a used Macintosh Plus setting here at my elbow, but have to buy a printer and hard disk drive (see how technical my lan guage has become, finally even understand between soft wear and hard disks - I thin ha, ha. You will see if I have dared to use it for the May quarterly! I have something else to make up to you this year because of the extra $2. on your dues; the noises the postal service was making isn't going to produce an increase in postage until next year. I have lots of extra that I can send you and use up that postage so will try to give you extra tidbits. Thanks to those of you that also included extra for postage.

Being the scotchwoman that I am, I had to waste that half a page on the index BUT one other time I tried to utilize it and then people forgot it was there and thought they had not received it - I even thought the same thing, so it shall remain blank, though I could print in big letters "Boo to a postal increase, but they probably wouldn't be delivered at all!

A word again about Ancestor charts. I have printed them for a lot of you and know that many have been helped, even on lines other than Lockes. Will you please check back issues and if you haven't sent or had yours printed, please send it so I can - the benefits are immeasurable?

We bought a new motorhome to go South - the other was nearly 8 years old, had 84,000 miles on it and did not have comfortable beds. To get a queen size bed in the back, we had to get seven feet more of RV, but it was as comfortable as our bed at home - important at our age. We shall not rent this one, since Virgil is retired, I think we can use it more and we don't have to load and unlad everything. Our family reunion is in Denver this year (includes Lockes, Ralstons, Holloways, Welches, Smiths, Hodges, Brooks, Roses, McClellans, Lowerys, Gardners, etc., etc.) June 16-17. If any of the rest of you would like the dates of your reunions printed, let me know for May.

God Bless & Good Researching until May,

O'rella

EDMOND BRANCH LOCKE (6)

Edmond B. Locke and Sarah E. Edwards were married in Lowndes County, Mississippi, on 22 February 1844. The marriage is recorded in Book 2, p. 239. W. M. Bell, the minister, was evidently the same person who married William H. Lock and Martha R. Thompson the year before.

A memorial dated 15 July 1871 (presumably from The Bossier Banner) to Virginia Alice (5), daughter of Edmond Branch and Sarah Elizabeth, states that she was born in Lowndes County, Mississippi, 20? August 1849. The family must have left shortly afterwards because they are not in the 1850 census. They are not in the 1850 Census of Bossier Parish, Louisiana, either, but must have arrived by 1852 because Louella Elizabeth was born there.[31]

The clipping about Virginia Alice (which is in one of Louella Elizabeth's scrapbooks) states, also, that she moved to Bossier Parish in January 1868, married J. W. Prince on 26 November 1868, and died 1 July 1871.[32]

The move to Bossier Parish was a second one, as explained below in an undated clipping from The Bossier Banner which is in one of my scrapbooks.

> We were pleased Sunday afternoon to have the pleasure of a visit with Mrs. W. D. Mercer (Mrs. J. Hall Nattin's mother) and Miss Laura Dortch, both of Taylortown, then guests in the Nattin home. They are gentlewomen of the old school, well informed and converse well on many subjects. Mrs. Mercer was born in Bossier Parish, but, as a little girl, resided in Mississippi during the War Between the States. We enjoyed listening to her reminiscences of that period and hope to freely quote her in some other issue of the Banner. She says the members of her family moved back to Louisiana during 1868 and that she has been reading the Banner ever since that time.

The above is information included in what Linda Tyler gave me when I took over the editting of Lookin' for Lockes. Many of the families moved on to TX and mid-west.

LOCKE
CURTSINGER

Anne McEwen, 698 Monterey Place, Hemet, CA., 92343 is researching the same line as Linda Tiller and Bette LOCKE. Around 1820 Absolom, Jacob, Noah, Ephriam, Jms. and John LOCKE moved to the area of Lincoln Co., TN. and Limestone Co., AL.. It appears they were bros. because they sold property to each other; all b. in VA. John's dau. Rebecca m. Geo. CURTSINGER from Sullivan Co., TN.; she too b. VA. Can you help.

READERS WRITE:

Jim R. Peacock, 1330 11th St., Clermont, FL., 34711; (about Henry Co., AL. mar. p. 366)

"Apparently "Gremlins" get into official records. I have documented two clerks errors in Estate Records. The mar. of Kamilla Lock to Jordan Hodges 25 Dec 1825 ha caused no end of frustration. It appears to be an error. This mar. is recorded in Mar. Book as you list it. The same people arerecorded in the next Mar. Book as mar. 25 Dec 1868.

"Kamilla Lock was Sarah Camilla, d/o David and Elizabeth (Pettis) Lock, was not born until 1846; Jordan Hodges was not b. until 1840 - they could not have been m. 1825.

"The question immediately arises, possibly their namesakes were involved in the 1825 record. I have worked many days in the Henry Co. Courthouse, have files of info. on this Lock family and have the Hodges Fam. info. published in 'Henry's Heritage, Vol. 1. I've had correspondence with the author - no Jordan Hodges appears in any records until the mar. in 1868.

"David Lock, the f. of the Camilla mar. in 1868 was in GA. as a 5-yr. old at the time of the 1825 mar. He did have an uncle David Lock who moved to Henry Co., sometime in the a820's; however his isue is proven by a Henry Co. Deed dated 1836 - a Camilla isn't named.

"Argument could be made that the uncle David brought a sister or cousin named Kamilla with him to Henry Co., but there would still have to be a Jordan Hodges to marry her and there is none of that name until the mar. in 1868. The remainder of the marr. are correct. I can identify all of those named Lock and will be glad to correspond with anyone interested in this family. This is a line of the Bladen Co., N.C. Family. Work is progressing slowing on writing the history of this family. It will be at least another year."

Mary Abernathy, 6418 White Oak Av., Temple Hills, MD. 20748:

"In your last issue you mentioned the little town of Locke, TN. in Shelby Co. That little town was named for my gr-grandfather, George W. Locke, who lived in the area for a number of years. He was a teacher, the son of Alexander Locke and Ann Brandon; the grandson of Lt. George Locke and Anne Worke; gr-grandson of Matthew Locke and Mary Brandon of Rowan Co., N.C. Attached is a copy of a letter written by his dau. Geoa Locke Giles to my grandf. George Wellington Locke, who lived in Giles Co."...............

Locke, Tenn.
Dec. 8, 1895

Mr. G. W. Locke

Dear Brother. I recieved your letter a few days ago, it found us all well except Mattie, Walter's little 4-yr. old girl. She was badly burned two weeks ago yesterday. She is doing well. She was burned across the throat reaching the ear, left arm and bowels. They Happened to be all out of the room, caught fire from the heating stove. It grieved me very much to hear of dear sister's death although we never had the pleasure of each other society for many years., there was a sad and lonely feeling came to me to know that she no longer lived. Of ten when thinking of dear departed ones I feel like if we could only push aside the veil that hides them from our view we would rejoice instead of weeping. I was glad to hear her children were with her, wish all of them could have been with her. I not only feel grieved at her departure from us but truly sympathize with her bereft husband and children and you dear brother, you must miss her so much. There is only threeof us left and with bro. Frank and myself it is evening with us, only waiting for the time to cross over. Brother is about 67; I am in my 60th yr. Give my lover to sister's children. Tell them to write to me. My kindest regards to Mr. Holtt. It seems to me he wo stay with some of the children. The P.O. was named for Pa. The name of this place has for a long time gone by the name of Giles Town, could not get the name Giles, so Locke was suggested of outsiders. Lizzy Hodgepoth & Mr. Edmonds suggested Locke, everyone seems please with the name. Cuba is no building up much at present. Mr. Poston is still there.

Some of the rest isn't legible and names mentioned are not indicated as Lockes......

Dear Members,

How about it? I am almost on schedule! I really get aggravated with myself though when I get to the bottom of some of these files and find that I haven't followed through when I had something continued from a former issue. I shall just have to blame the weather - when it is winter, my brain is frozen and when the weather if "balmy" so am I.

Mary Jane Steinhagen found a Mathew LOCK b. Scotland, wife Eupham LAUDER, son John LOCK christened in Scotland, 10 Jul 1698, an age to be a father of the Rowan Co., NC bunch. Could it be that the family was Scotch, went to No. Ireland and from there to PA NC, she asks? Have any of the rest of you found anything pertainly to this line? Mary Jane also said Hazelle Chapman and Rose Gibson should consider that their PULLENS may have come through/from N.C.

Who was the W.B. LOCKE/Lt. Col, 1st Reg. AL. Volunteers listed as a prisoner at New Orleans Customhouse, Sep. 1863? (LA. Gen. Reg. Dec, 1988)

In Greene and Franklin cos. PA. SEATONS and LOCKS intermar.: Robert SEATon m. Mary Jane LOCK 22 Feb 1843; Jackson SEATON m. Rebecca LOCK, no date. Madeleine Holt says that these LOCK girls were daus. of a Methodist Minister. The LOCKS and SEATONS are found in the Journals of Rev. Robert AYRES. Does anyone know the name of this Methodist Min., surname LOCK?

Our work is never done, huh? I wanted to be well enough organized to do a little research in England and Scotland, because after we go on a tour to Oberamergau and several parts of Europe, we are going to spend about 2 weeks in England and Scotland. I wanted to go to Ireland, but the couple going with us does not. I am the only one interested in genealogy so may find it difficult to do anything besides sightsee! I plan to have the Aug. Bull. out before we leave on Aug. 18th - I hope, I hope!

Have a Great Summer!

Introduction

The index to the War of 1812 Pension Files was prepared from microfilm records located at the National Archives. The War of 1812 series of Pension Applications are for claims based on service between 1812 and 1815. The claims are for the most part based on the acts of 1871 and 1878. The act of 1871 provided pensions for veterans who had been cited by Congress for specific service if they had remained faithful to the United States during the Civil War. The act also provided pensions for widows if they were married before the Treaty of Peace in 1815. The act of 1878 provided pensions on more liberal terms, the veteran who had served as few as fourteen days in any engagement qualified for a pension as did the widows.

Interfiled within the index are applications based on death and disability that previously formed a part of the "Old Wars" pension series. Also consolidated within the index are Bounty Land Warrants awarded for service and for which no pension application was made.

Reproductions of specific pension records corresponding to entries in the index may be obtained from the National Archives for a fee. Extensive use of abbreviations were used to conserve space. A list of these abbreviations is included and should be referenced when ordering copies of the pension records. Copies of the pension records can be obtained by mail using NATF form 80, which may be ordered from the References Services Branch (NNIR), General Services Administration, Washington, D. C. 20408

The microfilm from which this index was prepared was clear for most of the entries however there were a few that were totally illegible and likewise there were a few that were partially illegible for various reasons: too dim to read, handwriting illegible, blurred, part of the jacket or card missing, etc. If you wish to review the microfilm from which this index was prepared, consult Microfilm Publication M313 for which there are 102 rolls and may be ordered from the National Archives, Publication Sales Branch (NEPS), Washington, D. C. 20408.

Form of return of taxable property to be made by the commissioners.

List of taxable property within the district of A. B. commissioner in the county of C—, for the year 178

Date of receiving lists from individuals		Persons names chargeable with the tax	Names of white male tithables above 21.	Number of white males above 16 and under 21	Blacks above 16	Blacks under 16	Horses, mares, colts & mules	Cattle	Carriage wheels	Ordinary licences	Billiard tables	Stud horses	[illegible]	Rates of covering	[illegible]	[illegible]
178 .	10	A. C.	A C	1	2	3	4	5	2	1	1	1	£.2	0	0
March10	11	A. D.	AD&EF	"	1	2	1	3	"	1	"	"	0	0	0

At the left is a facsimile of the form which was included as a part of a law passed by the Virginia General Assembly on October 16, 1786 providing for the 1787 taxes. This law was repealed October 15, 1787; thus the 1787 tax lists are unique. Three of the columns make this form of particular value to genealogists:

Column 1 - Date of receiving list from individuals. Before this, the commissioner set up an office and the taxpayers came to him. The new law dictated that the commissioner was to "call on every person subject to taxation ...." It is obvious that the persons whose lists were collected on the same day would have been neighbors. That's important information.

Column 3 - Names of white male tithables above 21. Yes! Every white male over 21 years is listed by NAME! Not just heads of household. This means that you will find names of sons/sons-in-law/grandsons/fathers/hired workers—and they will be shown in the household in which they were residing. Some tax commissioners gave relationships to head of household.

Column 4 - Number of white males above 16 and under 21. In many lists, their names are given.

Amazingly, almost all of the 1787 tax lists have survived. Why haven't these valuable lists been published before now? The editors considered publishing them fifteen years ago, but abandoned the idea when time and cost were projected. It was still a monumental task, but the computer made it feasible.

THE 1787 CENSUS OF VIRGINIA contains all the tax data concerning number of slaves and livestock as recorded in the original manuscripts. If your ancestor was a doctor, operated an inn, owned a carriage or a billiard table, you will find that out, too. Tax lists were made for 84 counties and six cities. Only a few are missing. Those are indicated on the opposite page. An attempt to reconstruct the 1787 population has been made for these missing counties using contemporary records..

This work is being offered in two formats: (1) as a casebound, smythe-sewn composite containing all the counties. This has over 2,000 pages in three volumes. It has a fold-out map, is bound in an excellent grade cloth and has reinforced endsheets—ready for heavy useage. (2) as paperback individual county booklets. Each is self-contained with a map of the county showing the 1787 boundaries, and an every-name index. The lists have been printed twice in these county booklets, first in the original order and then rearranged by the date they were called upon. It was impractical to print the lists twice in the composite as it would increase the cost of the already-expensive work.

Dr. Louis H. Manarin, State Archivist of Virginia, stated in his foreword to this work, "Inasmuch as [The 1787 Census of Virginia] contains the same type of data that some other censuses have, it should be considered a census, and not just a tax list being used as a census. Actually, more census information is recorded in the 1787 tax lists than in the 1790 census in some areas. . . much can be learned from studying these records . . . this book will be used to great advantage by historians, genealogists, sociologists, demographers." Order a copy—or suggest that your society do so—today.

LOCK/LOCKES From The Alabama Genealogical REgister Continued from Feb.

Nancy E. Lock Strahan, who was born in Alabama, lived in Madison and Copiah Counties, Mississippi, as a child, moved to Attala County when she was about sixteen. Nancy's sisters were: Martha, Mary, Betty (Elizabeth), Maranda (Marandy), and, possibly, Minerva. Her brothers were: George, John Wesley, and possibly, Willis Lock. Their father may have been John or John William Lock whose mother was Mary or Nancy. He had a sister, Mary or Nancy, and two brothers, Jesse and Abner.

Others in Mississippi that I could not connect with our family:

The Rev. H. C. Locke (1814-1898) and G. A. Lock (1840-1888) are buried in Copiah County. (The Mississippi Genealogical Society, Cemetery and Bible Records, Vol. I, pp. 32, 83.)

A Bible owned by Mrs. Thomas L. Locke, 203 West 8th Avenue, Crosset, Arkansas, has the following and, possibly, other records: Thomas Douglas Locke was born 17 October 1910; Docia Montgomery married Thomas Locke, Jr., 16 December 1908; Thelma Reed married Thomas Douglas Locke, Jr., 29 Oct. 1941. (Ibid., Vol. 4, pp. 54-55.)

Martha Locke married 1831, Richard Green, in Madison County. Irvin Russell was bondsman. Emily F. Locke married 1846, Peter H. Hansborough. Edwin D. Ward was bondsman. (Madison County, Mississippi, Marriage Records, Book "E" 1830-36 and Book "F" 1835-1847, pp. 5 and 32.)

On 31 August 1804, Isaac Locke was claimant to about 7 arpents in Natchez, Miss., being part of 16 arpents granted by the Spanish Government to Philip Engle who conveyed the said lot of 7 arpents to Thomas Tyler, 1 August 1798, who conveyed the same to the claimant, 1 September 1801. (Natchez Court Records 1767-1805. Abstracts of Early Records, The May Wilson McBee Collection, Vol. 2, p. 506.)

THOMAS J. LOCKE

One Samuel Lockes is in the 1830 Census of Lowndes Co., Miss., with:

2 males up to 5	1 female up to 5
2 between 5-10
1 between 10-15
1 between 15-20	1 between 20-30
1 between 40-50

The name, Samuel, does not appear in the records and since no Lockes are in the 1840

Census of Lowndes, it seems reasonable to suppose that the family did not settle there until after 1840 and that Thomas J. may not have come at all because only William H. and Thomas are in the 1850 Census of Lowndes.

All we know about Thomas J.'s family is on the genealogical form. (See pp. 19-20.) This was sent to us by Miss Addie Locke of Columbus, Mississippi, who also gave us the information below about her grandfather and his descendants. Although incomplete, it does enable me to guess the relationships of some individuals found in census records and elsewhere.

(7) Thomas J. Locke m. Nancy ____________

(6) William Henry Locke (b. 5 March 1815) m. Virginia Adline Yollouly.[23]

(5) Alma Rebecker Locke

(5) Charlton Whittica Locke[24] married Mary Sandlin.

(5) Nancy Carie Locke m. C. C. Anderson.

(5) Emma Odom Locke m. Battie Bell.

(5) Augustus Yollouly Locke (b. 1857, Mayhew, Lowndes Co., Miss.; d. 1904) m. Kate Fort, Mayhew, Miss.

(4) Addie Locke (b. 1880).

(4) Dollie Fort Locke (b. 1884).

Augustus Yollouly Locke m., second, Mittie Henderson, Mayhew, Mississippi.

(4) Julia Locke

(4) Janie Locke

(4) Augusta Locke

William H. (b. c1815), in the 1850 Census of Lowndes below, is evidently William Henry (6); however Martha almost has to be a first wife who was not mentioned by Miss Addie. The birth place of William H. does not fit in with the facts as we know them either, but that could be a mistake in the original census or in copying, or due to a change in boundary line.

Locke,	William H.	35	born Tennessee
	Martha	23	North Carolina
	Margaret E.	6	North Carolina
	Martha J.	5	Mississippi
	James A.	2	Mississippi
	Josephine	8/12	Mississippi

The marriage of William H. Lock and Martha R. Thompson, 11 February 1843, is recorded in Lowndes Co., Miss., Book 2, p. 204. (W. M. Bell was the minister.) The census record indicates, however, that William H. and Martha married in North Carolina and moved to Mississippi about 1845.

Another marriage of record in Lowndes County, Miss., is that of William H. Locke and Virginia A. Gelloweby on 7 March 1855. Thomas Tabb was the minister. (Book 3, p. 195.) Perhaps the bride's name was actually Virginia A. Yollouly.

W. H., Thomas B., and Thomas R. Lock are in the 1860 Census of Columbus, Lowndes County, Mississippi.

Lock, W. H.	45, planter	born North Carolina
Virginia	26	North Carolina
Mattie	15	Mississippi
James	12	Mississippi
Josephine	10	Mississippi
Augustus	4	Mississippi
Abnia (female)	2	Mississippi

The will of a William H. Locke is on file in Lowndes County,[27] and a William H. Locke (b. Halifax Co., N.C.; d. 8 Jan. 1867, age 51 or 81 years) is buried in the Sand Creek Cemetery between Mayhew and Starkville, Miss.[28] Both are evidently William Henry (6) who would have been 51 when he died since he was born 5 March 1815. His wife, V. A. (Virginia Adline) is in the 1870 Census. She must have moved from Columbus to the farm because she is listed in the Mayhew and Tibbee schedule, Township 19, Lowndes Co., Miss.

OUR READERS WRITE:

Stella Locke Freemyer, R.R. #4, Box 172, Bedford, IA. 50833 writes that after reading Feb. 1990 quarterly and Lula Belle Thomas' query, she took out her info. on Harrison LOCKE and sent it to Lula Belle and to your editor. Stella, we have never printed your Ancestor Chart; could you send one, please? Your editor is interested in this PORTER connection; some of our LOCKES evidently married into PORTER family because Gr-Grandpa Had a Bible sold to him by Uncle Jared PORTER in Aug. 1861 before he and Annie WELCH were mar. in Oct. 1861. John Burns LOCKE had written on a leaf in the back "Purchased from Uncle Jared PORTER, Aug. 1861. I deny this is the inspired word of God and declare it to be obscene and untrue." Unless he relented on/at death, he went to his grave doubting God's existance, as proven by other later events in his life. That BURNS as his 2nd name has always plagued we researchers too. Did he have an ancestor named BURNS or did his Mother like Robert BURNS, the poet? Or his Father?

Stella also wrote to say that Joanna Brawley, one of our long-time subscribers had died suddenly a few weeks ago. We shall miss her input.

Ruby Davis LOCKE, 1002 N. 6th St., Sayre, OK., 73662 wrote a long, newsy letter on her research and experiences on/with research. Excerpt: "A distant relative in Mobile, AL. visited her doctor. He asked her if she was interested in Locke genealogy. He had bought a very old home in that city and in the attic he found some very old Locke genealogy items. He loaned all this to me and I copied the old Locke crest and all of it. This former owner was of the Simeon LOCKE family, a soldier of the Rev. War in 1777, Seabrook, N.H. The application for pension was dated 15 Aug 1832, age 73. This was signed by Mrs. T.D. NETTLES of Mobile, AL, whose maiden name was Alice LOCKE. She wanted to join the "Colonial Dames", papers signed Mrs. Arthus H. LOCKE in 1915.

"This Arthur H. LOCKE published that book in 1915 and it goes back to the LOCKES in Eng. He list begins with 1/Cap. John; 2/Wm.; 3/Jonathan; 4/ David; 5/Simeon, I; Simeon, II; 7/Lydia H. LOCKE KIMBALL; 8/Joseph, parents of Alice LOCKE NETTLES.

"Our line that I have actual proof of and proven is from Jesse McCullock LOCKE b. VA, whose father was Josias (Joe), one of three LOCKE bros and sis. Alice who went South. There are George, Thomas, James and several names I can't get straightened out, but I know the LOCKES went to the Carolinas, VA, TN. and AL."

Can any of you help Ruby? Her Ancestor Chart is on p 17-18. If she still had her sight, she could help a lot of you, but she has had the foresight to tell her family to give all this to a Library that would want it. What about the rest of you - have you let someone know what to do with your materials? Many of us are getting to an age where it can be a concern.

Published Quarterly - Feb., May, Aug., Nov.,....$12.00 yr.; singles $3.00

Dear Cuzzes,

You think I am off in Europe without publishing the Quarterly, don't You? I wish! Instead my husband Virgil went into the hospital Jul. 9 for a bowel blockage - after two surgeries and a 3rd to drain an abcess, he came home six weeks to the day. Our friends flew to London on Aug. 18th to enjoy OUR trip without us. If Virgil had been in the hospital here, I could have worked on this publication, but on the 4th day after the first surgery, his heart developed a rapid rate that they couldn't regulate here so they sent him by life-flight helicopter to Portland. Believe me, we feel as though we had had it for now - THE THE NEXT SEVERAL YEARS!!!!

I hope your Summer has been much better and continues right into Fall.

I have shared with you some of the research of James R. Peacock in N. Carolina. He sent me his compilation in a nice booklet form of what he had found on Willis LOCKS, two of them found in East Central AL.; this compilation mainly concerns the one not related to Jimmie. He didn't quote a price for this research, but if you are interested, address is: 1330 11th St., Clermont, FL. 32711 Both were in Halifax Co., N.C.

Just trying to get my life back together - Orella

Those who went to the Lord's Table:
20 May 1784 Johannes LACK and wife Salome

15 Nov 1789 Johannes LACK and wife Salome

This concludes the LOCKS, LACKS, LOCKES as found by Helen Mancher in these records. Your Editor thinks these are the same people, no matter the spelling - note the repitition of the given names.

July 19, 1971 these records were translated from German the second time because of the many errors in the first copy, according to the Introduction written by Pastor Frederick S. Weiser, Archivist, Lutheran Theological Seminary, who also transcribed anything that he thought would be helpful for genealogists. Later lists were not transcribed because of their limited value and extensive repitition. By the information sent, it would appear that the Grace Evangelical Church became just Evangelical Lutheran Feb. 10, 1805. Earlier we printed the "Names in Stone" from this church cemetery. Many of these families went to Preble Co., OH. in 1800's.

LOWNDES CO., MS. (Con't. from May '90)

Locke, V.A.	36, farmer	born	North Carolina
Augustus	13		Mississippi
Alma	11		Mississippi
Charlton	8		Mississippi
Carey	6		Mississippi
Emma	4		Mississippi
James	22, farmer sup't		Mississippi

William Henry's wife is not in the Census of 1880, Lowndes Co., but two of their children--James A. and Augustus--are listed as family heads in District 5, Lowndes County, in 1880. Although recorded as Augustus G., the middle initial should be "Y" because this Augustus had in his household three of their sisters whose full names, according to Miss Addie, were: Alma Rebecker, Nancy Carie, and Emma Odom Locke.

		Born	Father Born	Mother Born
Locke, Augustus G.	23, farmer	Miss.	N.C.	N.C.
Kate	22, wife	Miss.	Ala.	Tenn.
Alma R.	21, sister	Miss.	N.C.	N.C.
Carrie	17, sister	Miss.	N.C.	N.C.
Emma	14, sister	Miss.	N.C.	N.C.
Locke, James A.	32, farmer	Miss.	N.C.	N.C.
Emma	25, wife	Ala.	Ala.	Ala.
Spiers, Mattie	12, niece	Ala.	Ala.	Ala.

The Thomas below (b. c1817), in the Census of 1850, Lowndes Co., is no doubt Thomas (6).

Locke, Thomas	33, overseer	born	Virginia
Mary	20		North Carolina
James	3		Alabama
Indiana	1		Mississippi

The marriage of Thomas B. Lock to Mary Ann Clayton, 16 September 1845, Lowndes County, is in Newspaper Notices of Mississipians, p. 87. (Published by the Mississippi Genealogical Society.) The marriage of Mary Ann (c1830-1917) to Thomas B. Locke is recorded in the Clayton Family Bible. (The Claytons went to Madison Co., Ala. from Raleigh, Tenn., moved to Mississippi in 1835 and settled near West Point.)[29]

This Thomas is in the Census of 1860, Columbus, Lowndes Co.:

Lock,	Thomas B.	40, manager	North Carolina
	Mary	36	Alabama
	James	14	Mississippi
	Idiana	12	Mississippi
	Willis	10	Mississippi
	Alexander	8	Mississippi
	Susan	6	Mississippi
	Ann	4	Mississippi
	William	2	Mississippi

Although there are some discrepancies in dates of the Thomas Locke family, and in the birth places of Thomas and William Henry, it seems evident that both were born in North Carolina.

A Thomas R. Lock with no family is in the Census of 1860, Artesia, Lowndes County, Miss. He was 27, a clerk, born in North Carolina. He is not the Thomas below (who married in April 1870) in the Census of 1870, Artesia, Lowndes County, unless there is a mistake in his age.

Locke,	Thomas	23, clerk in store	North Carolina
	Callie	16	Mississippi
Crump,	Lewis	17, attending school	Mississippi
Irons,	James	26, clerk in store	Alabama

The Thomas above appears to be the one in the 1880 Census of Columbus, Lowndes County:

Locke,	Thomas	37, merchant	N.C.	N.C.	N.C.
	Cally H.	25, wife	La.	Miss.	Miss.
	James R.	8, son	Miss.	N.C.	Miss.
	Thomas	2, son	Miss.	N.C.	Miss.
Ekells,	Vick	18, sister	La.	Miss.	Miss.
Locke,	William	24, brother	N.C.	N.C.	N.C.

The mother of James R. and Thomas was born in Mississippi, so Cally H., according to this record, was not their mother.

My guess is that this Thomas (b. c1843?) and his brother, William (b. c1856), and J. H. (b. c1836) were grandsons or nephews of Thomas J. (7). J. H. is in the Census of 1870, Mayhew and Tibbee, Township 19, Lowndes County, Miss.

[25] RESEARCH ON THE EARLY FAMILIES OF EAST TENNESSEE IS DIFFICULT, NOT ONLY BECAUSE MANY OF THE OLD RECORDS HAVE BEEN DESTROYED, BUT BECAUSE BOTH VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA HAD JURISDICTION OVER THE AREA AT ONE TIME. . . ALL OF TENNESSEE WAS A PART OF NORTH CAROLINA UNTIL 1790, AT WHICH TIME TENNESSEE BECAME PART OF THE TERRITORY OF THE UNITED STATES SOUTH OF THE RIVER OHIO. TENNESSEE BECAME A STATE IN 1796. LITERALLY THOUSANDS OF NORTH CAROLINIANS POURED INTO TENNESSEE IN THE 1770'S, 1780'S, 1790'S (AND ON UP INTO THE 1800'S) AND OF GREAT IMPORTANCE AND SIGNIFICANCE TO PERSONS DOING RESEARCH ON EARLY TENNESSEE FAMILIES IS THE FACT THAT MANY PERSONS BORN IN TENNESSEE PRIOR TO 1800 WERE APT TO CLAIM THAT THEY HAD BEEN BORN IN NORTH CAROLINA RATHER THAN IN TENNESSEE! CONVERSELY, MANY OF THE PRE-REVOLUTIONARY SETTLERS IN SOME OF THE COUNTIES OF WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA WERE UNDER THE IMPRESSION THAT THEY WERE LIVING IN TERRITORY THAT LATER BECAME TENNESSEE! ---WILLIAM PERRY JOHNSON, GENEALOGIST AND EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL OF NORTH CAROLINA GENEALOGY.

DECLARATION FOR PENSION.

Act of June 5, 1920.

War with Spain, Philippine Insurrection, and China Relief Expedition.

STATE OF Tennessee
COUNTY OF Shelby } ss:

On this 24th day of October, 1920, personally appeared before me, a notary Public within and for the County and State aforesaid, David R. Locke, who, being duly sworn by me according to law, declares that he is 44 years of age; that he was born Jackson, Tennessee, on January 29, 1876; and that he is an actual and bona fide resident of Shelby County, State of Tennessee

That he is the identical person who enlisted at Jackson, Tennessee under the name of David R. Locke on the 12th day of August, 1899, as a Private (Rank.) in Company E, 29th Inf. U.S.V. (Here describe fully the organization in which service was rendered.) and was honorably discharged March 22, 1901, at Manila, P.I. having served ninety days or more in the War with Spain, the Philippine Insurrection, or China Relief Expedition.

That he also served none (Here give a complete statement of all other military or naval service, if any, at whatever time rendered.)

That otherwise than herein stated he was not employed in the United States service.

That his personal description at time of enlistment was as follows: Height 5 feet 6 inches; complexion ruddy; color of eyes brown; color of hair auburn; that his occupation was Flagging on water train

That since leaving the service he has resided at Jackson, Tenn: Fort Worth, Texas; Memphis, Tenn. and his occupation has been Time keeper for railway and construction, & clerk in U.S. Post-office at Fort Worth and Memphis, Tenn.

That he is suffering from a mental or physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of his own vicious habits, which so incapacitates him from the performance of manual labor as to render him partially (Wholly or partially.) unable to earn a support, to wit: kidney troubles (Brights' disease); right ear (otitis media); (Here state mental or physical disability or disabilities of permanent character.) left angle wear from old sprain; injured left side from two broken ribs and fractured one at Dallas, Texas 1917; and weakened arches at times forced to wear arch supporters and nervousness from [illegible] sickness.

That he has applied for pension under Original No. That he is a pensioner under Certificate No. Application for pension filed in January, 1902 but have forgotten the number. Congressman Hubert Fisher of this district filed a claim for me which no. is H.R. 801 and passed the house January, 1920.

That he makes this declaration for the purpose of being placed on the pension roll of the United States under the provisions of the act of Congress approved June 5, 1920.

The above was sent by Chuck LOCKE, 1115 Madison, NE, Salem, OR. 97303. He and his bro. Everett have been collecting family history for a number of years and have lots! Chuck is retired and has made two or three trips back to the area the LOCKE-HIATT families came from. He wrote the following after returning in 1988 from Brucetown and Wadesville, VA., "We followed what was written in our cousin Dorothy L.W. Brown's book and with the help of a very kind young lady Lora Whitacre (age 92) of Brucetown, who said 'I know the LOCKE girl; she's a very nice lady'. Lora went with us to show us where the LOCKE girl lived. We found Nellie B. Elliott (age 82), alive, a 3rd cousin living on what appears to be part of the old George LOCKE, Sr. farm. We also found the family graveyard as they are still called in VA. There are 2 headstones left, one is George LOCKE 1743-1823 and the other Sarah (HIATT) LOCKE, wife of George,, 1753-1827. There are other graves but no markers. It is now on land owned by people not in the family, but they are very nice and trying to clean and fix up the family plot.

"Nellie knew she was related to George and Sarah, but not how. Her Gr. Grdf. was John LOCKE who married Rebecca RIDGEWAY. He was the youngest son of Geo. LOCKE, SR. Nellie has 3 girls and 2 sons, who live close to her on part of the old farm. It was a very exciting visit to the past and we are packing up to go again." AND THEY DID!.

In the Fall, they visited your Editor again and left a big book of materials that I copied much of. The Bible Record on the previous page is part of it and the following summary of this particular John LOCKE, titled simply:

JOHN LOCKE

John Locke was born about 1726, place unknown; died on Feb. 7, 1795. He was married by 1747 as a child was born 28 Apr 1747 to Nancy (maiden name unkn.). Only one child has been proved, and that was Geo. LOCKE, Sr., who married Sarah HIETT(HIATT, etc).

John Locke resided during the American Revolution in Virginia, while acting in the capacity of Private and General.

The War Department reported 3 Jun 1827 "the records shew that John LOCK (surname also LOCKE) served in the Rev. War as a private in Capt. Johathan Clark's Co., 8th VA. Reg., commanded by Col. James Wood. He was drafted 23 Feb 1778 for one year, was promoted to Corpl. 1 Apr 1778, was transferred in Jun 1778 to Capt. Abraham Kirkpatrick's Co. 4, VA. Reg., commanded successively by Col. James Wood, Col. John Neville and transferred in Oct 1778 to Lieut. Col. Ballard's Co., same Regt. He enlisted for the War in Dec 1778, was transferred in May 1779 to Capt. John Stied's Co., same regiment and his name last appears on the company 9 Dec 1779. Authority appended."

John Connally, the agent of John Murray, Earl of Dunmore, Royal Gov. of VA., took possession of Fort Pitt, PA. and named it Fort Dunmore early in 1774. He attempted retalliation for the Indian outrages and on Jun 10 the Gov. called out the militia of Frederick Co., under command of Maj. Angus McDonald and militia of SW VA. under GEn. Andrew Lewis. They raided the Indian towns on the Muskingum R.. Lord Dunmore came to the frontier and called on neighboring militia to join in the expedition against the INdians. Before his forces could join those of Lewis's, the Indians attacked on 10 Oct and were soundly defeated at the battle of Point Pleasant. These abstracts were taken from the VA. Archives at the State Library and the Draper Manuscripts in the Wis. State Hist. Soc..

HISTORY OF POLK CO., OR.

GABRIEL PORTER LOCKE

Gabriel Porter Locke was born October 13, 1856 at Independence, Oregon. He was the third child of Harrison Porter and Melissa (Hardison) Locke, pioneers of 1845. He and his 13 brothers and sisters were born on their parents' donation land claim just south of Independence.

Gabriel married Rhoda Elliott Rhodes, daughter of John W. and Susan (Elliott) Rhodes on October 23, 1876. Rhoda was born in Nodaway County, Missouri, August 18, 1855. She crossed the plains in a covered wagon when she was 13 years old with her parents, brothers and sisters and her maternal grandparents, Willis and Mary "Polly" Elliott in 1868. This grandfather lived in three centuries, as he was born August 7, 1799 and died July 10, 1900.

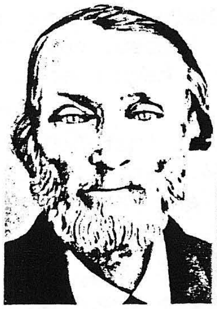
Gabriel lived all of his life in Polk County and Rhoda from an early age. To this union were born six children, Lula Mattison, 1878-1958; Cassie Snyder, 1880-1953; Ethel Bevens, 1882-1957; Hugh, 1885-1890; Lesslie, 1890-1941 and Austin, 1892-1968. All lived and died in Polk County. Cassie and Ethel are buried at Buena Vista cemetery, the others at Hilltop (IOOF) cemetery at Independence.

Gabriel was a farmer and hop grower. He had, in his middle and later years, a hop ranch across the Willamette river, in the Talbot area, but his main home was in Buena Vista. Rhoda was known for her lovely flower and vegetable gardens.

Rhoda died September 20, 1936 in Independence. Gabriel lived in Independence mostly with his daughter Lula until he died November 19, 1941. They are both buried in Hilltop cemetery as are her parents, John and Susan Rhodes and grandparents, Willis and Polly Elliott.

HARRISON PORTER LOCKE

Harrison Locke was born October 13, 1812 in Lee County, Virginia, the 8th child of Abram and Faithful (Duncan) Locke. When his mother was a small child she and her family were carried as captives to Montreal, Canada, when the fort her father (Captain John Duncan) commanded, was captured by the British during the Revolutionary war. H.P. had 4 sisters and 5 brothers. The family moved to Chariton County Missouri when he was a boy and from there he came to Oregon in 1845.



Harrison Locke

Melissa Locke

There is probably more on Harrison Porter Locke in that Polk Co. History but this is all that was sent to your Editor. That "Porter" interests me because my Gr. Grdf. had a Bible given him by an Uncle Jared Porter in 1861 when he and Barbara "Annie" Welch married.

MRS. THOS. PAULSGROVE, 79, DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Lucy Paulsgrove, 79, wife of Thos. B. Paulsgrove and mother of Sheriff Paulsgrove of this city, passed away suddenly at her home in Good Hope at 11:26 last night, from a heart attack. She had been in poor health for a long time.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday afternoon at the Christian church in this city, with interment in Oakwood cemetery. Friends are invited to call at the Dodsworth funeral home until tomorrow morning, when the body will be removed to the late residence, where friends may call until the hour of the services.

The daughter of T. J. and Elizabeth (Brown) Locke, she was born April 18, 1863, in Blandinsville. She lived all her life in McDonough county except three years spent at Abingdon, Ill. She was 79 years, three months and 21 days of age at the time of her death.

She was married December 12, 1889, to Thomas B. Paulsgrove, who survives. She also leaves three children, Sheriff Clarence G. Paulsgrove of this city, Mrs. Carl Ruebush and Herbert T. Paulsgrove of Good Hope and three grandchildren, Mary K Paulsgrove, Duane Paulsgrove and Maxine Ruebush. Her parents, a brother Freddie Locke, a sister Hulda Locke, and a granddaughter, Dorothy Lue Ruebush, preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Christian church since girlhood.

Her husband descends from their dau. Sarah and Langhorne TABB of VA. She would like to share info. and fam. charts with anyone else researching these lines.

Those are all the Queries except what follows is both information and concludes with one. Helen Mencher, 450 Riverside Dr., New York, N.Y., 10027 writes of Preble Co., OH. LOCKS:

"There were two Abraham LOCKS in this family. One married Margaret Rebecca OTT. The second m. 1/Elizabeth HARSH, 2/Jane BRIDEWELL.

"Father and son died very close together. Father Abraham on 13 Sep 1872; he was bur. in Row 5, Grave 18, Sec. 1 of Roselawn Cem., Preble Co., OH.. His wife Rebecca is bur. in Row 5, Grave 17, Sec. 1, next to her husband.

"Son Abraham died 5 Aug 1872; he is listed as being bur. in Row 41, Grave 17, Sec. 1. His wife Elizabeth HARSH is bur. in Row 17, Grave 39. It seems possible to me that there was an error in transcription and that this Abraham was also bur. near his first wife in Row 17, Grave 41.

"Why the Preble Co. Roselawn CEm. records for these two men should be almost identical, both with the birthdate, wife and child. of Father Abraham, I don't know. It seems certain that there was an error either in 1872 when both died or later in transcription.

"Check pages 339-340 of Lookin' for Lockes for the list of child. of Abraham & Margaret Rebecca (OTT). How correct was this list? Madeleine Holt listed an Andrew, but he is not credited to Abraham & Margaret Rebecca. Cemetery records say he died in 1842 - did they only list living children to their parents? Margaret Rebecca had a child about every two years: Elias was b. in 1821, Andrew could have been b. in 1823 as Michael is listed as being b. in 1825. Andrew would have been 18 on 10 Jan 1842 he could belong to them.

"However, on the burial record it says that Andrew was the son of Abraham & Elizabeth HARSH LOCK. He is bur. Row 17, Grave 34, Sec. 1, very close to Elizabeth HARSH LOCK. But he could not have been 18 years old and have been their son. WERE THERE 2 ANDREWS? "

Helen Mencher is most anxious to clear up the "mysteries" on these families if anyone out there has the ansxers, PLEASE WRITE HER.

TAX LISTS

During the War of 1812, the British destroyed many records in the nation's capital, including many of the 1790 Censuses. Those of Virginia were among them. Tax payers' names have been compiled in lieu of a census of that time.

For many years, taxes were levied only on persons, not on property. A tithable person was such a one who was taxed. (Included all negroes, about the age of 16 and also all white men.) White women and children were exempt. The tithables were listed annually during the "crop time" by the justices of the country.

Slaves were negroes who served for life. Servants were those who served for a few years, according to their indenture (perhaps, pay for passage across the ocean.) If under 19, they must serve until they were 4 and 20.

"William F. Lock was a Justice of the Peace in Jefferson County."

Jonathan Tealott

The foregoing is probably the same John & Jamea LOCK who applied for a pension on service of John LOCK #S 41782 of Granville Co., N.C. He was born 7 Sep 1754, place and parents not named.

John enlisted in Granville Co., N.C. 28 Apr 1776 or 22 May 1776, served as a Private in Capt. Glover's and Williams' companies in the Sxth N.C. Reg., as a private and sergeant in Capt. Bowman's and Mebane's companies in the First N.C. Reg. and was discharged in October or November 1778. While still a resident of Granville Co., he was allowed a pension on his application executed 3 Dec 1819. In 1820 he referred to his wife as being about his own age but did not give her name.

In 1856 James LOCK was referred to as heir-at-law of the soldier but his relationship not given. For the date of the soldier's death and name of person to whom the arrears of his pension were paid, application should be made to the Auditor for the Int terior Dept., U.S. Treasury Dept,, citing all of the following data: John LOCK, Sr. Cert. # 17,117 (note different from number given above), issued 24 May 1820 under Act of 18 Mar 1818 at the N.C. Agency.

He fought in no battles and was discharged 18 Nov 1778 at King's Ferry, New York.

Have any of you ever written to see who received a pension after John's death; your editor would like that information if someone does have it.

Dear Members,

Where has this year gone? What have we accomplished? HMMMMM.

Did you realize when we joined Linda Tiller's effort 12 years ago that there were so many LOCKS, LOCKES, LOCHS, LAUCKS, etc. out there? I surely didn't. I was just sure that in no time at all we would have all the Locke information all collected and put in its place. The parentage of my Thomas LOCKE remains as deep and dark a mystery as when I started. HOPE ALL OF YOU HAVE HAD MUCH BETTER LUCK!

I still get letters with no SASE enclosed, do you? We certainly have a choice when it comes to responding - no SASE, no RESPONSE, unless it looks like I might gain from it! I have found two or three new cousins this year - love that!

We shall spend Thanksgiving in the East again with our daughter and grandchildren, flying into Philadelphia on Sun. On the following Sunday, after a weekend at Atlantic City, we will drive to Norfolk and make like tourists and genealogists, visiting Williamsburg, Jamestown and St. Petersburg, where my gr-gr-grandf. John Holloway is buried, a casualty of the Civil War.

The sun is shining beautifully here on me; I must get this to the printers while I go to a meeting - then send them on their way to you. Pretend we are having a good visit when you receive it, sit down with a cup of coffee, check all the information and ignore all the mistakes! Know that I wish you the best always and sincerely hope that at some point I print information that really makes a difference in what you know of you LOCKES, etc.

Best wishes for a Joyous Holiday Season and a Healthy, Happy 1991!

As ever,

Orella

January, SUNDAY, 1, 1865.

Dont feel as well in mind to day as a body should the 1st day of the year.

I fear I am slightly troubled with the blues

But should not be such a pleasant day as this is

January, WEDNESDAY, 4, 1865

Comprimised the matter with Mr Cross.

He agreed to deed me all his right tittle & intrest in the property in dispute, and then pay me $1200,00 for an undivided half of the 170 feet. The $1200,00 to be paid the 1st of June or sooner if we should succeed in selling town

Weather pleasant though Cold

January, THURSDAY, 5, 1865.

Now for business.

Went to Black hawk & ordered lumber for the shanty in the lode. Also had some timber delivered at the shaft.

Went into writings with Mr. Cross.

Clear & Cold

Sold my half of the John W Cooper. & brought some dry good, Boots & thought

January, FRIDAY, 6, 1865.

Shoveled snow ~~to day~~ all day. Had one man to help me.

How much better a person feels to have business. I think it the life of a man. God deliver me from ever being without business again

This day has been pleasant & warm.

January, SATURDAY, 7, 1865.

Commenced cribing the shaft worked till noon. Put on clean ducks & paper Coller quit, went to Wide Awake in the afternoon Snowed on me all the way up. Was well received by Mrs W & Lizzie.

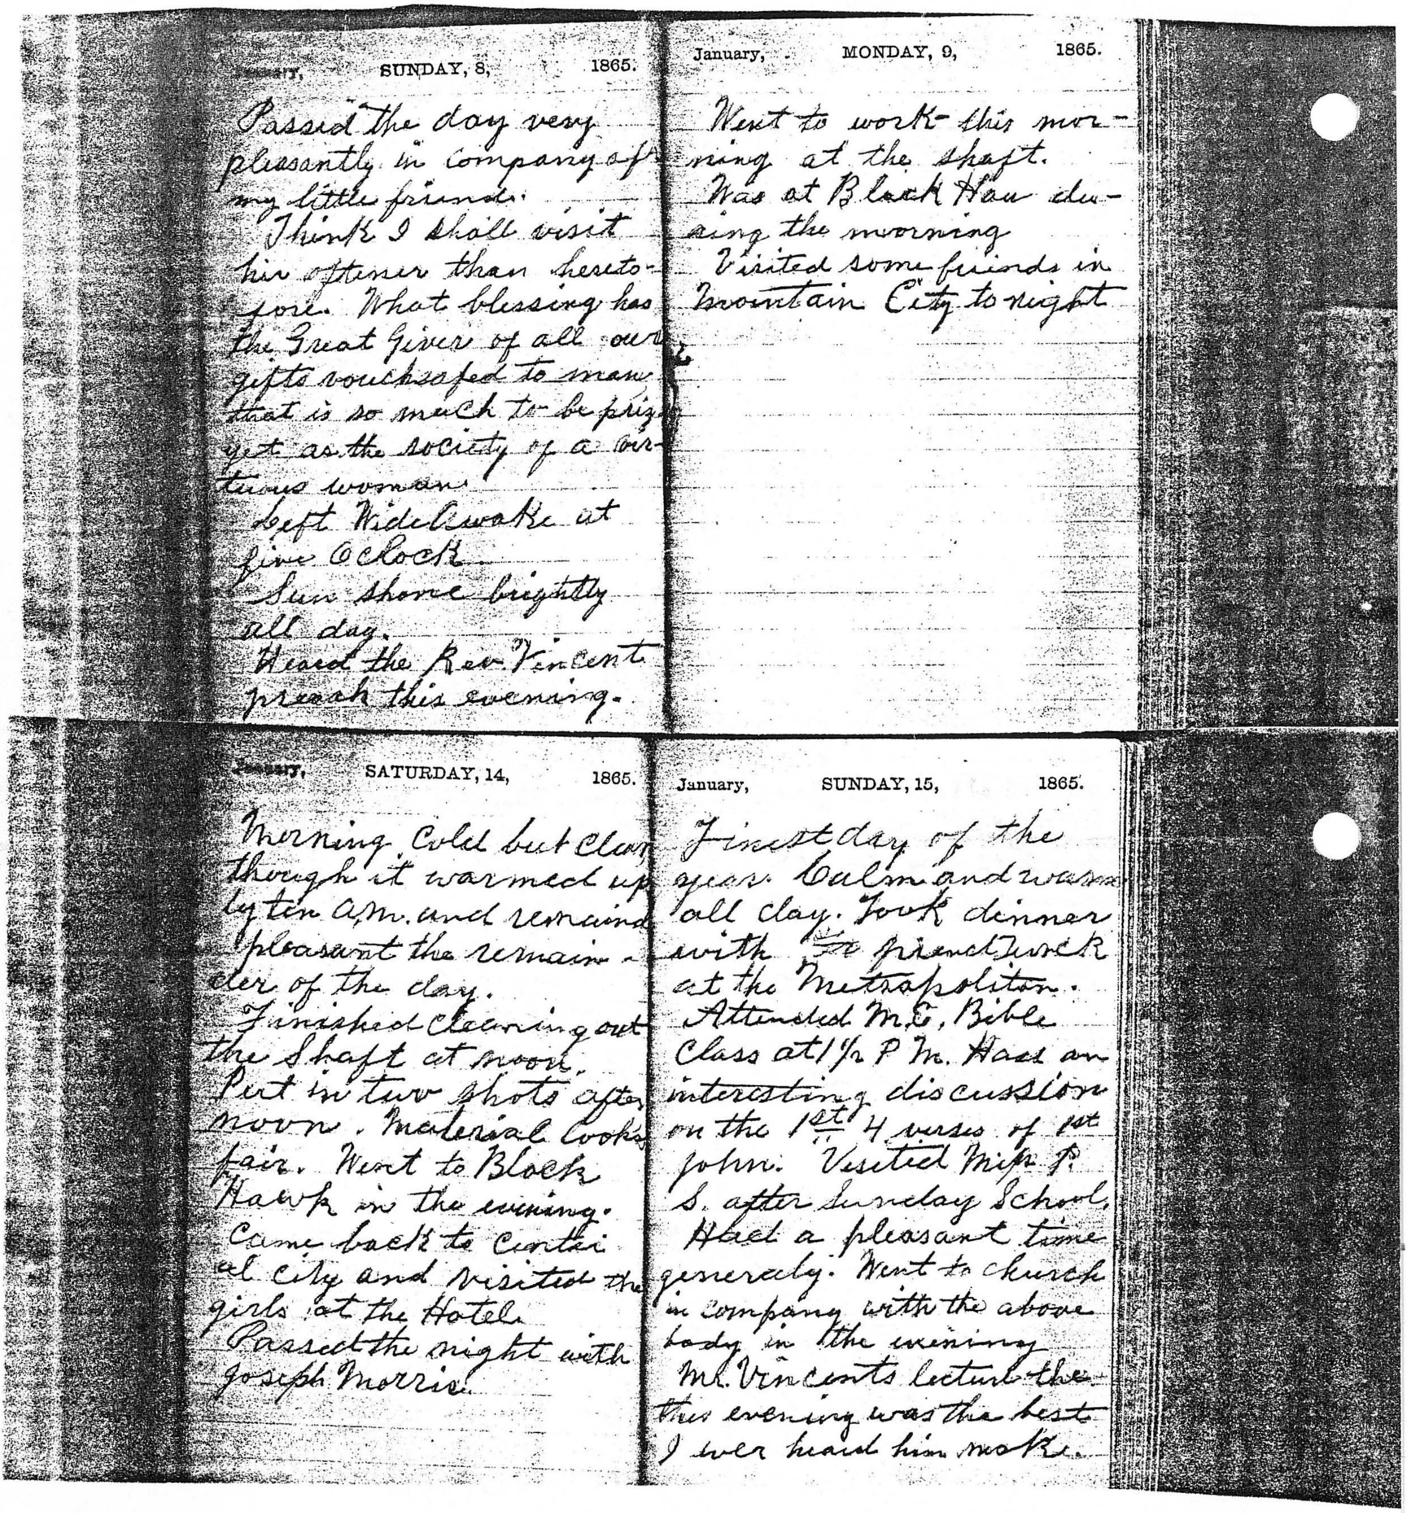
Spent a glorious evening in Lizzie's society.

What a great priviledg it is to be permitted spend an occasional evening in the company of so dear a friend as Lizzie.



January, SUNDAY, 8, 1865.

Passed the day very pleasantly in company of my little friend.

Think I shall visit her oftener than heretofore. What blessing has the Great Giver of all our gifts vouchsafed to man that is so much to be priz yet as the society of a virtuous woman.

Sun shone brightly all day.

Heard the Rev Vincent preach this evening.

January, MONDAY, 9, 1865.

Went to work this morning at the shaft.

Was at Black Haw during the morning.

Visited some friends in Mountain City to night.

January, SATURDAY, 14, 1865.

Morning Cold but Clar though it warmed up by ten A.M. and remaind pleasant the remainder of the day.

Finished Cleaning out the Shaft at noon. Put in two shots afternoon. Material looks fair. Went to Black Hawk in the evening. Came back to Central City and visited the girls at the Hotel.

Passed the night with Joseph Morris.

January, SUNDAY, 15, 1865.

First day of the year. Calm and warm all day. Took dinner with ~~Fr~~ friend Turck at the Metropolitan. Attended M.E. Bible Class at 1½ P.M. Had an interesting discussion on the 1st 4 verses of 1st John. Visited Miss P. S. after Sunday School. Had a pleasant time generaly. Went to church in company with the above body in the evening.

Mr. Vincents lecture ~~the~~ this evening was the best I ever heard him make.

CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGES.....Interestingly enough, this John was a cousin of your Editor's John Burns LOCK, who also became interested in mining about this time. He mentioned to his daughter Orella Locke, going to osteopathic school in MO. that this could be where the money would be instead of in farming. Of course he and brother William came to Colorado to mine to begin with, this in 1859-61.

This is the sort of info' your Editor likes to get. This was sent to Helen Mencher from our Cousin Georgia Cooper, wife of Thomas, Farmington, N. Mexico. Sometimes clues come from diaries, old letters, Bible Records, etc. Be sure to ask ol-der family members for any of the above. My Mother had such documents in an old tool chest o my brother's, including a letter written by my Grandmother Carrie LOCKE RALSTON in 1889 telling of the death of first son Walter.

LOCK(ES) TOO NUMEROUS?

Did you dream, when you started your genealogy research on Lockes, that it would be like searching for a needle in a haystack? We seem to always be plagued by a lack of evidence, proof and knowledge. We most all have missed the boat in not getting more information and being more interested while our elders were still alive. Sound familiar? Of course they also needed to have this same interest in preserving the family history which would have prevented some of the inaccuracies that we do have.

There is documentation earlier in these issues of the Deacon William LOCKE, born in London, England 13 Dec. 1628, coming to this country on the The Planter in 1634 at 6 years of age. He later married and settled in Woburn, MA. with wife Mary CLARKE; their children born at Woburn were William, John, Joseph, Mary, Samuel, Ebenezer, James and Elizabeth.

Reportedly Richard LOCK came on The Paul of London in 1635; what became of him?

Another early immigrant was Captain John LOCKE, who appears to have been the son of Thomas LOCKE of London, England; he made his home at Dover, Deleware about 1638, but moved to Hampton, N.H. in 1645, in 1652 married Elizabeth BERRY. They had John, Elizabeth, Nathaniel, Alice, Edward, Tryphena, Rebecca, Mary, William, James and Joseph.

According to Dorothy Brown, who researched this family extensively, between 1621 and 1654 numerous large land grants were given in Virginia to Andrew, George, Jervis, John, thomas and William, particularly on the shore line and along the eastern rivers. The first settlers who came to VA. in 1607 were English immigrants and settled on the northeast ahore of the James River. Boatloads continued to arrive until by 1770 there were 80,000 people living in the Tidewater area extending as far north as the Potomac River. Large numbers of these were given land according to the "headrights" they brought to the new wrold.

The bays and rivers were the logical places to settle beside, there being no railroads, highways nor airlines. Transportation being so difficult, it is not surprising that those who settled in the New England states tended to more or less stay in that area for many years.

There were those who settled in early times more southerly areas: Thomas LOCK of James City County, VA. in 1635; George LOCK of New Norfolk Co., VA. in 1637; William LOCK of Charles River Co., VA. in 1639; George LOCK of Yorke Co., VA. and George LOCKE of Gloucester Co. VA. in 1651; Thomas LOCK of Lower Norfolk Co., and Thomas LOCK of Henrico Co., VA. in 1653; Andrew LOCK of Northampton Co., VA., in 1654; and Thomas LOCKE who came from England to the Barbados in 1679. Your Editor has not printed information on LOCKS from this area, as she hasn't researched the area (that might change; she plans to do a little research in that area the week following Thanksgiving); Is there anyone among our readers who can provide information on LOCKES from this area?

(For a brief history on the settlement of this area of Virginia, read the introduction in the Handy Book for Genealogists by Everton Publishers. Both interesting and dismaying!)

Transportation didn't improve greatly until after the Revolutionary War. The difficulty of moving troops and especially supplies was most difficult for both sides. George Washington was an engineer, if you remember, and he had a dream of having a waterway that would go all the way to the Ohio River, but the obstacles were too great: the Alleghany Mountains, which literally shut off the West from Eastern Virginia, rough shoals and rapids on the Potomac River made navigation impossible on it for too great a distance. All of western Virginia is mountainous with the Blue Ridge mts. and Appalachian Mts. being along the obrder between present day West Virginia. It more or less followed that most of the western part of Virginia was settled from Maryland (there were fords at "Old Pachorse Ford"and Harper's Ferry), Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

These immigrants were more likely to be German, Scot-Irish, Quakers, Irish with a sprinkling of Welsh and Hollanders. Many of these followed old Indian trails from 1722 to the out-break of the French & INdian War 1754. (If you want to read of the most interesting history of this era, read Allan W. Eckert's The Frontiersman, The Conquerors, Wilderness Empire, etc.) When this war was over, it left the English and Spanish only in control of this New World; in 1763 France had only two small fishing villages/island in Canada.

Is this John LOCK related to George and the William whose property adjoins his? If so, How? Was George, Sr. the father? The following page suggests that there may have also been a relationship with George PAIN, an in-law maybe? Note the Gibbons name! also on this plat, the one John bought his property from? Wouldn't it be nice if we had even SOME of the answers? If Chuck Locke keeps going back there, perhaps he will eventually get all the answer!

Cobb,	George L.	26,	clerk in store	Mississippi

The Jessie H. below, in the Census of 1880, Mayhew, Lowndes County, appears to be the same person. If he is, Eliza A. must have been his second wife and the birth place of the older children's mother was North Carolina rather than Alabama as stated in the Census of 1880.

Locke,	Jessie H.	44,	dry goods merchant	N.C.	N.C.	N.C.
	Eliza A.	36,	wife	Ala.	N.C.	Ala.
	Mattie M.	13,	daughter	Miss.	N.C.	Ala.
	Lula E.	11,	daughter	Miss.	N.C.	Ala.
	Robert B.	7,	son	Miss.	N.C.	Ala.

Eliza A., born 1844 according to the census, must be the Eliza Ada Locke (b. 11 Nov. 1842; d. 27 Sept. 1898), wife of J. H. Locke, who is buried in Sand Creek Cemetery which is between Mayhew and Starkville, Miss.[30]

Two other Lockes (in the same household) are in the Census of 1870, Columbus, Lowndes County, Miss.--Lettie, 41, born in Virginia, and Albert, 19, born in Mississippi. Two more are in the Census of 1880, District 5, Lowndes County--B. C., 18, store clerk, born in Mississippi, and the following Mary A. Locke:

The birth place of J. J. Locke (James) in the Census of 1860, Rankin County (Brandon P. O.), Mississippi, below indicates that the family moved back to Mississippi by 1860.

Locke, E. B.	46, farmer	born North Carolina
S. E.	32 (f)	North Carolina
G. A.	13 (f)	Mississippi
Virginia	11 (f)	Mississippi
Louella	8 (f)	Louisiana
H. C.	6 (m)	Louisiana
Olivia	3 (f)	Louisiana
J. J.	5/12 (m)	Mississippi

Miss Addie gave us the birth date of Edmond Branch--12 August 1810. According to the census record, he was born about 1814 and Sarah Elizabeth was born about 1828.

One C. E. Locke (12 year old male, born in Mississippi) is in this schedule also. He was living in the home of William and Catharine Buckner. The J. R. Locke below, also in the Census of 1860, Rankin County (Brandon P. O.), Mississippi, may be Joel Reeves Locke (6).

Locke. J. R.	56, farmer	born North Carolina
C.	36 (f)	North Carolina
T. J.	20 (m)	North Carolina
M. A.	22 (f)	North Carolina
S. W.	18 (f)	North Carolina
J. L.	17 (m)	Mississippi
F.	10 (f)	Mississippi
J. A.	6 (f)	Mississippi
F.	4 (f)	Mississippi
P.	4 (f)	Mississippi

The Census of 1870, Rankin County, was not checked. No Lockes were found in this county in 1850, or in 1880 in the part of Beat 1 that appears to be the outskirts of Vicksburg. One U. W. Lock (25) and "Mrs." (21), both born in Arkansas, and an infant born in Mississippi are in the 1850 Census of Hinds Co., Miss.

FROM: Family-Histories & Genealogies, Vol. First, Part Second, containing a series of Genealogical & Biographical Monographs, on the families of Lynde, Digby, Newdigate, Hoo and Willoughby, with notes on the Families of LOCKE & COLE
By Edward Elbridge and Evelyn McCurdy Salisbury 1892

THE LOCKE FAMILY.

This family comes into the pedigree by the marriage of Agnes T. Locke with Robert C. Mayes, as told ante, see page 19.

"Tradition considers the name of Locke of Scotch extraction, originally spelt Lock; but, if so, it must have been in very early time; for when Alfred divided this kingdom into parishes, the dwelling of a great man, known by the name of Locke, was called after him Lockstown, or the Town of Locke. It adjoins East Brent, where the family at one time became numerous. At present it is called Lockston, alias Loton, the lordship of which belongs to the Marquis of Buckingham. The parish of Locking is distant two miles from Lockstown, and hath long since been divided; but a large farm of many hundreds per annum, called Lockinghead, together with the perpetuity of the living, belongs to the merchants of Bristol.

"The Locke family in this neighborhood consider themselves as described from a very ancient house, arguing that they gave name to the parishes where they lived, before the conquest, and do not derive their name with a De from the parishes, as is very commonly the case."*

"According to the preceding article," says the author of The Book of the Locke's, on p. 348, "the name of Locke was known in England in the time of King Alfred, about the year 880. * * * The name does not stand out prominent in the early or more modern history of England (excepting in the case of John, the great philosopher, who stands at the head of greatness and goodness in the ranks of the learned), however it often appears, and connected with events and individuals, which show that they were of respectable standing. To gratify the curiosity of some, and for a future reference, should any one wish hereafter to make further researches in England, I subjoin a few facts that have been collected, many of them being taken from documents published a few years since under the direction of the 'Record Commissioners,' by the government of Great Britain, an incomplete copy having been given by said government to the New England Historic-Genealogical Society. In many cases, the simple name only, and the date when recorded, is given. The different orthographies are seen.

"1198—Eustace Loc.

"1203—Ricardus Loc, of Witteham, his widow Letitia living 1203, when she sues for right of dower.

"1230—Johanna, widow of William de Lok, who was son of Jordan Lok, to whom King John, in 1199, granted right to take tolls of ships on the Thames. William had son, Thomas, under age in 1230.

"1236—Thomas de Lock.

"1250—Gilbert Locke, and William, his son, of county of Lincoln.

"1250—Ricardus Lok, Lucy his wife, and Mabilla, her sister, of Co. of Oxford.

"1291—Thomas Locke was of Merton. Tyson, in his Environs of London, says that 'Edward III granted the Rectory of Merton belonging to a former Abbey of that name to Thomas Locke, about 1291.' Here is an error, evidently, as the reign of Edward III did not begin until 1327. Manning, in his History of the County of Surrey, within which is Merton, says of Merton Place, 'Near the church is a large old mansion, which has been known from time immemorial by the name of Merton Place. In the year 1499, John Locke and Jane, his wife, became possessed of it (probably by inheritance), in whose family it continued until the year 1646, when John, a remote descendant of John above, (and whose ancestors had in the meantime purchased the Impropriation of the Rectory in 7 of Edward VI) conveyed it together with the Impropriation to Catherine, late wife of John Highland, alderman of London.' There seems to be some discrepancy in the dates, which may possibly be reconciled in this way, viz: that a portion of the premises may have been granted in 1291, and the remainder at a subsequent period.

Continued.......

"1313—John Lok was of Scardiburg.

"1350—Robert Locke was Vicecomes of Wiltshire"—in conjunction with Thomas de Saint Maur.

"1359—Berengarius Loc, of Narbonne, with John Bigot, of Biteria, were messengers sent by the states of Senescalcia Carcassiona to the king of France. Edward III granted them protection in going and returning through and staying in his kingdom, and also to the ten knights, horsemen and boatmen, which composed their retinue.

"1395—License was granted by Richard II to William Locke and John Kenynghale, Scotch merchants, for exporting goods to Norway.

"1412—Complaint was made to the king of England by William Locke and others, merchants of Lenn (Lynn) setting forth that notwithstanding that they had had rights granted them by the king of Norway, Dacia and Sweden, they had been robbed and ill treated by the merchants of Hanse; and though the king of Sweden had imposed a fine of 1.500 marks upon the aggressors, it had never been paid, and their troubles still continued; and that, in 1409, a ship was freighted by William Locke and others, of Lenn, for Berne and Wysmer, and the captain of the ship was seized at Berne, and ordered to return to Lenn; and they claimed a redress for their great losses."

Leaving, now, these disconnected notices of the old name, we come to the family history of the branch from which we are descended. The most complete and satisfactory account accessible to the writer is that given by the late eminent genealogist, Col. Joseph L. Chester, LL. D., of London, England, in the January number, 1881, p. 59, of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register.

XIV.—"William Locke (Lock, Lok, or Loke, as the name was indifferently spelt in early times) had two sons, viz: John Locke, citizen and mercer of London, who died in 1519, leaving no issue,* and

EARLY CHURCHES - MARRIAGES AND VITAL RECORDS

Until 1686, the Episcopal Church was the state church in Virginia - sometimes called the Anglican Church or the Church of England. There was at least one parish in every county, often coinciding with the counties. Sometimes, there were several. The vestry, composed of 12 vestrymen, was the governbody, presided over by the parish rector. Marriages performed by the church were required to be recorded in the parish registers. These registers also give about the only records of births and deaths to be obtained in the early days of Virginia. By Civil Law, all children had to be baptized at the parish church. There were the names of all children, the names of fathers and mothers, and sometimes the names of God-fathers and god-mothers. The right to perform marriages remained with the parish minister until about 1780.

Later, a person might be married by the publication of banns or by furnishing a marriage bond. No minister was permitted to celebrate matrimony except if the banns of matrimony had first been published three Sundays or Holy Days in times of divine service in churches where said persons dwelt. Where the contracting parties lived in different parishes, the banns must be published in both parishes.

Law required that all licenses for marriages must be issued by the clerk of the county where the woman had her usual residence. The clerk was required to take a bond with good surety, subject to a penalty of fifty pounds. If either of the persons intended to be married, the consent of the parent or guardian of every such person under twenty must be given before the clerk and attested by two witnesses. These were called Marriage Bonds.

Two of the oldest churches are Presbyterian: the Tuscarora Meeting House near Martinsburg and the Opequon Church south of Winchester. (11) (12) (13)

There were many Quaker settlements in Frederick county. Originally, they were a part of the Pennsylvania Friends. The early settlements in Pennsylvania were at York, seat of York county in 1754, known as Warrington Monthly Meeting. The Irish Friends first located in the original counties of Philadelphia and Chester. With expansion, many joined the southward and westward migration of Friends during the third and fourth decades of the 18th century. For three quarters of a century, one of these streams of Quaker migrations injected a new and vigorous element into Quakerism of the South. The movement reached the Monocacy region of Maryland about 1725. Here it rested for a time, then crossed the Potomac River and Struck Hopewell, north of what is now Winchester in Frederick County, Virginia in 1732. The Hopewell Monthly Meeting, first called Opeckan, was about 5 miles north of Winchester on the north slope of Apple Pie Ridge near Opequon Creek. The first meetings were sometimes held out of doors but usually in the house of a Friend.

Other Monthly Meetings in Frederick County were Bear Garden, Upper Ridge, Lower Ridge, Mt. Pleasant, North Fork (now in Berkeley), and Bullskin (now Jefferson). (14)

QUERIES!..454

Dear Locke Researchers (whatever the spelling!)

Here I am trying to beat the increase in postage! What will I save? Two or three dollars, but to a Scotchwoman that is a lot!!

If you have a '91 on you mailing label, according to my records your membership is paid; if it still has a '90 and you have paid, be sure to tell me. I send the quarterly to everyone in Feb. as a reminder, if their dues aren't paid.

Everett J. Locke responded to my question p. 430 in Nov. qtly. "Yes, John and Wm. are definitely sons of George Sr. John bought from Giles Gibbons the land that his bro., George Jr., had sold to Gibbons before going to OH. George Jr. is my grt-grt-Grandfather." Remember, I have mentioned before that Everett and Chuck are bros. and both gung-ho on ancestor searching.

Mary Abernathy writes, "The John Locke that Billie MacDonal Goldwire is researching is the John that Mary J. Steinhagen, Jean West, I and umpteen other are researching." I think you can add 2 or 3 to that after reading this issue, Mary!

A letter from Helen Mencher, who compiled for us the Parish Records of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, mentions an errot that needs to be brought to your attention: Vol. 12, #3, p. 401 - I misinterrupted or jumped a line or something; change that issue to read: p. 30, the birth of Johann of 1 Aug 1784, the parents should be Henrich and Maria SEBASTIAN; the LACKS, Johann and Salome, were the sponsors. It is possible that Henrich Sebastian was a relative of Salome's, bro. or cousin perhaps, because we now know that her maiden name was BASTIAN."

Thanks to all of you who renewed and who write, even if it is to correct me - there are enough mistakes floating around without me adding to the confusion. Happy, successful hunting to all of you, until our visit in May.

Affectionately,
Orella

The E. B. Lock family below is in the 1870 Census of Bossier Parish, Louisiana. (No Lockes are in the 1880 Census, Bossier Parish.)

Lock,	E. B.	39, farmer	born South Carolina
	Sarah	42	South Carolina
	Lou	18	Louisiana
	Henry	16	Louisiana
	Octava	13	Louisiana
	James	10	Louisiana

Edmond Branch's age is obviously wrong. I am convinced that his birth place is, also, because other records indicate that he and two younger brothers were born in North Carolina. Additional evidence is the 1880 census record, Bossier Parish, which shows North Carolina as the birth place of the parents of Louella Elizabeth Locke Mercer.

Louella Elizabeth wrote in one of her scrapbooks that her father died at Fillmore, Bossier Parish, on 23 October 1870. (A notation she made on a scrap of paper gives the day as 24 October.) His grave has not been found in the Fillmore Cemetery[33] and there is no record of his estate in Bossier Parish.[34]

An inquiry about Sarah Elizabeth Edwards Locke, addressed to the Judge of Probate, Fannin County, Texas, brought the following reply: "There is no record of any will or administration on the above named person. There is a Guardianship taken out in 1880 by Henry C. Locke a brother of James & Jessie Locke, minors, saying that both parents are deceased, but never mentioning their names. In the final settlement it states that Jessie Locke married N. O. Stallings, and she died intestate leaving a girl child, which only lived 6 months. J. B. Locke on Dec. 28th, 1895 signed a statement that he had a complete settlement with his Guardian Henry Locke." (As Jessie is not in the Census of 1860, Rankin Co., Miss., she was evidently younger than James. Another daughter, Emma Noami, who died in 1869, must have been younger also because she is not in the census either.)

[33] GRAVES WERE USUALLY MARKED IN THOSE DAYS BUT OFTEN WITH WOOD THAT ROTTED OR WITH MATERIALS THAT CRUMBLED. PERMANENT STONES WERE NOT ONLY EXPENSIVE, THEY WERE DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN.

[34] I HAVE BEEN TOLD THAT MANY OF THE OLD BOSSIER PARISH RECORDS WERE DESTROYED BY FIRE. THE MARRIAGE OF ISAAC LOCKE (NOT CONNECTED TO OUR FAMILY, AS FAR AS I KNOW) AND JANE BUTLER, 13 JANUARY 1876, IS RECORDED IN MARRIAGE VOL. 1873-1876, P. 293.

OTHER DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS J. LOCKE

Notes from letters and scrapbooks:

"Emma Noamie Locke died at Fillmore, La., Sept. 6, 1869. Daughter of E. B. and S. E. Locke." (This is in the handwriting of Louella Locke Mercer.)

Octavia Locke Scott died in 1908 in Texas.

"Misses Addie and Dollie Fort Locke spent ten delightful days with their cousin, Mrs. Robert Poole. They are greatnieces of Mr. Edward Locke, who is probably well remembered by the older residents of Fillmore. They left Saturday via Baton Rouge and New Orleans for their home in Columbus, Miss." (Clipping dated 25 July 1909, probably from The Bossier Banner.)

James Robert Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Scott, was born 11 June 1925.

J. B. Locke attended the 74th birthday celebration of Mrs. W. D. Mercer.

"Mrs. Jack W. Bonner has as her guest this week, Mrs. W. D. Mercer of Taylortown, La. Mrs. Mercer is also visiting relatives in the Elmer vicinity." Another article refers to Mrs. Bonner as her niece and mentions Mrs. Mercer's brothers, J. B. Locke of Jackson County and "Uncle Bud" Locke of Headrick. One of the clippings is about the death of Mrs. Bonner, "wife of Jack W. Bonner, owner and publisher of the Times-Democrat." She was buried at Weatherford, Texas.

PLEASE, everyone - Rebecca (OTT) LOCK was never named Margaret. This was an error made by Madeleine Holt early in her research when she read records that another person had copied from those gathered by Bertha Morgan Gregory while she was working in Washington D.C. That person had raised the question, but careful study of Bertha's records shows no reason to think that Rebecca's name was ever anything but Rebecca.

Margaret or Peggy Lock m David BENDER and they went to LaSalle Co IL. Margaret was not a daughter of Abraham and Rebecca Lock (prob d/o John and Elizabeth). However, did David BENDER 2nd m Margaret after the death of his first wife, Rebecca Ann Lock?
Not likely as Rebecca was age 79 when she died.

Mary Magdalene Lock was d/o George E & Pheobe Lock, m Byron OZIAS and they moved to Versailles, Darke Co OH.

-AS PER MILITARY RECORDS

Margrate (Vanderw erken) Louk filed for a pension for William Louk 25 June 1838 at age 81.Recieved pension till her death in 1846.

She married William Louk (Luick in church records) 25 Sept. 1774 in Schaghticoke,Renneslear CO. William enlisted in the United States Army 1 Feb 1777. Margaret lived inSaratoga CO. at the time of his enlistment, but at the time didn'dt know that he eas in the Army. The first she knew of his enlisting was w hen Abraham Louk brought her some money given him by William. At this time the said William had been gone from home for some time. In the winter of 1778 Margaret gc sick and William got furlow to go see her and he took her to Albany to Dr. Stringer's place. He only stayed a few days when he returned to his Regiment down the Hudon River. William Died in Schaghticoke, Renneslaer Co. in 1788.Marg aret was living in Lansingburg, N. Y. at the time of her death.

Jeanette PROBST (TABB)is most anxious to correspond with LOCKE, CLARY, CATHEY researchers in N.C., TN., MS., TX....Note her ancestor chart below. She has sent printouts of information on these lines and showing their various relationships, some proven and some unproven. She is a new suscriber so hope some of you can give her some answers and gain some yourself. She shows on these charts how the TABBS (her maiden name) ties in with LOCKES, CLARYS, CATHEYS: gives some interesting history on Alexander TABB and Sarah LOCKE, right down to her grf. Rev. Daniel TABB. She also relates some history on Alexander CATHEY, his will and some history on Rowan Co., N.C. To exchange info. with Jeanette, write her ather address below.

XIII.—"Thomas Locke, also citizen and mercer of London, who died in 1507. By his wife, Joanna Wilcocks" (who was the only daughter and heir of Mr. Wilcocks, of Rotheram, in Yorkshire*), "who died in 1512, and was buried with her husband in Mercers Chapel (London), he had an only son: viz:

XII.—"Sir William Locke, knight, alderman of London, who was born about 1486, as he was admitted to the freedom of London, at the end of his apprenticeship in 1507. He succeeded to his father's business and estate, and became an eminent tradesman and citizen. He received the royal appointment of mercer to King Henry VIII., with whom he was an especial favorite, having a key to the king's private chamber, and occasionally entertaining him at dinner at his house in London. There are records in existence showing materials furnished by him to the royal household, including Queen Anne Boleyn, and the Princess, afterwards Queen, Elizabeth; as also, Will Sowers, the king's jester." [In the 25th year of Henry's reign, this William Locke "undertook to go over to Dunkirk, and pull down the pope's bull, which had been there posted up. by way of a curse to the king and kingdom. For this exploit the king granted him a freehold of 100 l. per annum, dubbed him a knight, and made him one of the gentlemen of his privy-chamber."†] "After being several years an alderman, he was elected sheriff of London in 1548, and was knighted on the 3rd of October, in that year, but died before it was his turn to become Lord Mayor.

"Sir William Locke married four wives:

"First, Alice, daughter of a citizen and fishmonger of London, named Spencer, who has not yet been identified. She died in 1522, and was buried in Mercer's Chapel.

"Second, Catherine (XII), daughter of William Cooke, of Salisbury (XIII). She died in childbed, of her eleventh child (Sir Williams' twentieth), Oct. 14, 1537, and was buried at Merton, in Surrey.

*—Same reference, as above.

†—Gentleman's Magazine, as above.

"Third, Eleanor, widow of Walter Marsh. They were married at St. Lawrence, Old Jewry, London, 13 May, 1540, her first husband having been buried there the preceding 20th of January. She died in 1546, having had no issue.

"Fourth, Elizabeth, widow of Robert Meredith, citizen and mercer of London, and formerly wife of —— Hutton. Their marriage license was granted 28 January, 1547-8, her husband Meredith having been buried at St. Lawrence, Jewry, 9 January, 1546-7. She survived Sir William Locke, having no issue by him, and was buried in Mercer's Chapel, London, 5 December, 1551. The curious feature of this marriage was that she was the second wife and widow of Sir William Locke's own son-in-law, Robert Meredith having first married a daughter of Sir William by his first wife, as will be seen hereafter.

"Sir William Locke died at the age of about 64, on the 24th, and was buried in Mercer's Chapel, 27 August, 1550. (In the 'Diary of Henry Machyn,' published by the Camden Society, will be found an account of his burial, at page 1, and at page 12 an imperfect one of that of his late wife).

"By his second wife, Catherine Cooke, Sir William Locke had eleven children, viz: Dorothy, Catherine, John, Alice, Thomazin, Francis and a second John, of none of whom is there any thing of particular interest to record. The first two married tradesmen in London, and the others died without issue.

"Elizabeth, one of the daughters, married, first, Richard Hill, citizen and mercer of London, and second, after his death in 1568 the Right Rev. Nicholas Bullingham, bishop of Worcester. By her first husband she had thirteen children, one of whom, Mary, married Sir Thomas Moundeford, and was mother of Bridget, who married Sir John Bramston, Lord Chief Justice of the king's bench.

"Rose, another of the daughters, married, first, Anthony Hickman, of London, Esq., and second, Simon Throckmorton, of Brampton, Co. Huntington, Esq. By her first husband she was ancestress of the Earls of Plymouth, their grandson, Dixie

MISCELLANEIOUS TIDBITS FROM HERE & THERE

On the 9th of December, at the residence of her husband, near Wadesville, Clarke Co., Mrs. Rebecca LOCKE, aged 76 years, consort of Mr. John LOCKE, Sr., and daughter of the late Josiah RIDGWAY.

Thus passed away from earth, to the joys of the better land, an aged christian who had joy and peace in believing, with only one regret, that of leaving her lifetime companion behind. For fifty-two years had they shared each other's joys and griefs, sat by the same fireside, and kept on the calm and even"tenor of their way" with lives unmarked by any great excitements, with no sudden joys or startling sorrows or bereavements had they grown gray together. Mrs. Locke had been brought up in early life in the Quaker faith; and although she never united with any other, after marrying out of that church, her whole life without the profession, spent in acts of charity, good will and peace on earth, proclaimed her the true christian with no gift to speak of religion, "for unto all are not given the same gifts," yet the days of her life speak for her, in unblemished goodness and purity without one act of unkindness, ill-will of one person. or neglect of duty. During the whole course of her life she was never known to make an enemy or gain the ill-will of one person. She had not for many years left her home except upon an occasional visit to one of her children, and it was only to her numerous descendants and limited number of friends and neighbors, that her beautiful life of gentleness, meekness, love and piety was fully known. She leaves a husband, six children and thirty-six granchildren to mourn her loss, many of whom were with her to cheer her dying hours, and to attend the departing spirit to the confines of that shadowy land, into which human love cannot penetrate. The deep sympathy of many hearts goes out to the bereaved husband, the object of her only regret, who now for the first time in so many years sits beside a lonely hearth and vacant chair, but he too a christian and a pilgrim here, knows where to look for comfort. And I heart a voice from heaven saying unto me "write, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labor, and their works do follow them.. Rev. 14 c. 13 v.

The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. Wm. G. Eggleston. The year was 1867. Services were at M.E. Church, Brucetown.

John Locke, the husband's history is given on p. 411 of L.F.L. O.C.

Dear Members,

First, thank all of you who have renewed!

Second, am I glad I started this early because it has taken longer than any I have ever done I think! Glad too that it has been rainy so I couldn't get outdoors to do the weeds and windows!

Congratulations on your new grandson, Madeleine!

In 1990 I sent a story in to The Gen. Helper, "Bureau of Missing Persons" and recently had a response from IL. from Dorothy M, Youkon - sure enough she is doing my Locke line; she is just getting started but perhaps she has some records that have never surfaced before. I have had orders for a couple more books and have had input and exchanges on a couple of other lines. There is more to John Cooper's Diary that I printed six months of - a call from the one who has the original, Georgia Cooper, has promised to send the rest. Dig around in your attics and cupboards, particularly if you live in an old family home and see if there are records hid away that solve some "mysteries"!

The Parade is "heating up" - yes, my friend and I are doing that again this year and asking ourselves if 4 years won't be enough - but we don't see anyone in the wings clammering for our job. Darn!

Keep reading and writing and sending info. for me to share with you.

Happy, Productive Research to you all - Affectionately,
Orella

Madeleine Holt and Mary Jane Steinhagen are both tried and true researchers and both stress over and over again to be sure to check collateral lines; some have been written up quite extensively, sometimes what you get are just tidbits, but that can lead to bigger and better bits of information. Do any of you have the collateral lines of SEATON, LAMBERTON, HOSTSTEDLER, STUTSMANN, STUDEBAKER. PORTER, AUGENSTINE, SIDNER? These have all been found with LOCKE connections in OH, IN, IL. Check again and send any connections you find to your Editor for sorting out and printing, please.

Passengers & Immigration: (refers one then to PA. German Pioneers by Strausburger [929.1 S89p]):

pp 270-271

Present: The honourable George THOMAS, Esq., Lieut. Gov., Samuel HASELL, Andrew HAMILTON, Thos. GRIFFITTS, Wm. ALLEN, Esqs.

The Palatines whose Names are underwritten, imported in the ships..... Friendship, Wm. VITREY, Comr. & Loyal Judith, Edw. PAYNTER, Comr., from Rotterdam, but last from Deal in England, did on this day at the Courthouse of Philadelphia 3, Sep., 1739 take and subscribe the Oaths to the Government, viz., Names: p. 265 - Jacob LOCH, age 35; Johanis LOCH, age 16 (the ship's captain has to swear that they are at least 16 yrs.) These same two are 268 (Johanes, thus spelled, LOUCH) and again p. 271 - has to be the same two men because the ship, captain, place and date all same!

The ships may have travelled together, as on p. 269, on the Loyal Judith is John Peter LOUGH; the Capt. is Edward PAYNTER, the place and date are the same; on p. 265, all else being the same, except Peter is listed as LOCKE! See how that name gets twisted around, no wonder we are confused! And so, Madeleine writes as follows:

Yes, I've seen the PA GERMAN PIONEER's ship lists - and Strassberger-Hinke - and Carl Boyer's four volumes, which is my favorite. Of course, he has had many more records from which to work. Boyer found records that prove Locke to also be spelled LUDI. Interesting! I've found the name on ships lists but have found no connections so far. The Ott family story tells of the Lock's and the Ott's coming from Germany at the same time. I do find a Johann Peter Ludi arriving just two days before my Johann Michael Ott in 1751. There were Ludi, Luck, and Bastian arriving just twenty days later. This seems promising but it will take more research.

When we find LOCH/LOUGH on these German lists, I think we must remember that the clerk's in the ports, and on the ships were most all English-speaking and this is the way they heard the German's say Lack.

I've had a promising break in my research. I've made contact with descendants of John & Salome's one son who remained on the family farm when the rest of the family moved to Preble County, Ohio. A family of three children (their mother and I are 4th cousins) all live on that same farm which has never been out of the Lock family!! One son lives in the original home (with add-ons) while the other two have built new homes on the farm. They are less than a half-mile from Grace/St. Peter's Evangelical Churhc, now only known as just Rocky Hill Church and Cemetery. The old parish records (found by Helen Mencher) were compiled by Pastor Frederick Weiser while he was archivist at the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg, PA. Maybe I'll get a complete copy through this new source. Several places have a copy of it - they don't want to be bothered to copy it. And maybe I'll find the father of my Capt. John Lock!!!! Wish me luck!

AND WE CERTAINLY DO, MADELEINE! JUST KEEP ON SHARING, PLEASE!!!

MORE IN AUG.

Have you found a good solution to record-keeping?

The new genealogist is unhampered by this problem because they haven't realized yet that EVERY record should have a source. The following was a suggestion in The Genealogical Helper. Thought it looked pretty good, except if you do a lot of researching, you might want to have such a paper for each Line; you could make your own and adapt it to your needs. How many times have you gone to the library, picked out a book that you thought looked like a winner, only to discover you had already researched it at least once? Maybe a "tool" like this would be the answer!

The above is the same John LOCKE, from MA. and reported LFL, pp. 264, 271, 282. 3 of his sons were also stone masons.

LOCKE. John Lock of Roxburghshire who ~~rendered homage in~~ 1296 is probably the John Lok' who was juror on an inquest at Roxburgh in 1303 (Bain, II, p. 199, 376, 548.) His seal bears an eight-rayed figure and S' Joh'is Log. John Lock, professor of sacred theology in the University of St. Andrews in 1464 (SCM., v, p. 288), is probably the John Lok who appears in the same year and in 1474 as rector of the church of Fynnewyn or Futhnewyn (Finhaven) (REB., I, 196; II, 104), and in 1475 as professor of sacred theology and canon of Brechin (Soltre, p. 71). Johannes Lok, witness in Glasgow, 1504 (Simon, 68), George Lowk, tenant under the bishop of Glasgow in 1510 (Rental), Katherine Lok sold houses in Glasgow in 1544 (Protocols, I), and John Lock was burgess there in 1641 (Inquis., 2598). Cf. LUKE.

⇦ This area was known as "Locke"; the first settlers were from CT. and obtained their deeds from th Delaware-Connecticut Land Co.; deeds were finally obtained after a legal battle with REv. Rbert H. ROSE and paying him again for their land.

FROM N. C. MARRIAGES, 1760-1799, Vol. 1

Elizabeth LOCK to John GIBSON, 13 Jan 1775, Rowan Co.
John LOCK to Margaret LOCKE, 25 Jul 1779, Rowan Co.
Mary LOCK tp Edward RICHARDSON, 22 Jul 1986, Rowan Co.

This can't be a complete listing of Rowan Co. marriages for this time period - there were too many Lockes there even as early as the 1750's, according to Carolina Cradle for example.

Farmington, New Mexico is 114 yrs. this year, but according to this article written at 100 yrs. Wm. LOCKE was the "midwife; he is a bro. of my Gr.Grdf. John Burns. O.C.

By GEORGE B. BOWRA

Growing old is the result of time passing and with age comes a diminishing of ambition and vigor , but not so with the City of Farmington. Having reached its 100th birthday, Farmington is an exception to the rule of age being a destroyer of vigor and ambition. In response to the stimulus of age is an exhibition of vigor and effectiveness, for the city today is much more alive than it was a century ago.

The actual day of Farmington's birth is not known but the year was 1877 and William Locke could be called the "midwife."

Locke came to San Juan County that year and traded three ponies to Wright Leggett for his claim on a homestead, now the site of the City of Farmington. Having secured land, although at that time he had no title to the property, he began creating a farm and making movements of creating a town and a new community rich with farm potential.

In 1878 he set out the first orchard in the county, 84 acres of fruit trees and berries. Other settlers were coming to join the few who were here. By 1878 sufficient families were located and followed the pursuit of Locke and turned their attention to farming and built a ditch to irrigate their farms.

Hickman, having married Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Henry, fifth Lord Windsor, and had a son, Thomas, who succeeded his uncle (by limitation of the patent) as seventh Lord Windsor and was created Earl of Plymouth, 6 December, 1682. The title became extinct only on the death of the eighth earl, 8 December, 1843.

"Of the sons—

XI.—"Michael Locke became a merchant of eminence in London, and was twice married; first, to Joane (XI), daughter of William Wilkinson (XII), sheriff of London; and second, to Margery, widow of Dr. Caesar Adelmare, by whom she was the mother of the celebrated Sir Julius Caesar. Michael Locke had by his first wife five sons and three daughters, the eldest of whom, Zachary Locke, Esq., died in 1603 being then Member of Parliament for the Borough of Southwark.

"The interesting fact in the history of Michael Locke is that he was the original patron of the celebrated Sir Martin Frobisher in his earliest expeditions. Hakluyt's Voyages contains a 'History of Sir Martyn Frobishere's Voyage for the Discovery of a Passage Towards Cathay, in 1574, written by Michael Locke, Locke himself being a great adventurer therein;' and Hakluyt speaks thus of the map: 'The mappe is Master Michael Locke's, a man for his knowledge in divers languages, and especially in cosmographie, able to do his country good, and worthy in my judgment, for the manifolde good partes in him, of good reputation and better fortune.'

"In the Cottonian Library is a MS. written by this Michael Locke, in which he says that at the age of thirteen 'he was sent over the seas to Flanders and France. to learn their languages, and to know the world, since which time he has continued these 32 years to travel in body and mind. following his vocation in the trade of merchandize, passing through many countries, had the charge of and captain of a great ship of more than 1,000 tons, three years in divers voyages; and that he has more than 200 sheets of his travels.' He was living as late as 1611.

"The other son of Sir William, Henry Locke, was also a citizen and merchant of London. He married Anne Vaughan, and had issue a daughter Anne, who married Robert Moyle, of Cornwall, whose descendants intermarried with the St. Aubyns and Prideauxs, among the best families in that county; and two sons, viz: Michael, to whom the historian Hakluyt left a legacy in his will; and Henry Locke (or Lok), a poet of some note in his day, an edition of whose scarce productions was issued in 1871 by the Rev. Dr. Grosart." Here Col. Chester takes up the family of Sir William by his first wife; we will not follow that line, as it is remote from us. This history is continued from the article in the Gentleman's Magazine, already cited. It says: Michael Locke "was father, amongst other children, of X.—"Matthew Locke, who became seated at Pensford, in Buckinghamshire, and had two sons, Richard and Christopher. The former was of Bedminster in the county of Somerset, and, dying 1617, left John Locke, his son, Mayor of Bristol 1641, IX.—"Christopher Locke, the younger son (i. e., of Matthew) soon after Abbot Whiting's lands at East Brent were granted to the Whitmore family, was sent into that parish (which, as before observed, adjoins to Lockstown), to divide the forfeited estate into farms; and having laid out a valuable farm for himself at a place called Pilrow, built a large house, and became the stem of a very respectable family, whose baptisms, as by the parish register, are as follows:

"1.—Christopher, bapt. March 25, 1593, father, etc (here follows an account of the descendants).

"2.—John Locke, baptized August 1, 1595. * * * He became a captain of foot in the civil wars of Charles the First, and was killed at Bristol in 1645. He had two sons, one of whom died in his minority; the other was the judicious John Locke, the great metaphysician and philosopher;" also, a daughter, the mother of Lord Chancellor King.

"3.—Honour, bapt. August 21, 1597, and intermarrying with Francis Shepard, of Mark, became ancestor, etc. * * *

"4.—Christian, bapt. July 3, 1601; of whom we have no further account.

FIRST SETTLERS, ROWAN CO.

According to Carolina Cradle (Robert W. Ramsey, 975.69) by 1747 Spring at least 14 families (Irish) had settled west of the Yadkin R. in that part of N.C. that was to become Rowan Co. then Iredell Co.. These were CATHEYS, BRANDONS, GILLESPIES, GRAHAMS, SILLS, MARLINS, KENNEDYS, DOBBINS, BELLS, HOLMES', WITHROWS.

Most prominent among them were James CATHEY and son George, Sr., who were probably the first to settle so far from a navibale river and so far south, excluding Virginia. George, Sr. gave the land for the first church west of the Yadkin - Thyatira Presbyterian Church.

According to Ramsey, father James CATHEY'S first place of residence was Cecil Co., MD. between 1719-1724, when in 1724 he was referred to as of Chester Co., PA. By 1736 John, George, William, James were in Lancaster Co., PA - may not have moved as Lancaster was formed from Chester in 1729. They moved to Shenandoah Valley, VA. by 1738.

John BRANDON, a widower, and his three sons lived in Lancaster Co., 1733, Deleware 1739 and back to Lancaster Co. by 1740-41; about 1739 his son married Maley (Mary) CATHEY (son John, Jr. 22-yrs.) and he married Elizabeth LOCK. Elizabeth was a tavernkeeper, according to Chester Co. Tavern License Papers, (10 vols, 1700-54), Middletown Tsp., Lancaster Co. and John was "a husbandman" and tax collector for Hanover Tsp. 1736, 1737, 1744 and constable 1745.

In 1748 or early spring 1749 Brandon took his family of Brandons and Locks and, following the Great Wagon Road, made his way to Grants Crk., a tributary of the Yadkin R. and settled six miles east of Jms. Cathey's house. This is the most interesting history of this area your editor has seen. It is well-documented by Ramsey and cites much information not seen elsewhere. He calls these people Irish and documents some of the many intermarriages that took place in these lines that are so extricably interwoven. (See enlarged map on following page.)

From Oregon Donation Land Claims (979.531)

> "Sec. 4 - And be it further enacted That there shall be, and hereby is, granted to every settler or occupant of the public lands, American half-breed Indians included, above the age of 18 years, being a citizen of the United States or having made declaration on or before the first day of December, 1850, and who shall have resided upon and cultivated the same for four consecutive years, and shall otherwise conform to the provisions of this act, the quantity of 1/2 section or 320 acres of land, if a single man, and if a married man, or if he shall become married within a year from the first day of December, 1850, the quantity of one section or 640 acres, one half to himself and the other half to his wife to be held by her own right, and the Surveyor General shall designate the part innuring to the husband and that to the wife and enter the same on the records of his office; and in all cases where such married person have complied with the provisions of this act, so as to entitle them to the grant as above provided, whether under the late Provisional Government of Oregon, or since, and either shall have died before patent is issued, the survivor and children, or heirs, of the deceased shall be entitled to the share or interests of the deceased in equal proportions, except when the deceased shall otherwise dispose of it by testament duly and properly executed according to the law of Oregon."
> "Sec. 5 - And be it further enacted That to all white male citizens of the United States, or persons who shall have made declaration of intention to become such, above the age of 21 years, emigrating to and settling in said Territory between the 1st Day of December 1850 and the 1st Day of December 1853, and to all white Male American citizens not hereinbefore provided for becoming 21 years of age in said Territory and settling there between the time aforesaid, who shall in other respects comply with the foregoing section and the provisions of this law, there shall be, and hereby is granted the quantity of 1/4 section or 160 acres of land, if a single man; and if married, or if he shall become married within one year from the time of arriving in said Territory, or within one year after becoming 21 years of age as aforesaid, then the quantity of 1/2 section or 320 acres, one-half to the husband and the other half to the wife in her own right, to be designated by the Surveyor General aforesaid."

In February 1853, the donation law was so amended that the Surveyor General might receive money ($1.25 per acre) after two years of occupancy (instead of the previous four) of the land to complete requirements for claim, the rights of the claimant in the event of his death to descend to heirs at law as before. Widows of men who if theyhad lived would have been entitled to claim under the original act were granted all that their husbands would have been entitled to receive had they lived and their heirs after them. The time fixed for the expiration of the donation privileges of the donation act was April 1855.

The last amendment, July 1854, granted to orphan children of the earliest immigrants who died before passage of the act, September 27, 1850, grants of land, the donation being 160 acres each. This act extended to the territory of Washington all provisions of the Oregon land law or any amendments.

THOMAS & GRIZELLA LOCK STORY

*Thomas LOCKE married Grizella GARDNER 14 Dec. 1828, Marion Co., OH. Their first child John Burns was born there 4 Oct. 1829; before the 1830 census was taken, they were living in LaGrange Co., IN.(Ch. VII, A Hist. & Biog. Hist of LaGrange Co., p. 136). It might also be noted that Thomas and his brother William married sisters (Grizella and Rachael GARDNER, see their story elsewhere in this volume) However, Wm. and Rachael stayed in Michigan, across the border from Lima, IN, where Thomas and "Grizzy" were by the 1830 Census.

In that Census Thomas has, besides himself, wife Grizella (ages 30-40): John Burns (under 5), a male (5-10) possibly his nephew Thomas, son of Samuel and Mary (MURRAY); another male (20-30), possibly Thomas's half-brother Aaron, because he didn't marry until 1833; a female (5-10) possibly Nancy sister to/nephew Thomas (Information comes from Rev. Orrin Wade Sidener's book. "The Story of a Dozen Generations", censuses and tax lists.)

Rev. Sidener attributes the following children to this family, parents unknown: Samuel born about 1793, married Mary MURRAY 1815, OH: children: Nancy born 25 April 1816 Married 14 Oct. 1835 Marion Co. OH. George Martin EYESTONE/AUGENSTINE, moved to Fayette Co., IL.), died there 22 Oct. 1897.

Mary "Polly" born 16 Mar, 1795, PA.(m. 1/ John DILLY 5 Mar. 1817, lived Fayette Co., OH, probably until he died; m. 2 John George SIDENER/18 Oct 1824 in Marion Co., OH in 1839 moved to Wheatland Tsp., Fayette Co., IL.) An older Thos. LOCKE was in Fayette Co., OH, near Mary, m. a widow, Fanny WILLIAMS and possibly had Silas and Aaron before his death before 1820 CEnsus, when Fanny is head of household. (We first thought this was perhaps father of all these LOCKS, that after the death of his first wife, Thos. had gone to live near his eldest daughter Mary - still a possibility.)

William (Rev. Sidener says b. 1802; however his headstone in Adams Cem., Burr Oak, MI. says b. 25 Apr. 1794, d. 30 Jul. 1869) married Rachael GARDNER, according to History of St. Joseph Co., MI., the first white marriage in the County.

Elizabeth b. about 1799 was included by Rev. Sidener, but nothing more is known of her.

Thomas b. about 1801 (49 on 1850 Cen.) m. Grizella GARDNER 14 Dec. 1828, Marion Co., OH., in LaGrange Co., IN. by 1830, still there in 1840, but in McDonough Co., IL by 1850 Cen. Some time ago your Editor purchased a pamphlet an Index to the Wills of Berkley Co., W.V., 1774-1880, Dale Walton Morrow. Berkley Co. was formed in 1772 from the parent county of Frederick; it became a part of W. VA. in 1863 during the Civil War when that portion of VA. broke away from the parent state. If you are interested in specific documents as listed below, you can write Clerk's Office, Berkeley Co. Courthouse, Martinsburg, WV. 25401 or phone 1-304-267-3000 and ask for the document and what the cost would be. LOCK, LOCKE documents are "w" for will and "f" stands for other documents like an estate, sale, invention, etc. Each "f" stands for one document:

Dear Fellow Researchers & "Cuzzes",

I am running late for too many reasons to enumerate in this brief note to you. Really, I very much enjoy hearing from all of you and appreciate your taking the time to write. Especially, I enjoy it when you send something I can share with the rest. You aren't getting full benefit from your membership though if you don't send queries and ancestor charts....AND I WANT YOU TO GET ALL THE BENEFIT POSSIBLE!!

It was my pleasure/enjoyment to go to the National Genealogical Society 1991 Conference three of the four days it was held in Portland - a 75 mile drive from my home, though I didn't drive back and forth all three days. What a schedule and what a learning event it was! There were at least two choices and more often than not, three choices to make as to what you could partake of. I learned so much in such a short time - don't ever miss it if it comes near your area. I joined and when I can get everything organizaed want to send them information on what we are doing to make even more geneologists aware of us and hopefully gain new information. One of the most delightful parts was meeting two distant relatives that I had corresponded with for years without having met them. Both of them conducted workshops; one of them with the help of another teacher have compiled a course of study to be used in the classroom.....results? Youngsters feel a connection with family and have a feeling of worth/value they may have never felt before. Christine Rose gave sources to check in courthouses that I had never seen nor heard of; I'll share soon!

Hope your summer has been good and not as busy as mine - I haven't had time to stop and smell the roses! Hope to hear from all of you soon.

Affectionately, Orella

McDonough Co., IL. is printing another county Heritage History; submissions could be two pages double-spaced. Maxine Goodpasture asked me to compile the information. There was so much on them in that county that your editor did it on the parents, Thomas & Grizella Lock that were in LFL in May. Thomas Jefferson and wife Elisabeth never left the area as most of the others did, so wrote two stories.

THOMAS JEFFERSON LOCK & ELIZABETH BROWN

Thomas Jefferson LOCK (the "e" was not added until they lived in Illinois) was born to Thomas LOCK & Grizella GARDNER 8 Aug. 1840, Lima Tsp., LaGrange Co., IN; d. 7 May 1924, Macomb, IL., buried Oakwood Cemetery, Macomb; married 3 Apr. 1862 McDonough Co., IL. Elizabeth BROWN (dau. Daniel & Naoma Cordelia [SHIELDS] BROWN)

Jefferson met Elizabeth when her family moved to Hire Tsp., McDonough Co. from Fulton Co., IL. in 1856. After their marriage, they farmed in Hire Tsp. and their children started to school in the little country school called Thompson College, which still stands. Later the family moved to the old Thoms LOCK place in Sec. 34 of Blandinsville Tsp. and after farming there for some years moved to a farm in Sec. 11 of Emmet TSp. The next and last farm was in Sec. 32 of Walnut Grove Tsp. They retired to 603 N. Calhoun St. in Macomb, IL. about 1900. Elizabeth suffered a fatal heart seizure while sitting in a rocking chair at her daughter's. Jefferson later remarried and remained active operating a grocery store.

Their children were: Lucy Elveretta b. 18 Apr 1863, Hire Tsp., McDonough C., IL; d. 7 Aug 1942, Good Hope, IL.; bur. Oakwood Cem., Macomb, IL.; m. 12 Dec 1889 at Macomb, Thomas Barnet PAULSGROVE. CONCLUSION OF MAYES/LOCKE CONNECTIONS:

THE FAMILY OF MAYES

VIII.—"5. Lewis Locke, baptized July 13, 1606; was buried at Taunton Saint Mary Magdalen, March .7, 1692. By four wives he had thirty-five children, most of whom lived to be men and women; and what is more remarkable, his eldest son, John, born 1625, was fifty-nine years of age, when his youngest child, Christopher, was born at Taunton, anno. 1684. It is reported in the family that John had a great-grandson as old as his younger brother. * * *

VII.—William Locke, of Pitminster, near Taunton, was son of Lewis by his fourth wife. He married Dorothy (VII), daughter of Richard Cooksley (VIII), of Dunstar, Gentleman; and died January 25, 1719, aged 49. His only son,

VI.—"Richard Locke married Hannah (VI), the only daughter of John Dod (VII), of Burnham in the county of Somerset, Gentleman, and became an inhabitant of that parish. He died 1765 aged 59, leaving the present (1792) Richard Locke Esq., of Highbridge House in Burnham, his son and heir. * * * The arms borne by this branch of the family are: Party per fesse, Azure and Or, a pale between three falcons indorsed, counterchanged. Crest; a falcon of the same with a padlock in its beak."

V.—William Locke, son of the above, was born about 1730, emigrated to Virginia and there about 1770 married Agnes Thweatt (V), daughter of Drury Hardaway (VI), of Bristol parish, Dinwiddie county. He was a valiant soldier in the Revolutionary army; and died shortly after the peace, about 1785. He left a widow, five daughters and one son named Richard. The widow and all the children save one, moved to Tennessee. There Richard, the son, died unmarried.

IV.—Agnes Thweat Locke, daughter of the above, was born in 1771, married Robert C. Mayes, in the year 1789. In 1794 she moved with her husband to Kentucky, and there she died, at Cadiz, Ky., in the residence of her second son, Matthew Mayes, on the 18th September, 1857, aged 86 years.

Mary Jane Steinhagen sent the following: Amelia Co., VA. Mar. Bk. #4:

Wm. #V to left, dau. Agnes THEATT LOCKE (parent Elizabeth CARDLE) 16 Feb 1789 m Robert MAYES. Does that mean Wm. was m. to Elizabeth CARDLE? That Agnes's 2nd name THEATT or that she m. Robert MAYES 2nd - that is what the Marriage Record intimates but not the Mayes History. By that History, Agnes's 2nd name was Theatt for her Mother's maiden name, which was a common practice. The mystery is the Elizabeth CARDLE named as "parent" on the Marriage Record. Are any of you research these lines?

Immediately following the last Quarterly, Mary Jane Steinhagen (1309 Titania Lane, McLean, VA. 22102-2750) wrote the following:

Got "LFL" today and repeat and denounce Elizabeth LOCKE having a tavern-keeper's license, as stated in Carolina Cradle. The story is this:
Hoping to get additional information about Elizabeth LOCK, I wrote several related genealogical societies, including Bucks, Berks and Chester societies. Their societies are very good and their staffs very competent. The answers to my letters gave the following:
1/the name on the petition is Elizabeth LUCK; she was a well-known and well-educated Quakeress.
2/the petition was seeking for the county not to allow another tavern to be opened in the area.
3/the staff member who wrote a page-long reply said that she thought someone had mis-read not only the signature but the intention of the petition and had sent it to Dr. Ramsey, who printed it without further verification.
4/the society said they had had other inquiries and that this subject had been thoroughly researched.
5/the society has lots of information about Elizabeth LUCK, the Quakeress, who was something of a "crusader" for her day. They stated this was definitely not Elizabeth LOCK, the widow of John LOCK. We'll bury that again.

On p. 462 of same, Quarterly, there should be clarification on who was "IRISH" because many of these were Scotch-Irish and Eng.-Irish. Most of these had migrated to Northern Ireland years before for religious freedom.

FOREWORD

This is the story of John Loch. The story of a man who fought in the American Revolution and of his family and of his descendants.

As a descendant of John Loch I gained membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution. I am passing this information on so that other members of our family may know their eligibility to this same organization as well as their eligibility to the Sons of the American Revolution. I am a member of Timothy Ball chapter, D.A.R., in Hammond, Indiana. My national number is 302115 and all information may be obtained from my paper by writing to the Registrar of the Hammond, Indiana, chapter. The registrars keep all papers in their possession.

One grandson of John Loch is living today. The fact that an own grandson of a Revolutionary soldier survives is of national importance and has been featured in nationally known magazines. Cassius Marcus Locke of Minneapolis, Minnesota is such a person. He is in possession of the waffle iron and stoolyards which our ancestor and his grandfather, John Loch, used when he served in George Washington's commissary department. The story of Cassius Locke appears on the last page of this history, Page 81.

The material from which these memoirs are compiled was mostly collected from the older members of our families and their family Bibles. It has been verified through the Newberry Genealogy Library in Chicago; the Indiana State Library in Indianapolis; the City Library at Rochester, Minnesota; and the Coshocton County Courthouse at Coshocton, Ohio.

In presenting the facts herewith, I have given the information exactly as presented and verified. Naturally more information was available as concerns my own immediate lineage and so I have given more. Some of the branches of the family seemed to have been lost in the mist of time. Any omissions which may occur were purely unintentional, and I should be glad to know of any authentic additions which may exist.

PREFACE

The foresight of Grace (Linson) Miller in compiling "Our Family Tree" in 1938 was a wonderful contribution to all her relatives and ancestors. In order to keep all this history alive for our generation, and those to follow, I have attempted to make this writing as near as possible to that written by Grace. Naturally, by 1990, some 62 years later, there have been many more families to be added.

(Con't. p. 482)

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN LOCH AND MARY ANN RAIDER LOCH

The first member of the Loch family to settle in the United States was Jacob. He came from Germany on the ship, Loyal Judith, in 1739 at the age of thirty-five and settled in Pennsylvania. With him was his young son, Johanis (John) aged sixteen. A number of years later the Lochs moved to Hagerstown, Maryland, where Johanis was married. His first child was born in 1752 and was named for the father, Johanis (John).

John Loch, the second, was born and reared in Hagerstown, Maryland; but after he was grown, he moved with his parents to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. John had four brothers and five sisters. One of the sisters married Mr. Longeneker and was the mother of several sons and daughters. Another sister married Mr. Kinsler and was the mother of three children: Two sons, Chapman and William; and one daughter, who married Mr. Seipinger. Mr. Seipinger was a stock dealer and lived in Woodstock, Virginia. Another of John Loch's sisters married a Mr. Riddle. They were the parents of five children, two sons and three daughters. One of Mr. and Mrs. Riddle's daughters married Mr. Carlin. Another daughter, Louise, was reared by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stover. Mr. and Mrs. Stover were childless and at their death Louise fell heir to their vast estate. In 1861 she was residing in a lovely mansion near Woodstock, Virginia, which later was confiscated by the Union Army for officer's quarters. William Howbert did all he could to save her property from the ravages of the Civil War.

(A-1) John Loch was first married to Mary Ann Raider of Rockingham County, Virginia. Mary Ann was the descendant of an old Virginia family. This family donated a large tract of land where one of the largest churches at that time in the state of Virginia was built. It was known as "Raider's Church" and quite a complete history of this organization may be found in the Histories of Virginia Churches. The well known contemporary evangelist, Paul Rader, visited the Colorado home of John Nelson Fitch of our Fitch family at one time and mentioned that he, Paul Rader, was from the same tree. There are a number of ministers in the Raider family and during the Revolution there were several commissioned army officers of high rank. Mary Ann Raider Loch had four brothers and five sisters. John Rader, her brother, was a physician and local Methodist preacher. He had a large family, several members of which were Methodist ministers.

John Loch served in the Revolutionary War as an aide to General Washington and was a member of his commissariat. He enlisted in the army at the beginning of the War of 1776 while living a few miles northwest of Harrisonburg, Virginia, between Mucey Creek, Mount Clinton, and Warbranch in Rockingham County. The Commonwealth of Virginia, at a special session of the General Assembly of the House of Delegates, gave John Loch an extra compensation to help care for him in his informity. This special award would indicate that his services as an aide were valued.

John Loch served until the end of the war. He moved his family to Coshocton, Ohio, in 1829 and was married the second time to Dica Murphy. John Loch died in Coshocton, Ohio, in 1834 and is buried there. We have not been able to find just where and when the first wife, Mary Ann Raider Loch died; neither do we know if there were any Loch children by the second wife.

(A-1) John and Mary Ann Loch (Lock) were the parents of six children: (B-1) Elizabeth, (B-2) Millie, (B-3) William, (B-4) Mary Ann (Polly), (B-5) Margaret (Peggy), and (B-6) David.

(C-7) Laura, the next child of David and Adeline Loch, married Dr. William Brown. Dr. William and Laura Brown (C-7) are the parents of one child; (D-1) Dr. Dean C. Brown, who lives in California.

(C-8 and C-9) Dr. David and Dr. Samuel, the twin sons of David and Adeline Loch, were both graduated from Harnnemain Medical college of Chicago. It was while David and Samuel were in college that the spelling of "Loch" was changed to "Locke". This change was induced by one of the professors whose name was "Locke".

We have always had a great amount of respect and esteem for these two doctors, cousins of our father, as they saved his life in 1902 after the doctors in our hometown had exhausted all means of a cure.

Dr. David practiced medicine in Minnesota for forty-five years. He died in 1927. Dr. Samuel also practiced medicine in Minnesota. He died in November 1937.

(C-10) Cassius Marcus, the youngest child of David and Adeline Loch, married Roberta Pratt. He graduated from the University of Minnesota and for many years has been owner and manager of the Minneapolis Shade Cloth Co. These members of the family who are acquainted at Columbus, Indiana, will appreciate the fact that Cassius Locke and Cassius Cooper, a well known attorney in Columbus, were born on the same day and thus were given the same name by their fathers, who were friends.

Cassius supplied a great amount of information that made it possible for us to start the investigation which led to the knowledge of our Revolutionary soldier ancestor, to our membership in the D.A.R. and to the writing of this history.

Cassius has in his possession a waffle iron and a pair of stoolyards which belonged to John Loch, his own grandfather and the ancestor of every person mentioned in this history. John Loch used these two types of articles when he was serving in George Washington's commissary department, and Cassius Locke has fallen heir to the very articles which were used to serve George Washington.

Cassius is the only surviving child of David Loch and the only surviving grandchild of John Loch and Mary Ann Raider Loch. And although he is not the oldest living member of the family, he is the senior member of the entire family as the last representative of the grandchildren of John Loch.

Recently a nationally known magazine published an article about a man who was the grandson of a Revolutionary soldier and claimed that the survival of such a near relative of the Revolution is very unusual. Cassius Locke of our own family is such a person.

May Cassius have many more happy years!

Therefore, I have used the original "Our Family Tree" for the first part of the text (as written by Grace). Then in the second part I have included another family lineage of John Loch and Mary Ann Raider Loch which Grace had not located. The missing lineage was that of William Loch, a Civil War soldier, Thirty-Seventh Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry, Company "G", who was the eldest son and the 5th child of this Loch Family. Other pertinent information has come to light since the original history was written, and this too has been set out in the second part.

The pages of this history are being punched for a loose leaf binder, thus making it possible for families having ancestors in this book to record their own data as well as for future generations. I recommend that personal information about one's family be written for this is a great heritage for those children and grandchildren who will follow.

THE DAVID LOCH LINE

(B-6) David, the youngest child of John and Mary Ann Loch, married Adeline Stafford.

David was born in 1808 in Rockingham County, Virginia. In 1829 he moved to Coshocton County, Ohio, with his parents. After his father's death in 1834 he, with other members of his family, moved to Columbus, Indiana, where he obtained a land grant from the government for eighty acres of land. He married Adeline Stafford.

For a period of time David was superintendent of the County Infirmary at Columbus, Indiana. During that time he and his wife lost two sons in the Civil War. The train men were ordered to stop the train in the country near the Infirmary and the bodies of John and Frank Loch were carried down the lane to the home of their parents. The county paid much tribute to the Pa. R.R. Co. for this especial kindness.

In 1855 David made a trip to Minnesota. He returned and later induced his son, Lyman, his two nephews, Nelson Fitch and William Harvey Crowe, and Edwin Crowe to return to Minnesota with him. William Crowe drove Lyman Loch's team and Lyman, Nelson, and Edwin walked and drove the cattle from Indiana to Minnesota. William and Edwin had just one dollar between them.

David (B-6) and Adeline Loch were the parents of ten children; (C-1) Lyman, (C-2) Elizabeth, (C-3) Frank, (C-4) John Milton, (C-5)Ella, (C-6) William, (C-7) Laura, (C-8) Dr. David Albert, and his twin (C-9) Dr. Samuel Allen, and (C-10) Cassius Marcus.

(C-1) Lyman, the eldest child of David and Adeline Loch, married Susan Carter. He served in the Civil War from 1861 until the end.

Lyman (C-1) and Susan were the parents of six children (D-1) Frank, who is located at Billingham, Washington; (D-2) Arthur, who is located at Tacoma, Washington; (D-3) Adeline, who married Mr. Aldrich and is now deceased; (D-4) Cassius M., who is located in Minneapolis, Minn.; (D-5) Joseph H. of Minneapolis; (D-6) Mary, who married Mr. Champlin and lives in Minneapolis.

(C-2) Elizabeth, the next child of David and Adeline Loch, married George Dye.

Elizabeth (C-2) and George Dye were the parents of six children; (D-1)Oldest son--? (D-2) Eugene, (D-3) Airy, (D-4) Albert, (D-5) Allen, and (D-6) Minnie, the youngest child lives in California.

(C-3) Frank, the next child of David and Adeline Loch, died in the Civil War.

(C-4) John Milton, the next child of David and Adelina Loch, died in the Civil War.

(C-5) Ella, the next child of David and Adeline Loch, who was a maiden was well known in Minneapolis as an artist. She died in 1907.

(C-6) William, the next child of David and Adelina Loch, married Grace Brown. William was a Methodist Episcopalminister. He was a graduate of the University of Minnesota and of Garrett Bible Institute of Evanston, Illinois. He held different charges for the Methodist church for forty years.

When Vanita Hicks sent the foregoing information, she commented, "I'm sending you the Preface written by Evelyn Pugh, the lady in Indiana who did all the work (she is descended through Mary Ann "Polly" Lock Fitch's daughter Millie Catherin who married Wm. A Linson). Also included is the Forword by Grace Linson Miller's 1938 version.

"Page 1, Descendandants of John LOCK and Mary Ann RAIDER LOCH is Grace Miller's work and page 83 (see bottom of page), the family chart and table of contents was made by Evelyn. (family charts will be published in Nov.) It gives only two generations, but someone may recognize a name. She (Evelyn) didn't have any information on Wm., so actually everything in the book is what I sent her.

"There are only two pages on the David LOCH family so I have enclosed them; thus, you have the info. on the two bros. If anyone goes back to any of these LOCHS I would be glad to look up anything for them and would appreciate additional info. on these lines.

"If anyone would like to buy the book, Evelyn's address is:

The following from Dictionary of National Biography, edited by Sidney Lee Vol. XXXIV, McMillan & Co., N. Y., 1893

LOK, LOCK, or LOCKE, HENRY (1553?–1608?), poet, was third son of Henry Lok, a London mercer (d. 1571), by his wife Anne Vaughan. The latter is doubtless the 'A. L.,' i.e. Anne Lok or Locke, who translated into English verse Calvin's 'Sermons upon the Song that Ezechias made after he had been sick and afflicted by the Hand of God' (London, John Daye, 1550). At the close of the book a fresh title-page introduces 'A Meditation of a penitent Sinner, written in manner of a Paraphrase after the 51 Psalm of David.' A copy of the volume belonged to Bright, the book-collector, and contained the inscription 'Liber Henrici Lock ex dono Anne uxoris suæ 1559.' Michael Lok [q. v.] the traveller was the poet's uncle, and Sir William Lok [q. v.] was his grandfather; Michael Cosworth [q. v.] was his cousin. According to Wood, Lok spent some time in Oxford between his sixteenth and twenty-first year, but does not seem to have matriculated in the university, and certainly took no degree. Wood states that on leaving Oxford he went to court and 'was received into the patronage of a noble Mæcænas.' In 1591 he contributed a sonnet to the 'Essayes of a Prentice,' by James VI of Scotland. In the years following Lok seems to have been a persistent petitioner for place about the court. Early in 1597 he was, according to his own account, encouraged by the Countess of Warwick to make application to Sir Robert Cecil for 'some pension, till an office or forfeiture may fall to my relief.' Early in 1598 he petitioned for the 'collectorship of Devon.' On 8 June 1598 he begged for the appointment of keeper of the queen's bears and mastiffs. 'It is better to be a bear herd,' he wrote, 'than to be baited daily with great exclamations for small debts.' Lok's appeals resulted in his obtaining some confidential employment. In 1599, when Cecil made him a present of a gelding, he spent the spring at Bayonne and the neighbourhood, collecting political gossip. He was skilled in cipher, but his zeal in seeking 'intelligence' exposed him to the hostile suspicions of the inhabitants, and at one time his life seems to have been in danger (State Paper MSS. Dom. Eliz. cclxxi. 91, 125, 273). A year later he was living in the Strand, and seems to have fallen into bad repute with Cecil, whom he vainly implored to employ him again in secret service at foreign ports. In March 1606 he was imprisoned as an insolvent debtor in the Westminster Gatehouse, and in May 1608 he was similarly situated in the Clink in Southwark. Piteous appeals for relief to his old protector, now Earl of Salisbury, seem to have been unavailing.

Lok married Ann Moyle of Cornwall, and had two sons, Henry, born in 1592, and Charles.

In 1593 Richard Field obtained a license to print a work entitled 'The first Parte of Christian Passions, conteyninge a hundred Sonnets of Meditation, Humiliation, and Prayer.' No copy of this book is now extant. In 1597 Richard Field printed 'Ecclesiasticus, otherwise called the Preacher, compendiously abridged, and also paraphristically dilated in English Poesie . . . composed by H. L., Gentleman. Whereunto are annexed sundrie Sonets of Christian Passions heretofore printed, and now corrected and augmented, with other affectionate Sonets of a feeling Conscience of the same Authors' (London, 4to).

The whole work is dedicated by Lok to Queen Elizabeth. An address to the Christian reader, in which he refers familiarly to earlier paraphrases of 'Ecclesiastes' by Beza, Tremellius, and others, is followed by commendatory verses, including some in Latin, by John Lyly, and others in English by 'M.C.,' i.e. Michael Cosworth, Lok's cousin. Lok's verse-rendering of 'Ecclesiastes' is very poor, and is quite unreadable, rarely rising above doggerel. With it are printed 'Sundry Psalms of David, translated into Verse as briefly and significantly as the scope of the Text will suffer.' These efforts are no more successful, and justify Warton's description of Lok's as the English Mævius. Lok's works, like those of Thomas Hudson [q. v.], are described in 'The Returne from Parnassus' (1601) as fit 'to lie in some old nooks amongst old boots and shoes' (ed. Macray, p. 86). But Lok's sonnets, which are introduced by a separate title-page in the 'Ecclesiasticus' volume, though prosaic in expression, are full of fervent piety. Two hundred and four treat of the Christian passions, and these are succeeded by 102, entitled 'Sundry Affectionate Sonets of a feeling Conscience, and the same theme is pursued in a further sequence of twenty-two, entitled 'Peculiar Prayers.' Copies of Lok's volume are in the British Museum, the Bodleian Library, Bridgewater House, and in the possession of Dr. Grosart. The three last copies contain an appendix of sixty secular sonnets, addressed to the noblemen and noblewomen, and high officials of Elizabeth's court, including judges and bishops (Whitgift and Toby Matthew of Durham). Dr. Lancelot Andrewes, Sir Walter Raleigh, Sir John Norris, Sir Francis Vere, Sir Edward Dyer, and Fulke Greville are also commemorated. The series concludes with a sonnet addressed 'to all other his honourable and beloved friends in general.' Dr. Grosart reprinted all these sonnets, together with the one prefixed to James VI's volume, in his 'Miscellanies of the Fuller Worthies' Library,' vol. ii. 1871. Lok also contributed commendatory verses to Cosworth's rendering of the Psalms, in Harleian MS. 6906. He has been erroneously identified with the author of a poetical volume called 'Of Love's Complaints with the Legend of Orpheus and Euridice,' London, 1597, 12mo. The dedication is signed 'H. L.,' but these initials are those of Humfrey Lownes, the publisher.

[Dr. Grosart's Memoir in the reprint noticed above; Collier's Bibliographical Account, i. 478, 494; Cal. State Papers, Dom. 1597–1608; Addit. MS. 24489, ff. 381 seq. LOK, MICHAEL (fl. 1615), traveller, was a younger son of Sir William Lok [q. v.] According to memorials presented by Michael Lok in 1576 and on 26 May 1577 (Cal. State Papers, East Indies), he was kept at school until 1545, when he was thirteen. His father then sent him to Flanders and France. After being seven years in Flanders he went in 1552 to Spain, following his business as a merchant, and there and at Lisbon had opportunities of seeing 'the marvellous great trade of the Spanish West Indies, and the great traffic into the East Indies.' During twenty-four years 'he travelled through almost all the countries of Christianity,' and was 'captain of a ship of one thousand tons in divers voyages in the Levant.' He also studied history, languages, and 'all matters appertaining to the traffic of merchants, and spent more than 500*l.* in books, maps, charts, and instruments.' His boast is corroborated by Hakluyt (Divers Voyages to America, Hakluyt Soc., p. 18), who speaks of him as 'a man for his knowledge in divers languages, and especially in cosmography, able to do his country good, and worthy, in my judgment, for the manifold good parts in him, of good reputation and better fortune.'

In the course of his many voyages he had already made the acquaintance of Martin Frobisher [q. v.], and in 1576 entered warmly into the scheme for the voyage to the north-west, supplying many of the necessaries at his own cost. When the Cathay Company was formed in March 1577, Lok was appointed governor for six years. The venture, however, entirely failed, and in January 1579 he had to petition the privy council for relief and assistance (Cal. State Papers, East Indies). For the past three years, he wrote, he had taken charge of all the business of Frobisher's voyages; of his own money he had expended some 7,500*l.*, 'all the goods he had in the world, whereby himself, his wife, and fifteen children are left to beg their bread.' On this petition 430*l.* was allowed him in February 1579; but in June 1581 he was again petitioning the privy council, being a prisoner in the Fleet, condemned at the suit of William Borough to pay 200*l.* for a ship bought for Frobisher's last voyage, 'which is not the petitioner's debt.' He was also bound for a debt of nearly 3,000*l.*, 'still owing by the company of adventurers.' He was still petitioning in November, when he had been six months in prison (ib. pp. 63, 70). Of his release there is no account; but he does not seem to have recovered his money, and as late as 1614–15 he was still being sued for a debt of 200*l.* due for stores supplied to Frobisher's ships (Exchequer Decrees and Orders, 12–13 Jac. I).

In 1587–8 Lok was in Dublin, and in 1592 went out to Aleppo under an engagement as consul for the Levant Company for four years. After two years, however, the appointment was summarily cancelled, by the intrigues—as Lok asserted—of one Dorrington, in the employment of Sir John Spenser, alderman of London (Addit. MS. 12497; Zachary Lok to Cecil, 9 Dec. 1598, in Cal. State Papers, Dom.) He claimed the full amount of his salary for the four years; but in 1599 he was still claiming it, nor does it appear that he was ever paid. In 1603 Lok's son Zachary died, bequeathing him his seal, his black coat lined with plush, and all his books. On 29 June 1608 Lok wrote to the Earl of Salisbury, sending him intelligence of the warlike preparations of the king of Spain (ib.), and in 1614–15 he was still defending an action as to the debts of the Cathay Company. He was then eighty-three, and doubtless died shortly afterwards.

Lok married, first, Joan, daughter of William Wilkinson, sheriff of London. She died 1571, leaving several children, of whom eight are named in her will (dated 9 Feb. 1570–1, proved by Lok 6 April 1571). He married, secondly, Mary (or Margaret), daughter of Martin Perient, treasurer to the army in Ireland, widow of Cæsar Adelmare (d. 1569), and mother of Julius Cæsar [q. v.] the judge. In 1579 Lok described himself, in his petitions, as having a wife and fifteen children. An essay, 'An conveniens sit Matrimonium inter Puellam et Senem' (Add. MS. 12503), which he wrote in 1583, might be thought to imply that he was meditating a third marriage in his old age. Besides this essay, he translated into English part of Peter Martyr's 'Historie of the West Indies,' which was published in 1612. Lok's name is here spelt as he signed it.

[Authorities in the text: notes and references kindly communicated by Mr. W. Noel Sainsbury and Mr. G. E. Cokayne.] J. K. L.

LOK, SIR WILLIAM (1480–1550), London merchant, was son of Thomas Lok, mercer of London, and grandson of John Lok, sheriff of London in 1460 (cf. will of Zachary Lok, 1603, in Somerset House). From the grandfather also descended John Locke, mayor of Bristol in 1642, who was 'a sort of cousin' of the father of John Locke [q. v.] the philosopher. William was, like his father, brought up as a mercer, and became sworn mercer and agent to Henry VIII beyond the seas. In May 1520 he supplied much cloth of silver for the queen's use (Henry VIII's Letters and Papers, vol. iii. pt. i. p. 852). In 1521 he figured among the Duke of Buckingham's creditors (ib. vol. iii. pt. i. p. 1285). On 7 March 1526–7 he received a license to import cloth of gold and silver, silks, and jewels for the king, and in November 1527 supplied stuffs for the court revels. In 1529 and the following years he spent some time on business at Bergen-op-Zoom, and from that town and from Antwerp sent many interesting letters of intelligence to Cromwell or the king between 1532 and 1537. While on business at Dunkirk in December 1533 he pulled down the papal bull excommunicating Henry VIII, a service which the king acknowledged by giving him 100*l.* a year, and making him a gentleman of the privy chamber (GRAFTON, Chron. p. 1222; BRAMSTON, Autobiography, pp. 8–9). Henry also showed his regard for him by dining with him at his house. In 1536 he resided 'in Cheapside, at the sign of the Padlock.' On 29 Dec. 1537 he was granted by Henry part of the possessions of 'Elsyng Spittell.' He became an alderman of the city, and was elected sheriff in 1548, when he was knighted. On 10 Oct. 1549 he rode in the procession conveying the Duke of Somerset to the Tower (WRIOTHESLEY, Chronicles, ii. 27). He died in his house in Bow Lane on 24 Aug. 1550, and was buried on the 27th in the Mercers' Chapel in the church of St. Thomas Acres (MACHYN, Diary, i. 313). He married four times: (1) Alice Spencer (d. 1522); (2) Catherine, daughter of William Cooke of Salisbury (d. 14 Oct. 1537, and buried at St. Martin Abbey, Surrey); (3) Elinor, widow of Walter Marsh (d. 1546); and (4) Elizabeth (d. 1551), widow of one Hatton and of Robert Meredith successively. His fourth, like his first, wife was buried in Mercers' Chapel (cf. MACHYN, Diary, pp. 12, 323). He left issue by his first two wives: by the first, eight sons and one daughter, and by the second five sons and five daughters. Michael Lok [q. v.] and Henry Lok, father of Henry Lok [q. v.] the poet, were sons of the second marriage.

Mary Jane Steinhagen - Con't. from p. 479

For example, the CATHEYS were Scotchmen who had crossed to N. Ireland; the LOCKES and BRANDONS were English-Irish; people of English ancestory who had gone to N. Ireland, thence to the colonies. The LOCKES I am positive came through New Castle, DE. and then to Lancaster Co., PA. The administration of John LOCKE'S estate in Lancaster Co., PA shows he owned land in all three Deleware cos. New Castle, DE. was a port through which citizens of British Isles immigrated. Others who were not already citizens such as Germans, most often used Philadelphia as their port of arrival for that area of the colonies.

The LOCKES & BRANDONS were engaged in hauling wagon freight from Charleston, S.C. to the Yadkin/Rowan Co. area. (Notice on the map on p. 463 that "The Great Wagon Road" runs right through the area where these people lived in Rowan Co. There was a group of Brandons in Charleston, S.C. as well - so far we do not know the connection between the two families.

They were still engaged in this business of owning wagons and shipping freight during the Revolutionary War.

Thanks, Mary Jane for your corrections and comments, as always very helpful.

Part of Irish family?

Howard Locke

FAIRVIEW, Ill. — Howard C. Locke, 85, Fairview, died at 8 a.m. Wednesday, April 19, 1989, in the home of his son in Kokomo, Ind.

He was born Nov. 20, 1903, in Fulton County, the son of Harmon and Adelle (Cattron) Locke. Jan. 1, 1927, in Champaign, he married Dorothy H. Stewart, who died Dec. 11, 1978.

Locke was a retired farmer and president of Fulton County Farm Bureau and an honorary member of Illinois State Board of Health.

Surviving are two sons, Donald Locke of Kokomo and Fredrick Locke of Umatilla, Ore.; two grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Monday in Reform Church here. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday at Root Funeral Home here.

Ellers Mortuary handled arrangements in Kokomo.

ULSTERMEN OF IRELAND..........

We often think only of religious persecution as the cause of so many Ulstermen coming to the New World, but actually there were a number of reasons for this tide of Irish, Irish-English and Irish-Scots coming particularly from about 1718 and for the rest of that century, according to Wm. F. Marshall. Northern Ireland is Protestant while the rest is Roman Catholic; most of the tide that came to the colonies were Presbyterians. After the siege of Derry there was more religious freedom, but some problems remained.

The validity of Presbyterian marriages was denied, dissenters could not teach school and were often compelled to serve as church-wardens; there was interference with their services and funerals. There was 6 years of drought between 1714 and 1719; disease caused a high death-rate in sheep in 1716; an outbreak of smallpox in 1718; a scarcity of silver and copper coin hampered trade; the woollen industry languished with the death of the sheep and the linen trade was slow; bad harvests in 1725, 1726 and 1727 increased the cost of food higher than could ever be remembered; there was not even seed enough to sow a crop. There was a great frost 1739, followed by famine and disease, many died of malnutrition and disease; failure of the potato crop in 1756-7 caused high rents and an increase in tithes.

By checking the dates of the immigration of your ancestors, you can perhaps determine what the "straw was that broke the Camels Back"!

COURT PAPERS (Warren Brooks sent to Madeleine Holt, who shared)

26 March 1872

Eliza Jane WILKINSON, and her husband, Henry Wilkinson, of Elkhart County, Indiana, Mary INMAN, and her husband, Sylvester Inman, and Lewis Washington LOCK, and his wife, Amanda, both of Kosciuska County, Indiana, engaged Isaac Kitson, an attorney of Elkhart County, to investigate their claim of inheritance due them from the estate of SALOME LOCK, deceased, of Preble County, Ohio, as the rightful heirs of HENRY and SUSANNAH LOCK who died intestate in Preble County, Ohio. ABRAHAM LOCK was the administrator of said estate.

Capt. John Lock family.

29 May 1872

Received of ABRAHAM LOCK $5.00 principal and interest due the heirs of HENRY LOCK, Abraham Lock having paid $22.00 to defray funeral expenses of LEWIS LOCK, which together makes the full distributive share coming to the said LEWIS LOCK heirs as per papers in Probate Court of Preble County, Ohio.

LOCKE, INDIANA

Virginia wrote, "Upon further investigation I found that the little settlement of Locke is located in Locke Township, Elkhart County, just north of Nappanee on Road 19 and ½ mile west on Co Rd 50. The Locke General Store is located there."

Richmond, VA. has in its VA. Land Office in the Capitol Bldg. a series of volumes of Land Patents deposited there, the records of lands granted to "Adventurers and Planters" from overseas and in the course of time to include those who were also native-born. Mrs. Nell M. Nugent, the Custodian of the VA. Land Arvhives, through her efforts has made these invaluable documents generally accessible to the student of history and genealogy. A comprehensive index provides the key to help with your research.

Letters Patents were granted by James the First King of England on 10 April 1606 to Sir Thomas Gates, Sir George Somers, Knights, Richard Hackluit, Clerk, Prebendary of Westminster, Edward-Maria Winfield and others, adventurers, for territories in Virginia and other parts of America.

According to Cavaliers and Pioneers, the decree in part said, "that all and every persons being our subjects, which shall dwell and inhabit within every or any of the said several colonies and plantations and every of their children, which shall happen to be born within any of the limits and precincts of the said several colonies and plantations, shall have and enjoy all liberties, franchises and immunities, within any of our other dominions, to all intents and purposes, as if they had been abiding and born, within the realm of England, or any other of our said dominions."

With this power, the adventurers sailed to Jamestown in the Susan Constant, the Godspeed and the Discovery, arriving at Jamestown, VA. 13 May 1607 with one hundred settlers. Eight or nine months afterward came 120 more colonists in the John & Francis and the Phenix; in October 1608 the Mary Margett arrived with 60 persons, "mostly gentlemen, few or no tradesmen except some Polanders to Make Pitch, Tarre, potashes, etc...."

The 2nd charter, signed and sealed on 23 May 1609, allowed for the formation of a company with a governor and Treasurer of the Company, Sir Thos. Smythe being the first treasurer; Sir Thos. Gates the first and absolute governor. He left England with a fleet of seven ships June 1609 and 500 settlers. A tempest drove one ship to Bermuda, Gates' ship the Sea Adventure. When they arrived at Jamestown in two small barques with 100 people some months later, they found only about sixty people still alive, famished and at the pointe of death.

The hardships, inadequate leadership and the unwillingness to accept the leadership and work for a common cause almost spelled doom for this effort. Sir Thos. Dale was probably the most effective leader "with great and constant severity, reclaymed almost miraculously those idle and disordered people and reduced them to labour and an honest fashion of life and proceeding with great zeale to the good of this Company, set up the Common Garden to yield them a standing revennue, placed servants upon it, as also upon other Publique workes for the Companies use, Established an Annuall rent of Corne for the ffarmers, Of Tribute Corne from the Barbarians, together with a great stock of Kine, Goates and other Cattle, being the goodes of the Companie for the service of the Publique, which hath since beene the occasion of drawing so many perticuler Plantacons, to seate in Virginia upon hope and promise of plenty of Corne and Catle to be lent them from the Publique, for their ease and benefitt upon their first arrivall. But since their times all these publique provisions havinge beene utterly laid wast by such meanes as hereafter in due time shall appeare."

Despite all this, only 300 people were living in VA and his new town of Henricopolis was already falling into decay by 1616, when Dale was recalled. He attempted "plantings" at Bermuda Hundred, Charles City Hundred, Curls, Coxendale and Shirley Hundred.

MORE ON THE ROWAN CO., N.C. MIGRATION......

It hasn't been proven that John Brandon and Elizabeth Lock took their families to the Yadkin River, N.C. area as early as 1749, but they did leave the Susquehanna Valley in 1748 or early 1749, travelling the Great Wagon Road between Pennsylvania and North Carolina. John Brandon and Elizabeth (LOCK) Brandon settled on Grants Creek six miles east of James Cathey's house. (N.C. Land Grants, XI, 4)

At a meeting of the Governor's Council at New Bern 1 Apr 1751, it was reported that great numbers of people had petitioned for land but had never taken out warrants for surveying to obtain a title to their land; thus they eluded paying the fees due and the Quit Rents to His Majesties. 25 Mar 1752 was the end of the eight month deadline for these people to file and pay their warrants and patents or lose their lands. On that date 49 persons filed and received land grts. (It also was the last day England and her colonies celebrated new year's day Mar. 25 - they finally adopted the Gregorian calendar in 1752, 190 years after other Roman Catholic countries. It would thus seem that many of the settlers had been living on their land for as much as four years.

On this page and the one that follows it shows the plats of land and those who owned them. These pages come from Ramsey's Carolina Cradle, pp. 60-61

Was Francis LOCK the eldest son of Elizabth LOCKE BRANDON? In Carolina Cradle it is noted that he was in Lancaster Co, PA. in 1738 (Lancaster Wills, A-1, 33); Derry and Paxtang Tax Lists for 1750-51 and 1756 (unpaginated manuscripts), Office of Co. Comm, Lancaster Co. Did he not go with his mother and stepfather and brothers at the time they went? He did receive from John Brandon and wife Elizabeth 21 Mar 1754, 640 A. south side Yadkin R. on east side Wagon Road for 50# sterling. (Rowan Co. Dedds Bk. 1, p. 103); in all references he is a carpenter and became sheriff 1766.

RENEWAL FORM....................................513

Season's Greetings!

To all of you! Do you feel like I am rushing the Season just a little? Well, Thanksgiving will be upon us before we know it! In fact you are getting this a little early because we are leaving Nov. 13 for the East to see our only Great-Grandchild in Florida and spend the holiday with our grandkids at PA. U., though we shall actually be in the Washington, D.C. area on the edge of some of Civil War Battlefields, both areas unexplored by us too much yet.

I am running out of Locke materials so HELP! If you have something that I haven't published, please share. Nearly a week of our time will be spent in Raleigh area - our time-share is in New Bern, N.C., the 2nd oldest city in N.C. I might find some Locke materials in Raleigh, but weather, etc. permitting, I would like to spend some time in Salisbury - doubt that I would find anything that hasn't been touched up on in this quarterly, but would love to be proved wrong! The week that we are going to spend in Washington, D.C. area is near Frederick, MD., but that area has been pretty well explored by Chuck Locke. One of the workshops I attended at the National Genealogical Society was given by the Library Director, Eric G. Grundset, from the D.A.R. Library. I was there once years ago, but not long enough to explore it thoroughly; after his presentation, I might be able to do a better job. More on that later - I hope!

Hope this finds you all well and able to enjoy your research and the coming Holidays; my other hope is that 1992 will bring your good Health, great Wealth (in genealogy research, too!) and much Happiness. If you are ever in our area, look us up.

Affectionately,
Orella

Mary Jane wrote and sent the copy of the letter that she received from the Chester Co. Historical Society in regards to Elizabeth LACK. Thanks, Mary Jane, and as you said, perhaps this will dispel forever any theory that this was Elizabeth LOCK who married John BRANDON. To those of you who are new to Lookin for Lockes, Mary Jane has been compiling Locke info. for years for an eventual publication. Continued on p. 498

Mrs. Carl A. Steinhagen

Dear Mrs. Steinhagen:

Thank you for your letter of February 16, 1981. In checking the reference to the Tavern Petitions, vol. III, p. 41 as cited in the Carolina Cradle by Dr. Robert W. Ramsey, I have noticed some discrepancies.

First off, the petition is not for a tavern license but is a petition objecting to the licensing of another tavern in Middletown township (there were already two there - one owned by William Hill, another by Charles Crosby) to a William Noblit. This petition is signed by 8 women of which Elizabeth Lack (not Lock) heads the signatures. I do not know how Dr. Ramsey could have looked at this petition and decided that Elizabeth Lack was a tavern keeper. It seems more likely he came across this citation from a secondary source (perhaps a Lack/Lock family history).

Second, Middletown township was a part of Chester County before 1789. It then became part of what is Delaware County. I have enclosed a copy of a map of Chester Co. (ca. 1780) which shows the location of Middletown township. Also enclosed is a map of current-day Delaware County. I assume the 1740 map which you mentioned was in Dr. Ramsey's book. As you can see, this map deleted the entire eastern end of Chester County (about 11 townships).

Although Elizabeth Lack's signature is on the petition, I am not able to photocopy it for you. The Chester County Tavern Petitions for the 1700's were all mounted in volumes. Due to this fact, photocopying is not permissable (too much stress on the paper). However, if you could visit our library, you may take a snapshot of this petition.

I have enclosed a copy of our snapshot policy as well as a schedule of our hours for your information.

Sincerely,

Kathy Shady
Ass't. Librarian

Mary Jane continues: "When did the Lockes & Brandons arrive in N.C.? John Brandon, member of Assembly for Rown Co., N.C., 1746-1747 and 1754, takes his seat at the 13th session. (Reference: M/C Manuel, 1913, p. 381; also N.C. Colonial Records)

"In 1746-47 the area that became Rowan Co. in 1753 was Bladen Co. in 1746-47, then Anson Co. in 1750.

"This would seem to be John Brandon, Sr. as a member of the Assembly. If so, then John must have married Elizabeth, the widow of John LOCKE, soon after Locke's death and the two families must have gone to N.C. before we have previously supposed. I do not recall having seen a reference in Bladen Co., earlier than 1746. We know John Locke's Administration of Estate was in Lancaster Co., PA. in 1745 - timewise this is logical.

"Carolina Cradle by Dr. Robert Ramsey is by far the most comprehensive volume published on Rowan Co. and its earliest inhabitants. However, we must bear in mind that as his work was comprehensive, he covered ALL the early families and no doubt did not have the time nor space in his volume to cover any of the families in genealogical depth. That was probably not his aim; as Locke (and Brandon) researchers, we will inevitably have details of our family which Dr. Ramsey did not and so it goes.

11 Apr. 1749 Jn. Brandon was a Magistrate of Anson Co., N.C. (formed in 1750 from Bladen (probably a time gap in reporting between Spring of 1749 and 1750); then in 1753 that area became Rowan Co. (Source: NCCR)
28 Sep 1750 Land Grant to John Brandon, Anson Co. (NCCR)"

(Soon your editor hopes to put on the computer all info. on Lockes as detailed in Jo White Linn's series of Court Records - should have done that instead of selected records earlier.)

Thanks again, Mary Jane.

Background on those named in Cavaliers & Pioneers, continued from August:

Geo. Yeardley's administration was the most peaceful and prosperous of any thus far, but only lasted for a year. His successor Samuel Argall was deemed obnoxious by the Virginia Company but because his replacement, Lord de la Warr died at sea 7 Jun 1618, Argall stayed there until 10 Apr 1619 when he was replace by the return of Yeardley. Settlements at this point were Argalls Gift, Martin Brandon, Smith's (later Southampton) Hundred, Weyanoke, Flower de Hundred, Martins Hundred , Maycock Hundred, James City, Henrico, Charles City and Hundred, Shirley Hundred, Arrahattock, Kiccoughtan, all of which were poorly housed and manned.

It took Yeardley 4 months to reach America because of "sore weather". However, he brought with him new directions from the London Co., their commission appointing "300 acres of land to be sett out for the Governor so to ease the Company henceforward of all charge in mayntayning him: 1200 Acres of Land to be the Common Land of the Company vizt three thousand in each of the ffower (4?) old Burroughs, 1000-acres pf Land for the university to be planted at Henrico; of which 100 for the Colledge for the conversion of Infidells; the next care was the placing of tennants upon these lands."

In London Sir Thomas Smythe, Treasurer since the formation of the comany, resigned, though probably under pressure, and Sir Edwin Sandys was elected to replace him. Under the new control a colonist was now assigned a divident of land and conceded a share to the government. Later that same year, Nov. 3, a new order was carried into effect: "Lastly he wished that a fit hundredth might be sent of woemen, Maides young and uncorrupt to make wives to the INhabitants and by that meanes to make them more setled and lesse moveable....these women if they marry to the publique farmers, to be transported at the charge of the Company; If otherwise, then those that take them to wife to pay the said Company their charges of transport."

Shortly after his arrival Gov. Yeardley called a representative Asembly to convene at Jamestown, the first legislative body to meet on American soil. The year 1619 is also memorable because of the importation of the first negroes into the Colony by the Dutch.

The London Company considered some of Yeardley's acts as going beyond their authority because he was to make no absolute Graunt! For one thing, Yeardley recognized the Sovereignty of Chief Opechankano, the London Co. did not. When Yeardley retired from the governorship 18 Nov 1621 to become a member of the Council of Virginia, the population of the Colony was estimated at 1,200, an increase of about 850 since the departure of Dale.

Sir Francis Wyatt was elected to replace Yeardley and arrived Oct. 1621 bringing with him his bro. Rev. Haute Wyatt, Wm. Clayborne (surveyor-general of the Colony), Dr. John Pott, physician-general and the Colony's treasurer George Sandys. Sir Wyatt's commission defined his powers of the Governor and Council and permitted the people to choose Burgesses to represent them in a popular Assembly. Then, 22 Mar 1621 the Indians, under Opechancanough, brother of Powhatan, massacred 347 of the 1,240 white inhabitants of the Colony. Jamestown and neighboring settlements were only saved by the timely warning of the Christian Indian Chanco. This did not check the steady migration from England.

Radical changes came from England at the incessant and violent attacks by the former treasurer, Sir Thos. Smythe, allied with the Earl of Warwick, upon the administration of the London Co. the charter was cancelled June 1624 and as a consequence the administration of the Colony came under the immediate control of the Crown. Upon his ascendancy to the throne Charles the First issued his proclamation 13 May 1625 that it was not his purpose to "take away or impeach the particular interest of any private planter or adventurer, nor to alter the same otherwise than should be necessary for the good of the public".

Sir Francis served until May 1626 wehn he requested to be relieved. Sir George Yeardley was once more called upon to become governor and continued until his death, whereupon Capt. Francis West succeeded as deputy governor and held office until 2 Mar 1629. Dr. John Pott was elected to take Sir Francis's office. The next governor was Sir John Harvey during whose tenure of office Kent Island and the shores of the York were first settled.

Sir Harvey was desposed and Capt. John West acted as deputy governor from 28 Apr 1635 to 19 Jan 1637 when Harvey was restored by an act of the King. Upon his return to Jamestown, Harvey improved his capital by the addition of about twelve new house and planned towards building a church and a statehouse of brick. Because of his peristent mischief-making and tyranny Harvey was removed by royal decree and in Aug. 1639, Sir Francis Wyatt again became governor and continued in office until Berkley came in 1642.

Another Indian massacre occurred 18 Apr 1644 and two months later Berkley returned to England and left as deputy governor his secretary, Councillor Richard Kemp.

Charles I was overthrown in 1642 and the Commonwealth set up in 1649. The "Perfect Description of VA." was as follows: "There are about 15,000 English in VA. and of Negros brought thither three hundred good servants. About 29 sail a year trade with them and return home laden in March. Most of the Masters of Ships and Mariners also have plantations there and houses and servants....About a thousand English are seated on the Accomac Shore by Cape Charles where Capt. Yeardley is now chief commander (now commonly called the county of Northampton)....there are 12 counties in VA. and 20 churches."

Royalists emigrated to Va. during the Civil War in England, holding fast to the old regime until the Parliamentary fleet arrived; Virginia agree to an accomodation. Berkley retired to his country estate "Greenspring" and 30 Apr 1652 Puritan Richard Bennett succeeded to the governorship.

Edward Digges was the 2nd governor under the Commonwealth and administered the affairs of the VA. Colony from 31 Mar 1655 until 13 Mar 1658. He was followed by Samuel Mathews, of "Denbigh", Warwick Co. who contended that the Council possessed the authority to dissolve the Assembly, both were deposed but reinstated when they took an oath of recognition of that authority. Mathews died Jan. 1660, while still in office, Sir Wm. Berkeley was recalled in March; Sep. 20 King Charles II was proclaimed in his Dominion of VA. In Apr. 1661/2 Berkeley left for England to protest against the Navigation Act and Francis Morryson became acting governor until Berkeley returned in autumn of 1662.

By 1619 the units had grown from the first four represented by James City, Henrico, Charles City, Elizabeth City to eight with the addition of Warwick River, Warrisquyoake, Charles River and Accomac; the first four referred to as "Old Burroughs". Courts were being organized and held.

Virginia Co. would not permit ownership of land until seven years had lapsed and then it was made by land commissioners. These owners were: the Company; the Hundreds (parts of a county) and Plantations inhabited by private Adventurers in England; thirdly, Planters who were those residing on their property; these latter were by far the largest.

Grants were of two sorts: one to such as were adventurers by money paid to the VA. Company treasury, for which they were allowed 100 acres for every single share of 12 pounds 10 shillings and the Planters, who were allotted two shares for every person transported. In each burough lands were set aside for the support of the magistrate, church and proposed college. It was decreed that all land would be made with equal favour except the differency of rent. No coins were struck in Virginia so the planters had only tobacco, capons, merchantable Indian corn for exchange. The planter had to plant and "seate upon such land with five men well-armed at least." "In the matter of tobacco the value is 3 shillings for the best and 18 pence for that of second quality."

In regard to the bounds of dividents, the first surveyor general was Wm. Clayborne; if he couldn't settle boundary disputes, it was referred to the governor or counsell. The records show there were many; (but that is good for those of us doing genealogy - it proves the where abouts of our ancestors!) The surveyor received 10 lbs. of tobacco for each hundred acres.

With the beginning of land patents the document was filed in the records of the Company, a copy went to the patentee (to produce as proof of his ownership, to transfer to the new owner in case of a sale or to hand down from generation to generation; ultimately a copy was also sent to Virginia and sealed in open court.

Then "Headrights" were established for the purpose of stimulating immigration and the settlement of the Colony of Virginia; the London Co. ordained that any person who paid his own way to Va. should be assigned 50 acres of land "for his own personal adventure" and if transported at his own cost one or more persons he could have 50 acres for each of them. These Headrights were not just family but persons from all walks of life, indentured servants and negroes. (Page 121 of this book shows a patent and page 109 shows the only grant known to be preserved.) On page xxviii it begins the listing of the Ancient Planters, year 1607. NO LOCKES, LOCKS!!

Donna R. Powers, 363 Johnson Road, Palmyra, N. Y. 14522 (315-597-6245 has provided information that will no doubt be greatly appreciated by a number of our subscribers. (I wish someone would come up with that much info. on my Locke line, Donna; surely hope all your surgeries and health problems are a thing of the past.) Now, to repeat some of what Donna wrote in her cover letter and then the complete story as she wrote it because she did give her permission.

"There have been a lot of people that have tried to tell me that William LOCK never had a son by the name of Richard. People have told me that Jacob LOCK, who was the brother of Wm. had a son Richard. I have proof that Wm. LOCK did have a son by the name of Richard, as you will read in the follocing pages." (Your words of praise and gratitude are much appreciated, because your editor does try to cover as wide a variety of locales and people as possible to please and help as many as possible.)

HISTORY OF THE LOCK FAMILY OR MY GREAT GRANDMOTHER OF REBECCA PARRISH & MIRANDA HOLZE

In about the year 1783, my paternal grandfather, William LOCK, came from England and settled in Virginia. He found a bride among the sturdy HOLLANDERS and was married in the year 1784. A son Richard was born. My great grandfather, while on duty protecting Fort Wyoming, was attacked by Indians and killed. As time went on, my great grandmother married Joe BOONE, the brother of Daniel BOONE, without whom Kentucky would have lost much of it's heroic history. My father, Richard LOCK, was given to his Uncle, Jacob LOCK, a Baptist minister. In The War of 1812-15, he went into Kentucky and married Katherine CALLENDER, my mother.

In about the year 1768, my mother's great grandfather, Frederick FISHER, sailed from Saxony, Germany for America. His first wife died, leaving three sons and a daughter, Eva Katherine, 17 years old. On the voyage over, his second wife died when in sight of land. A storm came up and the vessel was driven back, and had to stay in the water 14 days. There was on board a young Army Officer, John HOOST, who fell in love with the motherless Katherine, and on landing they were married. There was born to them a daughter, Elizabeth FISHER HOOST, who married Michael CALLENDER. He, too, as my father's father, was killed by Indians. Five months afterwards, my mother Eva Katherine FISHER, was born in the Fort where Harrodsburg, Kentucky stands today. She was the first female child born in the Fort. She and her widowed mother, went to live with her grandmother HOOST, who after her husband had been killed in The American Revolution, had married Dr. HOGLE, a man much revered. He was a skillful doctor, who died at the age 114.

It was here my father met my mother. They were of the same age and were no doubt attracted to each other by remarkable similarity of their lives. Both forts were burned by the Indians and all their title deeds and property were destroyed. With undaunted courage, they began life with only 50 acres of land, which my father bought in the Bluegrass region of Kentucky. They put their cabin in primitive style, before the first year was ended. A family alter, whose fire never went out for over forty five years. They were neither of them converted, but mother with her new responsibility, soon sought and found her Savior. Father was not so easily won. The mode of baptism troubled him. He searched the Bible, but could not find immersion there, but read of sprinkling of many nations. Yet he could not get away from his early Baptist training. When asked his wish, he answered, "I will go into the water and kneel down and have water poured upon me." And he was baptized, and they joined The Bethel Methodist Church. (Bath County)

My father and mother, Richard & Katherine FISHER LOCK, had eight children. Four boys and four girls: William (Billy)- named for my grandfather- John Wesley, James Fletcher, Jessie Boone, Elizabeth Callender LOCK, Rebecca Fisher, Maria Parker and Miranda Morrow. William- The oldest son, was very religious. He didn't marry until he was 36 years old, and he then chose Ellen DILLON. To this union was one child, a daughter who died at the age of 14. The second son, John Wesley- left home at the age of 18, and was never heard of again.

Elizabeth Callender LOCK- my grandmother, married Dr. David PARRISH, a native of Virginia. To this union was born six children. 3 boys, and 3 girls. 1. Mary Lock- b. 1836 and married Thompson SHANKLAND, they had 3 children. 2. Katherine- b. 1840 and married William Joe MYERS. To this union there were 5 children. 3. James William- b. 1845. Never married and lived with Maranda MYERS(his sister)(Alice Myers JACOB'S mother) until his death. 4. Simon- Killed while cleaning a gun. 5. Ed- married Nannie GILLESPIE, and to this union where born 3 children. 6. Maranda Rebecca- b.18 Sep 1853 in Nicholas County Kentucky. d. 16 Feb 1922, Nicholas County Kentucky. She married Henry Brush MYERS. To this union were born 9 children.

Gelby Duane- b.17 Nov 1876, d. 26 Mar 1940. First married Mildred MURRY. They had no children. He then married Lillian McCALL, and had 3 children, Jimmie, Elmo, and Charley Brown.

Katherine Elizabeth- b. 29Jul 1878 and d. 6 Aug 1912 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. She married Ed FLORA. They had 3 children, Paul, Olive, & Ray.

Charles Alancing- b. 13 Jul 1880. He married Stell HORNBACK. They had 2 children. J.B. & Kenneth.

James Wilburn- 4 Sep 1882. d. 13 Apr 1883

Alice- b. 17 Dec 1883 and d. 26 Dec 1979. She married John Bascom JACOBS. They had 2 girls. Bernice and Beatrice.

Emma Richmond- b. 19 May 1886 and d.10 Feb 1969.She married Herman BARNETT. They had 1 girl, Mary Lou.

Nannie Falson- b. 8 Sep 1888 and d. 1975 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. She married William (Bill) BERRY, and had 2 boys and 2 girls. Malcom, Myron, Mildred, an Katherine.

Clarine Willie- b. 13 Sep 1891 in Nicholas County, Kentucky, and d. 9 Oct 1982, in Hamilton, Butler County, Ohio. She married Dennie Richard POWERS. They had 3 children, Huston Parrish, Helen Rae, and Dennie (Dick) Richard, Jr. Dick was the only one to hace any children. Donna Rae.

Mabel Maud- died when 8 months old.

Maria Parker LOCK married John STAMPER, a great preacher in his day. Her second marriage was to John SHANKLIN.

Miranda Morrow, married Henry VAN HOLZ. They had 5 children. Jesse Boone LOCK married Lou HOLLAND. Jim LOCK, married Bell CRAWFORD. Duain LOCK, married Lutie GRAY. Picket LOCK married Roger POTTS. Thompson LOCK married??? Alice LOCK Married a CRAWFORD, and they had 2 children, Clyde and Earl.

Ruby Simonson McNeill, N. 4015 Marguerite Rd., Spokane, WA. 99212 is another offering what would sound to be a great service for any of you KY., N.J. or Quaker Ancestors. Her object is to provide a forum for those who are researching the same areas to "find each other". One of the ways is to submit Queries using these guidelines:

1. PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE QUERIES
2. QUERIES SHOULD BE NOR MORE THAN (50) WORDS; THERE IS NO LIMIT TO THE NUMBER YOU CAN SUBMIT
3. DO NOT USE ABBREVIATIONS.

Mark your information "For Review in ....". This service is FREE but Ruby has 40 issues that she listed in these 3 areas. If you wish you could ask her for the form for whichever area(s) you wish. She is also interested in having family histories from these areas and if you have material in good condition that you would like to exchange she is glad to consider it. Each of these issues has at least 25 pages for $5.00, plus pp.

SOUNDS LIKE A GREAT OFFER.

It has been 5 months since the National Genealogical Society Convention; your editor is remiss in not having done anything to further our publicizing of what we are all about. For shame! I have scanned their bi-monthly publication though and was most impressed with an article in Sep-Oct by Jo White Linn "What Happens to My Research When I Am Gone?" Surely we have all considered this but not to the point that this article does. I recommend it for anyone who has accumulated much information. I confess to thinking I would just make sure some Library or Society would get it - WITHOUT EVER CONSIDERING THAT THEY MIGHT NOT WANT IT! Mrs. Linn, who receives a copy of this bulletin for Rowan Co. Library, made some excellent points that I shall just briefly enumerate here and hope that you will try to find and read the complete article.

1/Any institution you have selected to receive your materials should be sounded out in advance;

2/ These materials should be organized according to their guidelines;

3/ All transfers should be documented by letter, will or deed also conveying to the receiver any and all copyrights you own to the materials. A good vehicle for this is a deposit agreement, which is your intent to transfer title at some future date, in the meantime depositing the material with the archive or library for safekeeping.

Mrs. Linn had sent out a questionaire and the above conclusions were a result of the replies she received. Other subjects covered follow:

Selecting an Appropriate Repository
Collection Policies
Preparation of Materials
Physical Form of the Material

Then Mrs. Linn gives the Repository Responses to the Questionaire and these might give you a better idea of whom might be interested in your materials. She has done a great service for all of us who aren't getting any younger!

Her Conclusion: "This article has shifted the burden of the responsibility for the preservation of your research collection from the heirs and placed it squarely where it should be: on the shoulders of the genealogist who wishes his collection preserved. A collection worth preserving is worth the time and effort to put it into correct form by the person who knows it best."

Boy, will that clean up my files! What about you?

At the National Genealogical Society Conference, a very impressive workshop was that put on by Christine Rose on Courthouse Research, Land Records, National Archives Military File, Legislative Papers, Patents, etc. - what you might have overlooked or as she titled it "Where Haven't You Looked?"

Deeds of Gift, Powers of Attorney, Chancellorship and Chancery, Mortgages are all in the same books as Deeds; check real and personal property records.

Military Files - Check Surrendered Land Warrants (Filmed M-848); unfilmed (NATF Form 80: National Archives and Records Service; copying 25¢ p., $6.00 minimum order). Final Payment of Pension (Rev.), need wife's name if she was survivor; need agency and close date of pension and service; Army Register (M-233: 1798-1914) What do you need? Civil War (1861-1934 (T-288) - you can't overdo the use of this important tool.

Legislative Papers: House of Representatives: Some who couldn't get satisfaction otherwise went directly to House for action; there is a Digested Summary and Alphabetical List of Private Claims which Have Been Presented to the House from the First to the Thirty-first Congress (Get written permission from Hon. Donnald Anderson, Clerk, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515)

Patents; Warrants, Surveys (better than a Patent is the original survey) Declaration of Intention; Voting Registers; Obituaries, Funeral Notices.

THE LOCKE LINE (Antiquity of the Locke Line).

Taken from "Historical Account of the Locke Family in England" found in the Book "Genealogy of Capt. John Locke of New Hampshire" and edited by Arhtur H. Locke, A.M., Pub ca. 1916 to 1920.

1.1 Robert Locke joined with Thomas de Saint Maur, Vicecomes of Wiltshire, anno 1350.

- 2.2 John Locke, sheriff of London, 1460 1st in pedigree.
  - 3.3 Thomas a Merchant in London d. anno 1507. He and his wife Joan had three children.
    - 4.4 John d. without issue. Int. Mercer's chapel, had arms in his window.
    - 5.4 William
      - 6.5 dau. Rose Locke m. Anthony Hickman, Esq. ancestor to the late Lord Montjoy, present Earl of Plymouth.
      - 7.5 son Matthew
        - 8.6 dau. Elizabeth m. Richard Chandler, merchant.
          - 9.7 dau. Elizabeth m. Ferdinando Richardson who d. 1596, groom of the stole to the Queen Elizabeth.
    - 5.4 William Locke, in the 25th year of the reign of Henry VIII, undertook to go over to Dunkirk and pull down the Pope's Bull which had been posted up there by way of a curse to the King and his Kingdom. For this exploit the King granted him a freehold of L 100 per annum, dubbed Knight, and made him one of the gentlemen of his privychamber. Sir William lived to be an Alderman of London, and was sheriff of the City in 1548.

The Arms illustrated stand first in Burke's General Armory and are presumed to be the first granted and probably to Sir William Locke, in the reign of Henry VIII, having reference to his exploit, the Pope's Bull of Excommunication. The cushion in the Crest refers to his support of the church.

Dear Members,

My, we have four new members so far this year! Speaking of memberships, check your label and see if it says '92, if it doesn't, I haven't received your membership or I have goofed; in either case, let me know!

Are any of you having Locke Family Reunions you would like publicized? We include Lockes in our Holloway-Ralston Reunion, which will be in MO. this year, Father's Day Weekend - big family picnic on Sat. When we had this in Denver two years ago, we had more Lockes than Holloways or Ralstons!

Richard Grosvenor is a new member and states that his Grdm. was Mary Florence LOCK who lived at Troy, OH. and a descendant of Andrew LOCK of Montgomery Co.; she m. Chauncey Grosvenor. Please help Richard if you can.

Jimmie Peacock said they might be through my area and would stop for a visit - surely hope to see him and any of the rest of you that travel the Coast of Oregon.

I received information from "Family Search" inviting me to enter our information into a computer file by creating a GEDCOM file on a diskette and sending it to them. Have any of you done this with any of your records? They say to be sure of the accuracy of your info. and before submitting it to check with Family History Library to be sure you aren't duplicating what is already in their files Because of the "right to privacy" act the records only cover deceased persons. You can write Family History Dept., 50 East North Temple St., Salt Lake City 84150 or call 801-240-4874, for further info. You can do this on all your lines - sounds great!

I kept waiting to put this together until I received Index from Rose Wilson; she called yesterday, it will be included in May Bull.

LOCK(E) MARRIAGES IN ROWAN COUNTY PRIOR TO 1868

compiled by Jo White Linn, C.G., C.G.L.

Introduction: Herewith are the records of Lock(e) marriages from the marriage bonds, the marriage licenses, and the ministers' returns, the latter two categories covering the period 1851-1868 and not available on the microfiche of North Carolina Marriage Bonds published by the North Carolina State Archives, nor in Brent H. Holcomb's Marriages of Rowan County, North Carolina, 1753-1868. Most researchers do not check the licenses and ministers' returns simply because they are not indexed and because they do not realize those records exist in addition to the bonds. The material is available in the office of the Rowan County, NC, Register of Deeds, 402 North Main Street, Salisbury, NC 28144.

Explanation of terms: Cohabitation bonds were issued in 1866 to legitimize the marriages of slaves who had lived together as man and wife. WC is the newspaper The Western Carolinian which was published in Salisbury, the county seat of Rowan, 1820-1842. CW is the Carolina Watchman, published in Salisbury, beginning 1832. Details from those publications are included in brackets.

Thanks so much for sending the foregoing marriages, Jo. and to have them all ready to print was especially appreciated. I admire your work. I have your tapes purchased years ago when you appeared and did a seminar in Indiana, 1986, The Great Wagon Road to the Carolinas. Do you still have any of those tapes available in case some of my subscribers would be interested? Jo says, and I quote, "Anyone who works out the Rowan County LOCKES is a genius. I have struggled with these families for years. Most died intestate with few extant estate papers." And some of you who are researching later generations might add, OR MOVED WEST!

For any of you interested, Jo (full name and address on first page of marriages) has published the 1850 Census of Rowan Co., N.C., a genealogical compilation of All Six Schedules, 8½ x 11, perfect-sewn binding, maps, surname index, 158 pp., soft cover $26, library binding $28.

For any of you near the area, Jo will also be the speaker Jun. 11, 1992 at the Caldwell Gen. Society; her topic will be "Genealogical Problem Solving: The Saga of Hugh Montgomery". This meeting will be at 7:30 at the Public Library (Caldwell Co.). Thanks again, Jo.

Jimmie Peacock, 1330 11th St., Clermont, FL. 34711 wrote a nice letter after the Nov. '91 Quarterly came out and after seeing Judith Hempel's lineage chart. He writes, "The Thos. LOCK in her chart is my Bladen Co. deadend. I had long held the belief that Philadelphia was among three possible sites for his origin. I located Judith by phone and we exchanged data and tho'ts. She does not have proof that Leonard LOCK was the father of Thos, as shown on her chart, however it certainly looks good."

Am certainly glad you two have found each other and hope you find answers to all your puzzles!

This is the reason your editor publishes ancestor charts as fast as you send them; it seems such a good way to see whether there is a relationship and what they may have that you don't and vice versa. Some of you have never sent a chart, BUT, it is now too late!

From Journal of the Gen. Soc. of Rowan Co., N.C., Vol. 5, #4: Nathaniel JOHNSTON was assigned as a Captain for 1784 Tax List of Rowan Co. and the territory he was to cover LOCKE settlement - 6 miles SW of Salisbury along Grants Creek, Crane Creek and Colwater Creek." Capt. Richard LOCKE was to "cover the Thyatira area, taken by Mathew BRANDON".

There was also an excerpt from "Life on the HALL Plantation" as told by Jos. S. HALL and Mitchell CARSON (the colored man). He was in the legislature and had left his wife and 2 week old baby at home while he attended to his duties in Raleigh. His wife, Miss Emalina had Mr. Silas Smith whip the colored maid Luthanna; the maid decided to get even with her mistress and put "blue stone" into her mush. It colored the mush though and she ordered the maid to call Dr. LOCKE, who diagnosed it as poisoned. Do any of you have a Dr. LOCKE in Rowan Co. in 1850's?

From N.C. Genealogy Society Journal, Feb. 1986, p. 39

In November 1828 John LOCK of Granville County made the following statement on oath in open court: He enlisted on 22 May 1776 for 2½ years in the North Carolina Continental line in Capt. William GLOVER's company in Col. William TAYLOR's regiment to serve until 22 November 1778. Shortly after "enlistment he thinks not more than a month he was marched to the Village of Williamsborough in this County at which place the Companies of Captain GLOVER and Captain Phill TAYLOR met and he well recollects among other Soldiers to have met with Cyrus DAVIS Senior with whom he has been well acquainted ever Since that time as one of the Company of Captain Phill TAYLOR . . . from the Circumstance of meeting at that time with him [DAVIS] as an enlisted Soldier he has little in fact no doubt that he [DAVIS] enlisted at the time and in the manner mentioned in his declaration this day filed in Court for the purpose and in order to be restored to the pension list under the Act of the 1st March 1823 - that Shortly after meeting of Said Companies of Captains GLOVER and TAYLOR both marched to Wilmington in this State there this affiant was taken sick; from that place both Companies wer marched to the northward but as he from his Sickness was brought home until he Should be Sufficiently restored to join the army he has no Knowledge except from report of the route they took - In June 1777 this affiant joined the Company of of [sic] Captain Daniel WILLIAMS who had Superceded Captain GLOVER in Command Captain GLOVER as having as this affiant understood been borke in & Consiquence of Some misconduct - this affiant has not a distinct and positive recollection whether he met with the Said Cyrus DAVIS at Georgetown or at Lancaster in Pensylvania but he inclines to think and has a Strong impression upon his mind that it was at Lancaster and he well recollects when he met with him he was upon Crutches from a wound he had received in the foot but when and where he had received this wound this affiant has no knowledge except from report which was that he received it at Germantown. He was with him from the time he met him thus laimed until they got to White Plains with the exception of a few days that he was detained at Morristown, in New Jersey by Sickness at which place he remained with him until he was discharged which he thinks . . . was in August 1778. which he thinks was granted to him Something like two months before the expiration of his term of Service and was granted to him in consiquence of his being laimed and unfit for Service." /s/ JOHN LOCK Georgia Cooper, 808 Glade Road, Farmington, N.M. 87401 sent more of the Diary of John W. Cooper (1st portion of which was printed Nov. 1990). [illegible] didn't say if this was all.

JUST ONE OF THOSE DAYS!

Tuesday

July, ~~THURSDAY, 13,~~ 1865.

Back to Dead timber camp again. Seems like home to me.

Wrote letters to Mr James [illegible] Charles this Morning and sent them to Central. Took dinner with my old time friend [illegible] Smith to day. Had a pleasant visit with him. After dinner I had a pleasant ride from Montazuma Camp to this place where I arrived at 4½.

Rained quite a shower after I got into Camp. I long to see some letters from dear Ones

July, FRIDAY, 14, 1865.

Left Seth's Camp at Montezuma after breakfast and arrived here at 10 The boys were out hunting the horses John came in with them at 12 having found them near Delaware Flatts. M[illegible] did not get in to until late. I did not therefore get to move Camp to day. Cloudy all day with some rain. After Coming to Camp I spent the remainder of the day in writing and reading. Shall break camp here early in the morning

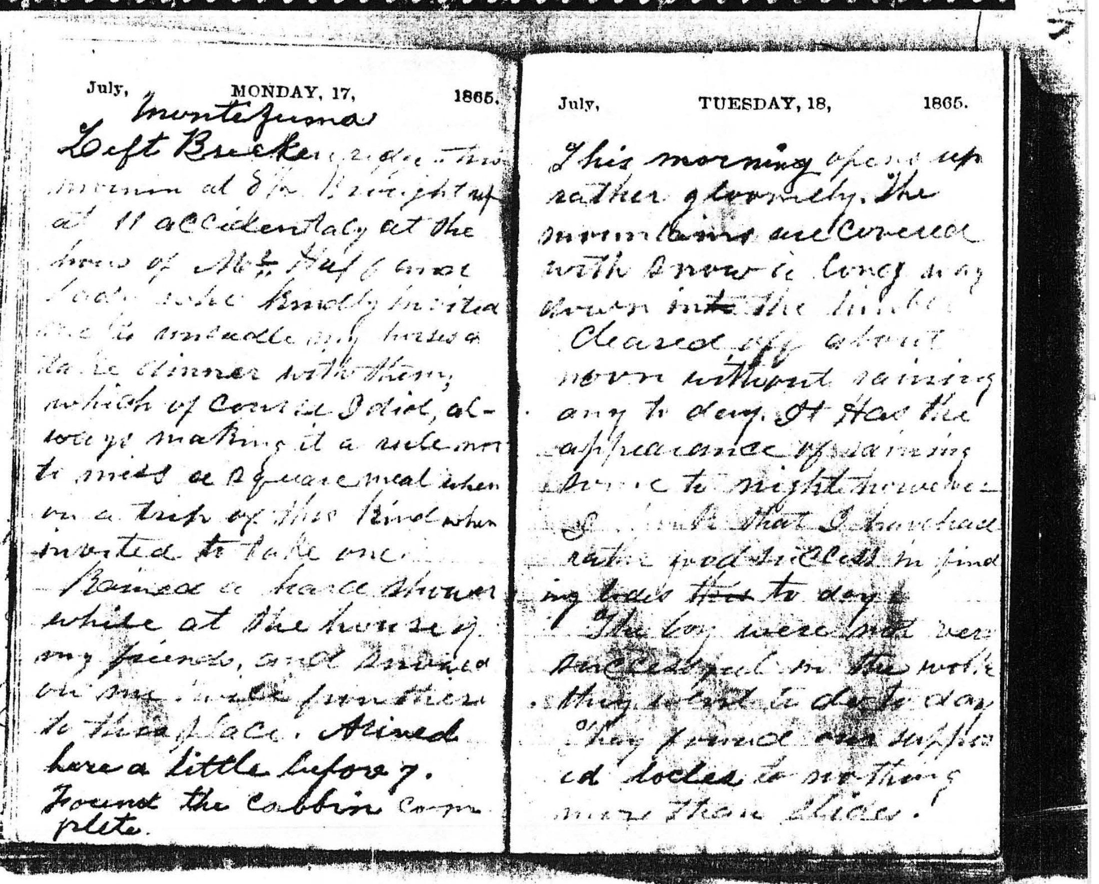
July, SATURDAY, 15, 1865.

Montezuma
Left Dead timber at 1/2 after 6 Am arrived here at 12, and immediately commenced puting a cabin. Got up to the square at when it commenced raining. The rain continued until dark. so we got no more don this day. Had to sleep in [illegible] our new Cabbin tonight. Mine is the first Cabbin built in Montezuma & the third in the diggins. We expect to be a little more comfortable situated than we have been.

July, SUNDAY, 16, 1865.

Breckenridge
Left Montezuma at 9 1/2 A M, and arrived here at 5 P. M. The high mountains around Montezuma were [illegible] with fresh fallen snow this morning. Showery and cloudy all day. My [illegible] W. P. [illegible] at this place. It reminded me of old times to take such friends by the hand. The country from the Snake river to the Summit is the finest grazing country I ever [illegible]. The timothy and [illegible] covers the ground. It [illegible]

Welcome to the NUT FARM!!

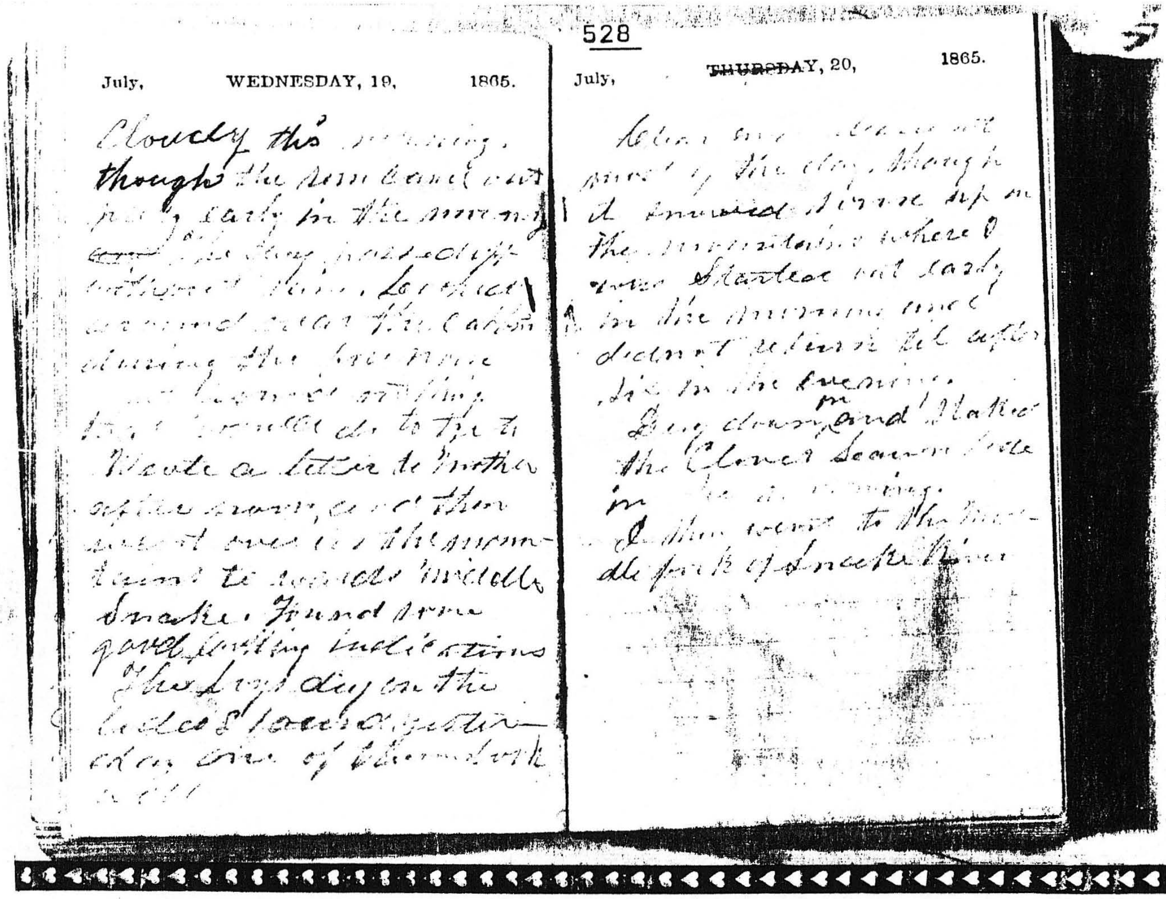


July, MONDAY, 17, 1865.

Montezuma
Left Breckenridge this morning at 8. Brought up at 11 accidentaly at the house of Mr. Huff and lady who kindly invited me to unsaddle my horse and take dinner with them, which of course I did, always making it a rule not to miss a square meal when on a trip of this kind when invited to take one.
Rained a hard shower while at the house of my friends, and showered on me [illegible] from there to this place. Arrived here a little before 7. Found the Cabbin complete.

July, TUESDAY, 18, 1865.

This morning opens up rather gloomely. The mountains are covered with snow a long way down ~~into~~ the timber. Cleared off about noon without raining any to day. It has the appearance of raining some to night however. I think that I have had rather good success in finding leads ~~this~~ to day. The boys were not very successful in the work they went to do to day. They found our supposed lodes to be nothing more than slides!



July, WEDNESDAY, 19, 1865.

Cloudy this morning though the sun came out pretty early in the morning ~~and~~ The day passed off without rain. Looked around near the cabin during the forenoon [illegible] Wrote a letter to Mother after noon, and then went over on the mountains towards Middle Snake. Found some good looking indications. The [illegible] day on the [illegible] one of [illegible]

July, ~~THURSDAY~~, 20, 1865.

Clear and pleasant most of the day, though it snowed some up on the mountains where I was. Started out early in the morning and didn't return til after six in the evening. Dug down on and staked the Clover Leaf lode in the morning. I then went to the middle fork of Snake River

July, Thursday ~~FRIDAY~~, 21, 1865.

Commenced snowing this morning early & continued until noon. Found one good looking lode # 1 in the forenoon. Did not feel very well [illegible] ~~[illegible]~~ and didn't go out. Wrote a letter to James this morning and met with an opportunity of sending these and the one I wrote the morning before to Mother to the office at Breckenridge by friend Justice

July, Friday ~~SATURDAY~~ 21, 1865.

Arose very early this morning and commenced writing letters as I had an opportunity of sending them to Central. Wrote three before breakfast. Didn't find anything to day in my tour over the mountains. No rain or snow to day

July, SUNDAY, 23, 1865.

Arose about as early as usual. After breakfast I got up our horses and went down to the wagon and bought a bill of provisions. After dinner went out & discovered the best lode in the [illegible] Named it the Domingo. The day passed off with only a small sprinkle of rain.

July, MONDAY, 24, 1865.

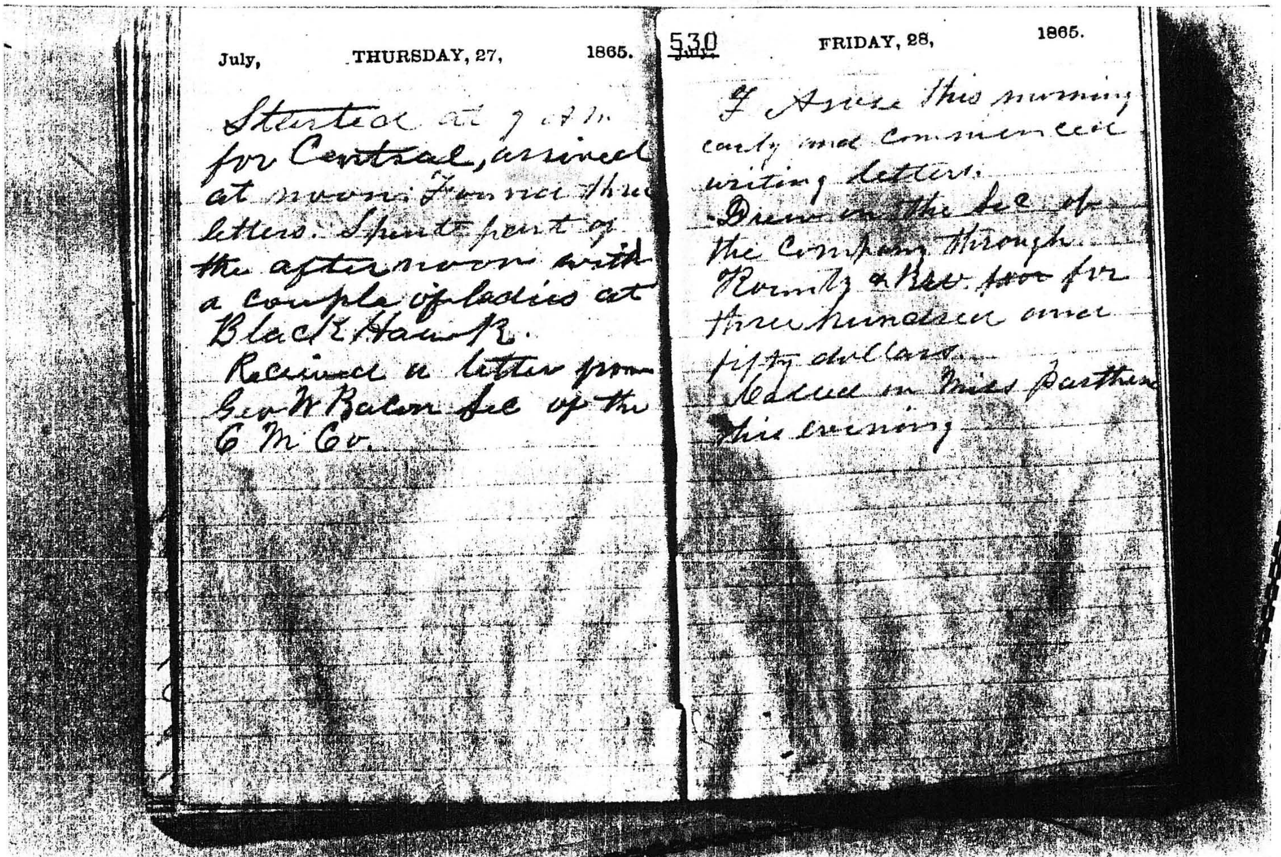
Up bright and early this morning. Breakfast ready at the usual time. Went to work on the El Domingo after breakfast, and continued working until noon. After dinner went up on Collier Mountain and dug a hole six feet deep but found nothing encouraging. Mineral found one lode today. No rain to day.

July, TUESDAY, 25, 1865.

Moved Camp to the Middle Fork of Snake. Encamped with [illegible] Green in an adjoining Cam.

July, WEDNESDAY, 26, 1865.

Started this morning at 6 o'clock for Central. Arrived at Georgetown at 2 P.M. Took dinner and went to Mill City. Spent the afternoon with ~~Mr~~ Mrs Kate. Mr Blackman came in ~~about~~ when I was getting ready to start and prevailed on me to remain until morning.



July, THURSDAY, 27, 1865.

Started at 7 A M for Central, arrived at noon. Found three letters. Spent part of the afternoon with a couple of ladies at Black Hawk.

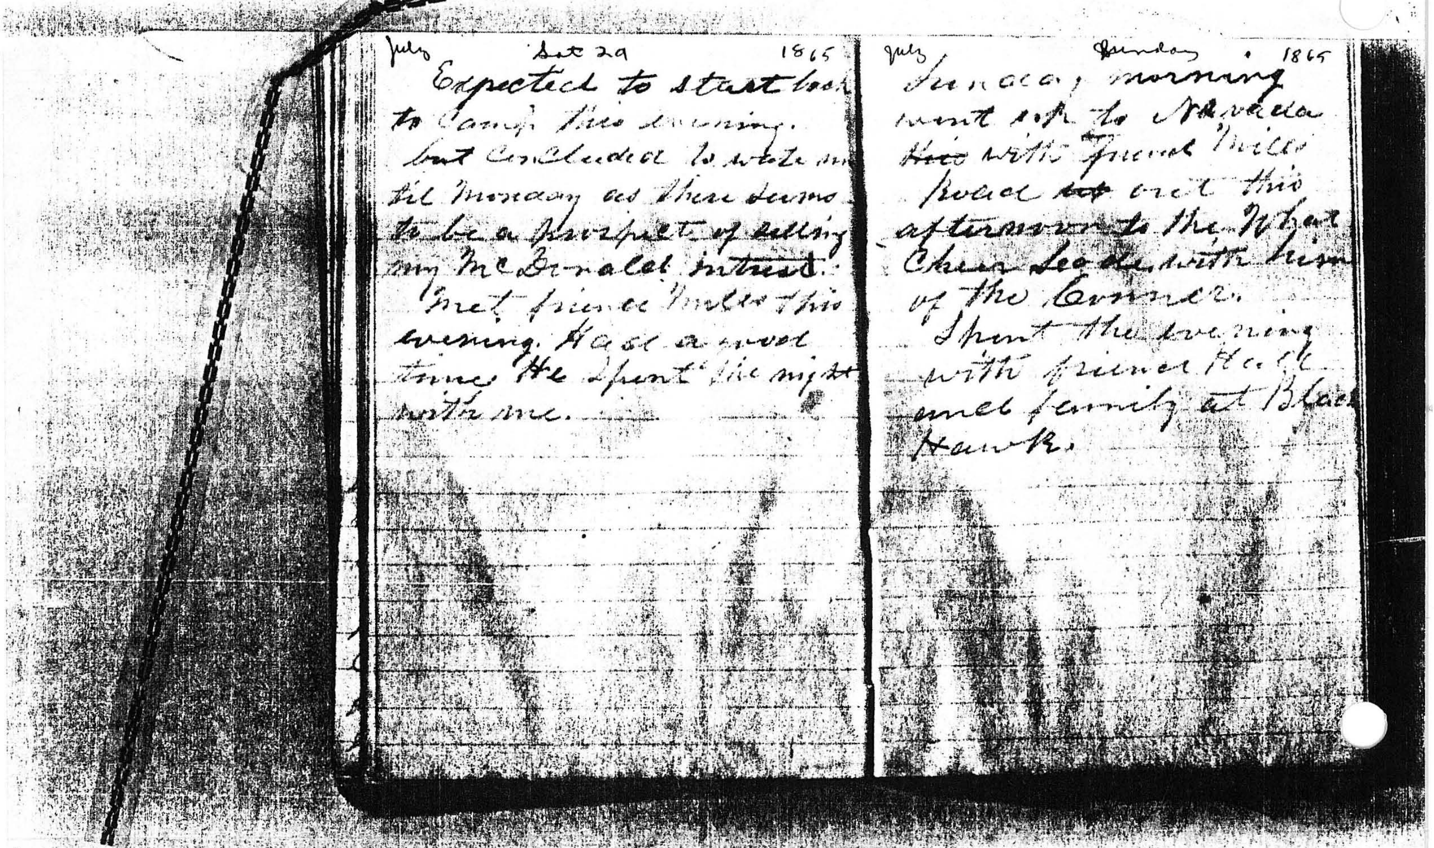
Received a letter from Geo W Baker Sec of the G M Co.

530 ~~July~~ FRIDAY, 28, 1865.

I Arose this morning early and commenced writing letters.

Drew on the Sec of the Company through Kountz & Bro. for for three hundred and fifty dollars.

Called on Miss Parthen this evening



July Sat 29 1865

Expected to start back to Camp this evening. but Concluded to wait un til Monday as there seems to be a prospect of selling my McDonald interest.

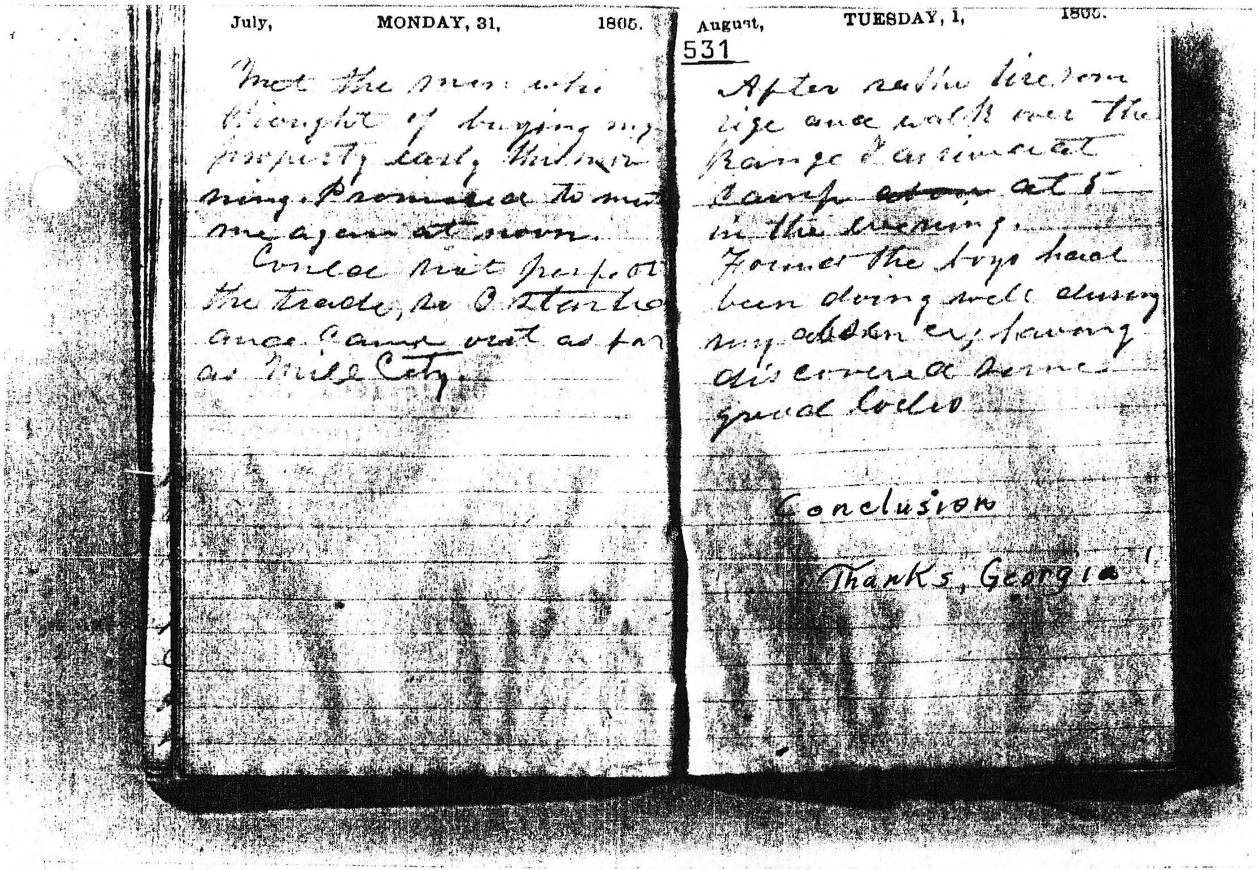
Met friend Miller this evening. Had a good time He spent the night with me.

July Sunday 1865

Sunday morning went up to Nevada ~~Hill~~ with friend Miller.

Rode ~~up~~ out this afternoon to the What Cheer Lode with him of the Owner.

Spent the evening with friend Hall and family at Black Hawk.



July, MONDAY, 31, 1865.

Met the man who thought of buying my property last, this morning. Promised to meet me again at noon.
Could not perfect
the trade, so I started and came out as far as Mill City.

August, TUESDAY, 1, 1865.

531

After rather tiresome ride and walk over the Range I arrived at camp ~~soon~~ at 5
in the evening.
Found the boys had been doing well during my absence, having discovered some good leads

Conclusion

Thanks, Georgia!

LOCKE — Marjorie Patterson, 16281 Sage St., Hesperia, CA. 92345 has John Peter LOCKE and she is very discouraged; having just retired from Knott's Berry Farm she is hoping to find more on her Locke line. Do you have an Ancestor Chart, Marjorie?

LOCKE, HALL BRANDON — John Ferguson, Jr., 102 Cove Road, Williamsburg, VA. 23185 is a new subscriber and hasn't had time to send a chart or query, but if you want to exchange info. with him, get in touch.

LOCK — Martha M. Miller, 9023 Central Av., Brooksville, FL. 34613 is a new subscriber and hasn't sent a Query or Ancestor Chart, but is researching LOCKs in KY, MO, MY. Get in touch with her for/with LOCKs in that area.

LOCKE OLIVER CARTER FOSTER — Nancy H. Hathaway, 5531 Club View Dr., Yorba Linda, CA. 92686 is a new subscriber but has sent charts printed elsewhere in this LFL and help or exchange info.

LOCKE — Lula Belle Thomas, 268 Fig Av., Chula Vista, CA. 91910 is still trying to find her gr-gr-grdf. Wm. Harrison LOCKE and f. of Robt. Weakley LOCK of TN. She has Robert's family record and picture. Can you help or exchange info. with Lula Belle?

LOCKE BRANDON LAUDER — Billie McDonald Goldwire, 819 Elizabeth Dr., Forest Park, GA. 30050-1360 is researching LOCKES and BRANDONS in PA., N.C. and wrote asking where Mary Ann Steinhagen's info. on Matthew LOCK b. in Scot., wife Euphan LAUDER, son of John LOCK, christened in Scot. 10 Jul 1698 came from. Your editor cannot find the scrap of paper that info. was on AND NOTHING GETS THROWN AWAY - just ask Hubby! Have any of you seen that info. in your research?

Mary Jane Steinhagen, 1309 Titania Ln., McLean, VA., 22102 sent the following from Draper Collection of Manuscripts, pub. by State Hist. Society of Wisconsin, 1915; she remarks, " these manuscripts have been put on microfilm & are available in book form in many libraries. Since the manuscripts themselves are so voluminous, one needs the printed indexes to find names/subjects of interest. Reading them you might find other names you are interested in also; there are various forms of Lock plus Brandon, etc." There follows listings on Lock, etc. with Vol. number and names of the particular Vol.: (first p. is p. in Index, second is p. in Volume)

The BIG Heritage of Rowan Co., N.C., pub. 1991 is on the market! It is quite a publication that your editor bought hoping to find much on LOCKS, but other lines she has in that area (though the LOCKS there are not hers). When turning to the listings of family names, there were these momentuous write-ups on John LOCKE (1695-1745); John LOCKE, Jr. (1728-1764); Alexander LOCKE MAGNIFIQUE!

(1757-1824) Guess who had written these histories! One of our newer members - Jeanette Probst Tabb, 5220 Valerie St., Bellaire, TX. 77401. Unless she would like to send me copies of those compilations to print, just tell her who you are researching and offer to pay for copies - MAKING SURE TO SEND A SASE. Jeanette also wrote of Alex. CATHEY (1707-1766).

There are Historical Hwy. markers for Francis LOCKE, Matthew LOCKE, Thyatira Church, founded 1753, and many more.

GREAT STUFF!

No one wrote of the CLARYS nor BRANDONS except in reference to the LOCKES OR CATHEYS. Too Bad! But, they call this Vol. I so there will no doubt be other volumes - BE READY!

Jeanette has lots of dates, perhaps some you don't have if you are doing these lines. Hopefully you can help each other.

Russell D. Earnest wrote a very convincing article about Making Heirlooms a part of our Family History; we wouldn't leave our history to word of mouth, so we certainly shouldn't give our family heirlooms less consideration; MAKE A LIST OR LABEL THEM with the name of the person you want to have them when you are gone.

A year ago I did hear from someone researching MY line of LOCKES - the big reason for my getting into this quarterly - but it wasn't from this Bulletin, it was from an ad in the Gen. Helper. I sent her a copy of Feb. 1991 and haven't heard from her since - a big disappointment! She is related in the same way I am to the writer of the Diary that I printed. A nicer conclusion would have been for him to find a Mother Lode!
